Novel Use for Ice.
 An engineer has invented the following method for making hollow concrete blocks. Hitherto it has been difficult to make large cavities in concrete, but it can be done, the engineer points out, by embedding blocks of ice in the mass of concrete and introducing small outlets for the escape of the water after melting. This method also makes unnecessary the constant moistening usual in concrete work, as it is automatically supplied by the melting ice.

Tree of the New York Tenements.
 The tree of the New York tenements is the aiantus, palmlike in its youth, brought originally from China for the gardens of the rich. It grows in discouraging surroundings, is defiant of smoke, does not even ask to be planted; for, Topsylike, it "jest grows." Cut it down, and it comes up again. It is said to have no insect enemies. An odd point in its appearance is that every branch points up.—R. and E. Shackleton in Century Magazine.

 Another reason why it would be impracticable for a man to carry a fur muff is because he would soon ruin it by wiping his mouth on it.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

 Shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath it gives rest and comfort, takes the friction from the shoe and prevents blisters and sore spots. Makes walking easy. Accept no substitute. Sold everywhere. 25c.
 Will to Do is Imperative.
 Thoughts of doubt and fear never accomplished anything, and never can. They always lead to failure. Purpose, energy, power to do and all strong thoughts cease when doubt and fear creep in. The will to do springs from the knowledge that we can do.—Allen.
 Felony and Citizenship.
 If a person who has lost his citizenship as a result of conviction for a felony receives a pardon from the governor of the state or the president of the United States, his citizenship may be restored and he is again eligible for office; otherwise he is ineligible.
 Rowing in Top Hats.
 Oarsmen in the early days of the Oxford-Cambridge boat races wore top hats.
 Silly Beliefs.
 There are still some places where people believe a felon on the finger is caused by having pointed the finger at the moon, and that some headaches are caused by having one's hair cut while the moon is crescent.
 Well Expressed.
 A teacher of English in one of our colleges describes a money lender as follows: "He serves you in the present tense, lends in the conditional mood, keeps you in the subjective and ruins you in the future."

 The literature of the ancients, written in mud, had to be backed well before given circulation. Some of the authors probably had to get stewed before they could do their work effectively.—Nashville Banner.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF STATUES?

THE modern scientific investigators of dream phenomena all deny, of course, the prophetic quality of dreams. Except in one regard. They say that perhaps—and they emphasize the "perhaps"—in the dream state some incipient disease or disorder of the system may manifest itself in dream symbolism, which said incipient disease or functional disorder would not be manifest to the dreamer in his waking state because as yet of too trifling a nature to exert an impression upon the mind while occupied by the world of relatives. That there should be found in this way people who still cling to the idea of a supernatural origin of dreams is ascribed by the scientists to the fact that their attempted psychological explanations have, so far, been too inadequate to overcome the accumulated superstitions of the centuries. And when we consider the vast number of years that man has inhabited the earth and that civilization as we know it is but a thing of yesterday—as late as 1746 a cow was criminally prosecuted in a French court and a dog was executed for witchcraft in Salem in 1692—when we consider this, it is not surprising that there linger in our psychic remnants of the days when our naked ancestors shuddered at the jugglery of the Druid priests in the circle of Stonehenge.

To the ancients dreams were serious matters, though as early as the time of Julius Caesar the wise had begun to scoff at them, as will be remembered in connection with the celebrated dream of Caesar's wife Calpurnia. On the night before Caesar's assassination she dreamed that she saw her husband's statue running with blood from many wounds and the Romans coming to bathe their hands in the purple stream. She begged Caesar not to go to the senate that day, but he refused to stay away lest the senators should laugh at him for being afraid "because his wife had had a dream." Calpurnia's dream was probably born of her anxiety for the safety of her husband, but the mystics agree with her in regarding it an unfavorable omen to dream of a statue. They say, however, that if you dream of several statues, you will shortly receive a valuable present from an esteemed friend—a case, apparently, of safety in numbers.

Mother's Cook Book

"Tis well in going through the world to heed one's manners as carefully as one beholds those of others. Civility costs nothing in this world and it buys everything.—Lady Montague.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Young Beets Canned for a Winter Vegetable are most delicious. Choose small, even sized beets, wash and leave the stem of each an inch long to save them from bleeding. Cook until tender in boiling water. Drop into cold water and slip off the skins. Pack in jars, using a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of sugar to each quart, place the rubbers and fill to overflowing with boiling water. Put on the top and screw just enough to lift the jar. Place on a rack, cover with hot water and boil for one hour. Remove, seal and set away for winter use.

Prune Parfait.
 Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one-third of a cupful of sugar, and a pinch of salt, add one cupful of milk and cook until smooth and thick, add a tablespoonful of gelatin, softened in prune liquor, using one-fourth of a cupful, three-fourths of a cupful of prunes cut in pieces, the Juice of half a lemon. Let stand in cold water, then add ice and stir until it begins to thicken, then fold in one-half cupful of whipped cream beaten stiff. When stiff enough to hold its shape, turn into a mold and set away to become firm.

Scrambled Eggs With Cheese.
 Melt one-half pound of rich cheese in one cupful of rich cream, add a dash of cayenne, mix well, then break into the mixture six fresh eggs and cover until the whites are set, then stir vigorously until the yolks are cooked, but not hard. Pour at once on strips of buttered toast or hot buttered crackers. Add salt just before serving to avoid the curdling of the cream.

Corn With Peppers.
 Remove the seeds from three green peppers; boil them in salted water 20 minutes, then drain and chop fine. Boil six ears of corn in the water in which the peppers were cooked. When tender, cut the corn from the cob. Put two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and when hot add the corn and peppers with salt to taste. Stir frequently and serve at once.

Banana With Bacon.
 Fry thin sliced bacon until crisp, drain on paper and place on a hot platter. In the bacon fat cook peeled and sliced bananas; dust with cayenne and serve immediately.
