SHORT STORIES OF TOWN AND COUNTRY

Ask Mr. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kreamer visited Salem friends Tuesday.

Miss Emma Henkle is here from Portland visiting at the W. H. Walker home.

Get a Victrola at H. L. Stiff's, Salem. All the family will enjoy the music.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McIntosh passed last week end in Corvallis with the Harry Pattersons.

Word Butler and wife, Robert Smith and wife of Corvallis motored to Pacific City last week. The party enjoyed salmon fishing. They brought home enough fish to supply the two families with canned salmon.

The M. C. Williams and C. W. Henkles will leave Sunday for an extended motor trip through British Columbia. They expect to motor leisurely and enjoy the beauties of the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Frazer of Portland were guests of the O. A. Kreamers last Sunday.

Shreeves & Son's Garage of Dallas makes an announcement in this paper. Ernest Tice, head salesman for the company, is a former Independence boy and has many friends here who watch with interest his success since he has joined forces with Sareeves & Son.

Phone the news to 7022.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher were in Salem Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Cook and family were here from Halsey Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeArmond and Mr. and Mrs. Word Butler were Salem visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Kenneth Honeyman (Vivian Whiteaker) was here from Portland visiting relatives and friends.

The Consumers' Trading House of Salem continues to give cash and free merchandise. Read their ad.

The San Francisco party, consisting of George Anderson and wife, and J. E. Foley and wife, who in company with Mr. and John Bohannon made a trip over the Columbia Highway and to Astoria, returned Thursday to visit further with Mrs. A. L. Spurr and the Bohannons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Davidson will leave tomorrow (Saturday) morning for Bar View where they will spend a while at their summer home.

J. R. Chapman of the Twin Oaks farm in Polk county, has just received a request for a box of cherries from Gen. Hunter Liggett, at present in San Francisco. Mr. Chapman and the general were classmates at West Point, being graduates of the class of 1880.—Capital Journal.

E. F. Black was down town yesterday greeting his friends. Mr. Black is just recovering from a siege of sciatic rheumatism which kept him in for about a month.

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Girard will leave Wednesday for Tacoma. Mrs. Hays will visit with her son, Roy McFadden. Mrs. Girard will pass the time with Mrs. A. Whitney. Before returning the ladies will visit in Seattle and British Columbia.

Barry Kennedy has returned from a two weeks' visit in Roseburg.

Reminders

The Independence Realty Co. will move you out of a rented house into a house of your own. Ask Mr. Foster.

O. A. Kreamer will doll up the men in proper "togs" for the Fourth.

Buy your sandwich meats for your Fourth picnic at the City Meat Market.

A. L. Kullander is making the last call to the friends of the late June brides to select their gifts from him.

Think O'Donnell if it's vulcanizing.

It's enough to cook your food. Don't cook yourself. Buy a Clark Jewel Oil Stove from Willard E. Craven Hardware.

McIntosh has all the good eats for your vacation meals.

Why not get your Ford in time to "Ford" around the Fourth? A new shipment at the Stewart Motor Co.

You may enjoy the Fourth but you'll also enjoy knowing your hop sprayers will work right when you start to kill the bugs. Halladay & Justin will take care of them.

Let your dollar do its duty. Bring it to us. C Street Meat Market.

Salem, its community, the adjoining towns and their vicinities are all ready for Bargain Day today. This is the fifth annual event of the kind for the Capital City and each year the crowds attending become larger and larger. Today Bargain Day is under the auspices of the Business Men's League and the organization believes the crowd today will be a record breaker. The League is not only boosting for a crowd, but a committee is also looking well to the fact that "all bargains offered must be of the bona fide nature. Any store transgressing this rule will not be allowed to operate on future Bargain Days". Salem merchants who thru The Post are inviting their Independence friends and those in the adjacent territory to come and join in the pleasure and profit of today and tomorrow are:

Salem Woolen Mills Store, C. P. Bishop, "The home of Oregon made wools."

Buster Brown Shoe Store, "No fictitious quotations, a wonderful sale".

J. L. Busick & Sons, "Vim flour distributors".

The Bow Optical Co., "Lenses ground on the premises".

The Bootery, "Shoes at less for cash".

Hartman Bros.

C. S. Hamilton, "Quality not quantity".

Oregon Theater, "Good music makes good pictures better".

A. D. Thomson's Remnant Store.

Valiton's, "Home of exclusive styles and Queen Quality shoes."

Morris Optical Co., "A square deal always".

Collegian's Expenses in 1839 Appear Unreal in These Days of Universal High Prices.

College days when more affluent students paid as high as $2 a week for board while others got a $1.25 rate are described in letters received at Williams college, Williamstown, Mass., from its senior alumnus, Rev. Edward Lord, who has rounded out a full century of life.

Writing from Clifton Springs, N. Y., by his own hand, Reverend Mr. Lord says that when he entered Williams, in 1839, tuition was $9 a term, and, with room rent, fuel and washing, the total yearly college expense of a student ranged from $98 to $130. The faculty at that time consisted of only eight persons. Mark Hopkins was president, "not a cold, dignified man, but easily approached and always ready to assist and encourage students."

When he left his home in Danby, N. Y., near Ithaca, for college the young subfreshman rode across country by stage to Utica, a distance of 100 miles. "It was a wonderful sight to see the stage drawn by four horses," he writes. "It was to me a greater wonder than the airplanes that now sweep across the sky. From Utica I found the railroad just completed to Albany. From Albany it was only by stage that I could reach Williamstown. About that time Morse was spending a hundred nights inventing the telegraph."

FURNACE AS ICEBOX.

The man who has still a private stock was frankly glad that a fire is no longer needed in the furnace, for it now serves as an icebox for the precious bottles.

"During the winter," he said, "I could have a good part of the icebox in the kitchen because the wife used to keep things outside. But lately I haven't had any place at all. The furnace is an ideal place, the cellar being cold, anyway. It is big enough, too. And none of my friends will be able to discover the stock."
