To Quench Thirst.
An invalid whose mouth becomes dry and parched during the night, or a fever patient, will find that an orange, cut into small pieces and placed within easy reach of the bed so that a piece may be held in the mouth from time to time, will be more beneficial than water, says Good Housekeeping. It has the added advantage that patient can manage the pieces of orange more easily than he could a glass of water.

The Third Heaven.
According to an ancient Jewish opinion there were three heavens: (1) that wherein the birds fly, (2) that wherein the stars move, (3) that where the Highest and His angels live. In II Corinthians St. Paul's reference is to the heaven of heavens, the place of God's ruling over angels and all powers, as distinct from Paradise where the souls of the faithful dead abide, to which best place he was raptured, also, as he says in the same passage.

Beginning of Great Things.
1816, on the 7th of September, the Frontenac, the first steambot on the Great Lakes, was launched at Ernestown, Canada, on Lake Ontario. The Frontenac was built at a cost of $75,000. She was a stern wheeler of 700 tons and 170 feet deck length. For ten years she was in passenger service between Kingston and Niagara.

Kid Raising for Gloves.
Before the war the peasants of many a little village made a living by raising kid to supply the gloves for which France has long been famous. The perfection of the skins is considered by the French manufacturers to be the keynote of the perfect gloves. Their method is to have one workman handle the prepared kid from the time it is brought in until the gloves which are shaped from that kid are entirely finished.

In the Fashion.
A young man purchased his sweetheart a pair of ten-button kid gloves and left them at the house himself. The servant girl took them in and, going to the foot of the stairs, called out: "Please, miss, 'ere's a gentlemen as 'as brought you a pair of leg-gings!"

His Time Would Come.
Herbert was watching Hazel dress her doll. He wanted her to play with him, and remarked that he didn't like dolls. "Well," replied Hazel, philosophically, "you might just as well learn now, for some day you'll marry and then you'll have to help take care of your children."

Bird's Songs on Record.

Ability involves responsibility. Power to its last particle is duty.—Alexander Maclaren.

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE SNOW IS HERE.

THE snow is here. I heard it in the night Upon the roof in marshaled measure tramp. The passing year Has changed the world to white And set the seal of winter on the camp. But yesterday A footpath down the hill Touched hands with other roads that led afar; But now the way is hidden 'neath the chill Of diamonded drifts that glisten like the star.

We are shut in From every distant thing, That other life amid the world of men; From knit and din, Until returning spring Shall find the road and waken us again.

The chore-boy now His frayed finger blows And makes his path from islanded door to door; Like sturdy prov He parts the billowed snows And heards his brands of comfort on the floor.

The fire he piles With piles of pitchy pine Until the flames roar upward in a gale; And we arise To breathe the wintry wine, To plunge abroad and icy tasks assail. So breaks the day; So comes the arctic dawn In this our world when snow is here;

The months shall follow On till softer skies shall mark another year. The horses stamp In clouds of steamy smoke, The teamster's voice of mastery await; Their bits they champ And shake their leather yoke—And life breaks forth where life is isolate. New from the wood, To timber on the hill, Comes stroke of ax and sawyer's steady swing; The tree that stood Beside the frozen rill In powdered snow to earth comes thundering.

Thus passes day With shout and merry call, With echoed blow and cresset's swishy sweep, Until the gray Of eve envelops all And drives us back to shelter and to sleep.

Though this our life, A rugged life and plain, Of sudden danger and of slow reward, The wind a knife, A scintill of pain, With death to fight and frosty stream to ford; Though chill the way, Laborious the toil, Though rough the fare, the habitation rude;

Though skies be gray, Though stubborn be the soil, And even day a night of solitude— We fondly know, We know, in other years When we shall look again on sunny seas, This land of snow Shall rise from out our tears And dearest seem of all our memories. (Copyright.)

