CHEAP NESTS FOR CHICKENS
 Take an Orange Box, Removing Top and Fasten to Wall—Keep Straw Fresh and Clean.
 An orange box makes a good nest. Remove the top, put the box on its side, and nail a strip about three inches wide along the bottom in front. It is preferable to fasten this box to the wall, as it takes too much room on the floor. Each box, the middle piece being left intact, makes two nests. There ought to be one nest for every four or five hens, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Straw or other material used for nests should be kept clean and fresh. Be sure to keep enough straw in the box to prevent eggs striking the floor. If an egg breaks, the hen may learn to eat it and this is a difficult habit to break.

FARMING FOR LIVING URGED
 If More Farmers Would Produce What They Need for Home Use Markets Would Be Better.
 More farming for a living should be done and there will be less risk of poor markets. If most farmers would produce what they could for home use the markets would be required to take less and as a result there would be less strain on them. The way to have markets is to save and conserve what you have. Use your markets only when it is necessary to sell the surplus you cannot eat or feed.

PAINTS INJURE WOOD SILOS
 Use of Preservatives for Coating Not as Much in Favor as Formerly—They Do No Good.
 When wood silos were first being introduced great pains were taken in coating them with tar paint, or something of that sort to preserve the wood, but this practically has gone out of use. Experiments show that these paints do but little good, and again, they are somewhat injurious to the silage, says the Michigan Farmer. Without paint a wood silo will last a great many years.

NAMED THE AUTOMOBILE.
 The word "automobile" is an excellent illustration of the way language grows to meet the progress of invention. It is word of mixed parentage (the Greek prefix "auto"—self, and the French "mobile"—movable, changeable, uncertain).
 As the French invented the object, they felt that it was up to them to invent its name. So they invented it and handed it over to American dictionary writers, who promptly adopted it. But the American people, greatly given to short cuts, have whittled the word down to its simplest form, "auto"—a curtailment severely frowned upon in the highest circles of language.

STRIVING TO PLEASE.
 "Did you go to the great prize fight?"
 "No," replied Senator Sorghum.
 "The people have learned to expect too much from a man who is running for office. I've told funny stories, sang songs and joined in the merry dances of the villagers. If I showed any taste for pugilism I'm afraid they'd want me to put on the boxing gloves."

Raleigh's Gift to the Queen

Sir Walter Raleigh, returning from the Spanish Main in 1597, entertained Queen Elizabeth aboard his ship. The Queen exclaimed upon the rich beauty of the wood with which the ship's deck had been repaired. Sir Walter explained that it was "mahogani."

After the Queen had retired, he caused the ship's carpenter to tear out the timbers and from them construct a table which he presented to the delighted queen. This was the first piece of furniture made of mahogany—a gift to a queen!

Ushered into the world of fashion by queenly preference, mahogany has ever since been the royal wood and, while we know the world resources much better than did Queen Elizabeth, it is a fact that "mahogani" is still the royal wood. For furniture and for interior decoration, nothing equals it in beauty, longevity and in increasing value.

The impression that mahogany is difficult to obtain is not borne out by fact. Genuine mahogany is shipped from the central American states, Mexico, Cuba and Africa. American importers bring millions of feet into this country every year. Mahogany is plentiful and, for that reason, it is possible to buy furniture of mahogany at no greater cost than must be paid for less durable and less beautiful woods. We carry a fine assortment of period furniture in mahogany. After all—there is nothing like mahogany.
