MR. PORCUPINE

NE morning, Bob Rabbit and Tim O Hare were running through the woods, when Bob espled Mr. Porcupine

"There is old Mr. Hedgehog," he said in a whisper to Tim Hare, "Better not let him see you because he can throw one of those sharp darts he carries under his long, coarse hair."

But Mr. Porcupine heard Bob Rabbit, for his ears are very keen and he at once bristled; but before Tim and Bob had time to run he spoke to them and dropped his quills out of sight. "Come here," he called. "I won't never call a Porcupine a Hedgehog again. It just makes me bristle when I hear that name."

"But we thought you were Mr. Hedgehog," said Bob Rabbit, keeping at a distance, in spite of Mr. Porcupine's promise.

"Yes, I know, and so do many others think that is my name," said Mr. Porcupine, "but if you listen I will tell you the difference.

"In the first place we are in no way related, although Mr. H. has quills, but he eats ants and many things which I would scorn.

"Now, Mr. Hedgehog uses his quills to defend himself, but he cannot wound as I can, and look at my tail. Why, you should see me use that when an enemy tries to attack me."

Mr. Porcupine suddenly dropped his head, arched his back and planted his feet firmly with all his quills or spines erect and swung around his club-like tail with many more sees, so swiftly that Tim Hare a. Bob Rabbi.

When they were at some distance from Mr. Porcupine's house they peeped out from behind a tree where they had taken refuge.

"Did you ever see your friend, Mr. Hedgehog, do that?" called Mr. Porcupine, looking very calm again.

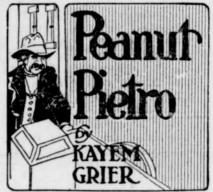

"He is not a friend of ours," answered Bob Rabbit. "I just thought you had two names and that Hedgehog was one of them."

"Well, I have only one name and don't you let me hear you call me by any other," said Mr. Porcupine, walking toward them.

"You will never hear us call you anything," called Bob and Tim as they scampered off through the woods.

"I know why he was so angry," said Tim Hare, when they were safe in their part of the woods. "Mr. Hedgehog is the little fellow that rolls up like a ball when he is scared and Mr. Porcupine thinks he is a coward for not fighting as he does.'

"Well, they both have very sharp quills and I think Mr. Porcupine is very fussy," said Bob Rabbit, "but I will not get near enough to call him anything again. I can tell you that." (Copyright.)

In a department like this it is impossible to tell a woman exactly how she may overcome such blemishes.

Serious troubles can be removed by expert treatment.

Smallpox pits are removed by covering the outer skin with a lotion which dries it up so it may be painlessly removed-it peels off easilyleaving a new, tender, unblemished skin beneath. For a time this skin Is super-sensitive and needs especial care, but such complexions are usually beautiful and a delight to the women who have faced disfigurement otherwise. Birthmarks are cured either by a caustic or the electric needle treatment, the needle atrophying the tiny veins causing the ugly scar, and allowing the normal skin to form. Powder marks are removed by plercing the skin at each mark and injecting peroxide, which cleans out the powder embedded in the cuticle. Tattoo marks are removed by re-tattooing the surface with a solvent.

Scars are usually treated by cutting and allowing the unmarked skin to form again under careful treatments. (Copyright.)
