Blanche Harmon gave a picnic dinner Sunday to 14 of her friends on the banks of the beautiful Luckiamute. Mrs. Harmon served dinner, assisted by Mrs. N. C. Anderson. The afternoon was spent in swimming and boat riding. In the evening they held a weinie roast. All departed for their homes after extending thanks to Miss Blanche for the delightful time.

SHORT AND SNAPPY

Be up and doing; but mind who you do.

Good intentions should be covered with asbestos.

A woman who is not dangerous isn't worthy to be a woman at all.

Never hesitate to tell a woman that you love her. It increases her self-respect.

The man who courts trouble is lucky to get off with merely a breach-of-promise action.

There isn't much difference between sight and vision except when you make the mistake of calling a woman one when you mean the other.

It is abstinence, more than absence, that make the heart grow fonder.

When a woman needs sympathy, cry with her. When a man needs it, swear with him.

Half the world don't know how their better halves live, and if they are wise they won't try to find out.

A love affair is always more interesting than a marriage, for the same reason that romance is fuller of possibilities than a biography.

A drop of printer's ink will make a million think.

ODD "CURES" FOR SICKNESS

Bed of Old Cinders Believed Efficacious in Greece—Preposterous Remedy for the Colic.

When a Greek baby is sick and all other remedies fail, a bed of cold cinders is very generally used as a last resort. The cradle is filled with old ashes and the infant is buried in them. The American nurses have never been able to discover what the benefit to be derived from this curious custom was supposed to be.

The cure for colic is even more curious. When the baby has a severe colic the ponds in the environs of the house are diligently searched by members of the family and all the frogs are captured. These are placed alive on the child's abdomen. It is a very tiresome treatment, as someone must sit and keep the frogs from hopping off the patient. No thought is given to the terror these jumping frogs may have for the child.

Among the gypsies that wander over the Balkans the work of the Red Cross nurses is more difficult. It will take years of preparation and education to enable them merely to begin to understand the idea of child welfare.

One of the most valuable assets our nation has is its native birds. Too much cannot be said or written in their favor. Destroy them and in a few years the injurious insects will have multiplied to such an extent that trees will be denuded of their foliage, plants and crops cannot be produced.

There are more than 1,200 species of our native birds, and millions of individuals. As a result of the examination of more than 50,000 stomachs of birds, they established beyond a reasonable doubt that birds are of economic value, first in eating harmful insects, their eggs and larvae. Second, in eating the seeds of noxious weeds. Third, in devouring field mice and other small rodents that injure the crops, and fourth, in acting as scavengers. While the economic value of birds should be kept in mind the esthetic value should also be considered. Man does not live by bread alone. We should protect them for their graceful forms, their charming beauty, their delightful melody and their joyous activity.—Thrift Magazine.

"SICK WITH LOVE"

Father was giving the fair young daughter a lecture about her beau. He exclaimed, "Does he know who pays the light bills? Doesn't he know enough to go home at the right time?"

The daughter, replied, "Yes, he knows enough to go, but he was sick last night."

With that, father started it again. "Don't tell me that a big, husky fellow like him was sick. What on earth was the matter with him?"

As the fair young daughter started for the door, she sang back, "He has heart trouble."—Indianapolis News.

Asks World to Honor St. Francis.
London.—Pope Benedict has made public an encyclical letter inviting the Christian world to solemnize in 1923 the seventh centenary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi, founder of the order of Franciscans, says a Central News dispatch from Rome.

A Boom Soon Punctured.
Washington Courthouse, O.—This city and farmers in the neighborhood of Point creek had the "thrill of oil" when it was reported all over the surface of the creek. It was learned later that it was part of 8,000 gallons which had escaped from a wrecked railroad car.

ON LIFE'S PILGRIMAGE

A sign has been discovered in an old tailor shop in Pompeii reading: "Cresses ironed in your togas while you wait."

If you want to rise in your business you must be willing to do your share, and sometimes a little more than your share, of work, and do it well.

Some of us succeed, some of us fail by the wayside, but as a rule the one who tries hard comes out well to the fore.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY

One who knows only a few big words is in danger of using them too often.

Feel your smile first and then you can put it over without its looking artificial.

Hosts of men don't ardently desire to "make money"; they only seek to "get through the day."

A flat object falls more slowly than a round one of the same weight, because it has a bigger surface for the air to act on as a buffer.