THE GIRL ON THE JOB
How to Succeed—How to Get Ahead—How to Make Good
By JESSIE ROBERTS
LIMITATIONS

THE reason why many women fail to make a success of their work is because they are not careful in studying their own limitations. We all know that there are thousands of people who think they can write or paint or act or become motion picture stars, and who waste years of effort in thus attempting the impossible, ending in disappointment and poverty where half the amount of effort given to something they could do would have brought them at least a fair living. But there are other limitations besides those of lack of artistic talent. There are bodily limitations that need to be recognized. There is no more use in attempting work for which you are not physically capable than that for which you are mentally or temperamentally unfit. Many people can do excellent work if they are not obliged to superintend or arrange the work of others. For a woman of this type to try to run a business of her own that necessitates employing and managing a force of assistants is mere foolishness. However well she understands the job, she will not make a success of it if she cannot direct other persons. Because a woman can trim a hat smartly is no sign that she can run a successful hat shop, whether the money to start is available or not. The old adage that it pays to know yourself is nowhere more necessary than in business life. Live and learn is all very well, but you want to do considerable learning before you attempt to start making a living, especially if you mean to start in for yourself. Some of us are congenitally unable to spell correctly. If that is your trouble, don't try to be a stenographer. You will drive your future employers frantic and never be able to hold a position long enough to be sure at which floor to get off. Study your limitations. Everyone has them, but the successful are those who know them and act accordingly. (Copyright.)

Militant Honesty.
"Have you lost faith in baseball players?" "Certainly not," replied the genial old gentleman. "A crowd of youngsters persuaded me to umpire a game the other day on a vacant lot and their sincerity was so great I was lucky to escape with my life."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Cuticura Soap shaves without nogg. Everywhere.

Violin Superstitions.
There is no musical instrument about which cling so many queer notions and superstitions as the violin. One of the strangest is that held by so many people that the tone of a violin is often improved by its being broken and then mended. It seems almost incredible, but that very idea is believed by thousands of people.

It takes Congress to settle a strike, but an unruly stomach is subdued by Garfield Tea.—Adv.

Oldtime Sleeping Couches.
The ancients slept on skins, but later beds were made of rushes, heather and straw. The Romans were the first to use feathers to make their beds more comfortable. Heliogabalus, 218 B. C., is credited with having employed air cushions, and air beds were used generally in the sixteenth century.

Constipation can be cured without drugs. Nature's own remedy—selected herbs—is Garfield Tea.—Adv.

Meteors.
A meteor is a sudden luminous phenomenon, as of a star or bright body in rapid motion through the air, produced by a small mass of matter perhaps from the celestial spaces striking the air with planetary velocity, and suffering heating, dissipation, or combustion. Before encountering the earth they travel in their own orbits.

Garfield Tea, taken regularly, will correct both liver and kidney disorders.—Adv.

How Man Spends His Time.
A French statistician has been dabbling with figures to find out just what man does with that precious thing called time. He concludes that at the age of 50 years the average man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating, and was ill 500 days.

Cuticura for Pimply Faces.
To remove pimples and blackheads smear them with Cuticura Ointment. Wash off in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Once clear keep your skin clear by using them for daily toilet purposes. Don't fail to include Cuticura Talcum.—Adv.

400 Sorts of Silk Worms.
There are more than four hundred different cocoons, and although the great majority of these are valueless from a commercial point of view, there are five kinds which are domesticated and several others which, though wild, have their cocoons collected for the sake of their silk.

Out of the Rut.
The fiddlers three had just responded to old King Cole's hurly call. "Too many strings in the band, boys," said his majesty, "and you've got exactly one week from now to show me some real jazzbo stuff as torn off by a muted cornet, a saxophone and a set of drums with all the trimmings. And if you don't make good, gadzooks and obsodikkins, you'd do well to settle your worldly affairs. Get me?"—Buffalo Express.

Buddhist's Wandering Leader.
Dalia Lama, the religious head of the Buddhist faith, was so overcome by the fact that infidels had trodden the streets of the forbidden city that he fled to the open country, and for many years has been a wanderer in northern China.

Costly Smile for Someone.
Among types of humor is the humor of the types. Example: The "expensive smile" of a certain "wizard of finance" got printed "expensive smile" in a local contemporary—rather a happy chance hit.

Chuckles in Court.
In a Rhymey valley police court it turned out that a defendant shot a pigeon, the property of a Mr. Fowler, and evidence was given by Mr. Bird.

London's Fine Public Buildings.
The most expensive of all London's public buildings are the law courts, covering seven acres. They cost more than $12,000,000.
