Eyes Right?
 Unless they are it is impossible for you to enjoy life as you should. The eye, perhaps the most delicate part of the physical anatomy, is also vital to continued health and strength. Other physical ailments are often direct results of weak or strained eyes.
 An examination will enable you to KNOW whether or not your "eyes are right."

MAY BAR FOREIGN CLOTHES
 Turkish Assembly Considering Strenuous Measures for Encouragement of Home Factories.

A bill compelling members of parliament, civil servants, teachers and town councillors to wear only clothing manufactured in Turkey is being hotly debated by the Turkish national assembly at Angora, according to the London Mail's Constantinople correspondent.
 One provision is that every person now possessing a shirt, necktie or any other articles of clothing manufactured abroad shall register each article, in which case he will be allowed to wear it out.
 During the debate one deputy, who urged that the bill should become law, so as to get rid of fashion's tyranny, was heckled with the question, "Why wear ties?"
 Immediately he took off and tore up his tie, whereupon the assembly cheered him and cried, "Long live native manufacturers!"
 Despite Turkey's quite rudimentary factories, parliament is tending to pass the bill.

STUDYING ESKIMO RACE.
 Eskimo skeletons to the number of 30 have arrived in Halifax from the Far North for examination and measurement on behalf of the Canadian government by Dr. John Cameron, professor of anatomy at Dalhousie university. The skeletons have been brought from the land of snows by the Canadian arctic exploration party which has spent five years in Canada's frigid zone study.

SWORD OF THE GENDARME.
 It is likely that the useless sword of the French gendarme will be dispensed with, as it is generally regarded as more of an encumbrance than anything else. A large number of these officials have petitioned to be relieved of this weapon, which is not necessary, as they all are supplied with modern pistols which are effective weapons.

VERBAL WARFARE.
 "Words are your weapons," said the admiring friend.
 "If you say it that way," rejoined Senator Sorghum, "I may feel called upon to modify my demand for a limitation of armament."

NO DANGER.
 "Feeling is bitter in this lawsuit. If we leave our clients in the ante-room they may rush at each other."
 "No, they won't. They know there is nobody to hold them apart."

Baby Accorded Privilege.
 Captain Vidal, of the steamship Canada, which docked at Providence, R. I., wired his superiors in Marseilles that a baby boy who was born aboard the vessel during the passage from France had been named in honor of the steamer, Auguste Canada Para Lazar. The officials extended to the little fellow the lifelong privileges of the boat, so whenever Canada wishes to visit France he may do so as a guest of the Canada or any other boat of the line.

WORLD HEARS NEWS QUICKLY
 But One Hundred Years Ago the Horse Was the Only Means of "Rapid" Communication.

A few hours after Caruso died the civilized world knew of it and was mourning. A hundred years ago Napoleon died, on May 5, 1821—and it was exactly sixty days before the world received the news, the New York Evening Post states.
 Though the English were expecting his death at any moment and had made every preparation to have word transmitted from St. Helena to England with all possible dispatch, it was not until July 4, that the news reached London, having been brought there by the sailing vessel Heron. In accordance with the spirit of the times, the message was not given out on the arrival of the vessel, but was first conveyed to the colonial office, an act which required approximately two hours in itself.

July 4, 1821, fell on Wednesday. On Friday, July 6, the news reached Paris. Messengers were dispatched from Paris to Germany, where the newspapers commented on the death of "General Bonaparte" for the first time on July 12, sixty-eight days after the event had taken place. And this notice was in a paper published at Mayence, then virtually a French town.
 The Vossische Zeitung, founded in 1794 and then, as now, the leading German daily, contained no notice of Napoleon's death until July 14, and then it merely copied the London Times. Private individuals living in the provinces, regardless of their station in life, received the news much later. It was not conveyed to Goethe, then living at Weimar, until the very last of July. He received it in a letter bearing a black seal.

NEW WAY OF MAKING MONEY
 Inventive Berlin Trickster Makes Big Profits in Dealings With "Post Office Pens."

One way of making money: Penholders are no longer to be found on post office tables in Berlin, but may be obtained from a window-framed official, on the deposit of a mark. One enterprising German buys himself a number of penholders at 50 pfennig apiece and sets to work writing at the desk of some busy branch post office, the Kansas City Times states. When he shows symptoms of being through with his pen some eager person is sure to ask him whether he will pass it on. "Yes," is the answer, "just give me the mark which I laid out for you."

COVER OR BLANKET FOR COW
 Good Way to Keep Flies From Bothering White Milking—Obviates Tail Switching.

To keep flies from bothering white milking, make a cover or blanket for the cow from a large gunny sack, ripped open, and provided with strings for fastening under forelegs, and string across back to hold in place over the ramp. If both the cow being milked and the one behind the milker are so protected there will be very little tail switching.
 The fig seems to have originated around the Mediterranean, particularly in Syria, Palestine.
 White Russia in the west, Ukraine in the south, Don, Taurida, Kuban, Terek and Georgia in the southeast have declared themselves free soviet republics.
