PUBLIC LIBRARY

Apropos to the boosting spirit of the times there is to be a "Booster Day" for the public library on Satur-day, Oct. 16. At a meeting of the library board last Tuesday night it was decided to begin the season in the real booster spirit. The board and public in general are especially proud of the present condition of the library. At the recent North-western Library Association the report from our library was worthy of note and attracted attention.

Many new volumes have been added, books have been rebound, and the shelves are in an attractive condition and the reading tables are covered with the best periodicals. It is the desire of the board to maintain this excellent standard and the public is eager to join in the boosting, for the library stands for the uplifting of the community.

The young couple were So everybody join in the boosting and when "Library Booster Day" arrives everybody will be glad the idea was proported.

The young couple were married on July 3, and she left him on August 18, just six weeks after the wedding idea was promoted.

"Shore Acres"

With ALICE LAKE. It tells the story of a stern old New England father who forbade his daughter speaking to the man she loved, her elopement with the man, and the father's enraged effort to sink the ship that was carrying them away. For sheer dramatic power, as well as tender sentiment, this picturization of the stage play that ran for nearly thirty years, is unsurpassed.

Monkey Comedy and Outing Chester

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, OCT. 11-12

The appalling depravity of a gang of gamblers in a Western town, that results in the murder of an Eastern capitalist and an effort to saddle the crime on his young son, are elements of exciting interest in this remarkable photoplay of the cattle country. Love, mystery, suspense, surprise-all strongly reprented. How a beautiful young denizen of the country fell in love with the young man and saved him are matters worth following up in the picture itself.
