MISS JOY TURNER'S PUPILS IN RECITAL

(Crowded out last week)
Miss Joy Turner, assisted by a group of her Salem piano and violin students, and Mrs. Carlton Smith as vocalist, presented her Monmouth and Independence pupils in a recital in the chapel of the Monmouth Normal school on the evening of June 8. The chapel was beautifully decorated with art baskets of choice roses, and well filled with an appreciative audience.

The Salem students appeared in duets and ensemble numbers, and the Monmouth and Independence students appeared individually and collectively, all pieces played from memory with expression and splendid technique. Miss Turner's pupils reflect credit to herself as an instructor of both piano and violin, and her violin ensemble, consisting of 40 pupils, is the only one of its kind playing from memory, as well as the largest heard in the Willamette valley. Mrs. Carlton Smith was enthusiastically received and gracefully responded with "Spring Will Return With You." Independence pupils appearing in the violin ensemble were Margaret Eddy, Carol Smith and Cleo Seely. Salem Statesman.

Is "Something Doing" in Berlin?

This photograph, snapped the other day in Berlin, shows General von Hindenburg in conference with Hugo Stinnes, Germany's richest man, and Frau Stinnes. Most of the country's largest industrial enterprises and many of its newspapers are controlled by Stinnes.

RESTING PLACES FOR BIRDS

Agricultural Department Points Out Necessity for the Preservation of Marsh Areas.

If migratory birds are to be increased or their present numbers maintained, it is necessary to conserve water and marsh areas, say specialists of the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. Small lakes, swamps along coasts or inland or marsh areas are used by these water fowl for feeding, resting and rearing their young, and it is absolutely essential that during their migration and in winter the birds have these necessary places in which to live.

Reports received by the biological survey during the last few months from all parts of the country agree that the former alarming decrease in migratory wild fowl, which preceded the treaty and the act of congress for the protection of migratory birds, has changed to a marked increase. This successful outcome of a great conservation measure has become apparent even more promptly than was anticipated. Thus the first important step toward insuring the perpetuation of wild fowl—without question a great national asset—has been achieved. Another step of almost equally vital importance, the specialists say, consists in the conservation of lakes and marsh areas.

Why Scowl Your Way Through Life?

Why not go "Smilin' Through." Scowls, nervousness, irritation, headaches, "blues"—these are all very, VERY often the indirect outcome of an UNKNOWN visual defect. See our optical specialist to KNOW that your eyes are at their top notch efficiency—stop "guessing."
