Pearl Alexander, Gale Alexander, Ike Compton and Henry McElmurry broke off from labor long enough to go out on a fishing trip this week. They have gone to the Yachats and will have stories to tell during the long winter months coming that will rival Conkeys fishing tales at the coast.

SOME STATE NEWS ITEMS WORTH KNOWING

Clatsop county's first juvenile industrial fair was launched at Astoria Friday.

The Medford opera-house, an old landmark, burned to the ground Friday.

There have been just 14 deaths from tuberculosis so far this year in Lane county.

Eight hundred delegates are expected at the National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which begins in Portland Saturday morning.

DeWitt Perry of Forest Grove and Neal McFarland of Portland met death in the sub-station of the Oregon Electric railway at Hillsboro, when 60,000 volts passed through their bodies.

Silas Rich, ex-paying teller of the United States National Bank of Salem, was arrested by a United States marshal in that city, charged with embezzling $2400 from the Salem bank.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Baptist state convention is being held at Oregon City. The convention is a meeting representing the Baptist denomination throughout the state.

The wool rate case, wherein the National Woolgrowers' association and the Oregon Woolgrowers' association are plaintiffs against 25 railroads in Oregon, has been postponed by the state railroad commission, before which the hearing was to have commenced Monday.

According to a request often made in his lifetime, the ashes of Jeremiah R. Ream, for many years a prominent business man of Albany and Eugene, were cast upon the waves of the Pacific ocean, his widow making a trip to Newport for that purpose.

With information from every county in the state as to salaries of all county officials and expense of their offices, Governor West is preparing a measure to equalize all salaries of county officials according to assessed valuation, area and population of each county.

The extension division of the Oregon Agricultural college reports an unusual demand this season for members of the college faculty and experiment station staff to judge exhibits and render other expert service at the county and grange fairs throughout the state.

The population of Portland in 1910, according to the bulletin of the census bureau, was made up of 118,948 males and 88,346 females, being a ratio of 134.5 males to each 100 females. Ten years previous, the ratio was 143.4 to each 100 females. In all Oregon in census year there were 384,265 males and 288,609 females or 133.2 males to each 100 females. In 1900 there were 129 males to each 100 females in Oregon.

A third edition of the Portland Chamber of Commerce circular, "Public Lands in Oregon," issued in cooperation with the passenger department of the O.W. R. & N. company, has just been issued. The demand for this publication was so great that the original edition did not satisfy. The booklet contains an ample description of all the public lands in the state now available for entry under either the state or federal laws.

COLONEL DENIES HE SOLICITED FUNDS

Washington.—Theodore Roosevelt occupied the witness chair three and a half hours before the senate investigating committee, defending his administration, himself and his cabinets against what he termed "infamous charges" and "hearsay evidence."

He appeared before the committee to answer statements made in August by John D. Archbold that the Standard Oil company had given $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1904 under the impression that President Roosevelt knew of and approved acceptance of the contribution. Not only did Colonel Roosevelt deny this, but he put into the records a sweeping denial that he had ever solicited funds from anyone while president; that any money had been received by the 1904 campaign committee with an express or implied promise of favors from the administration; that excessive funds had been used in his 1904 campaign or in the 1908 campaign, or that money ever had been improperly used in his behalf, so far as he knew.

J. P. Morgan testified that he had contributed $180,000 to the last two presidential campaigns. Testimony was also brought out that in the campaign of 1904 John P. Archbold, H. C. Frick and George J. Gould had each given $100,000.

Miss Alice Holmes, 21 years old, was killed, and three persons injured when the automobile in which they were riding plunged over an embankment on the Linnton road, 10 miles north of Portland.

$200,000 STOLEN FROM MAIL

Money Sent From Cuba to New York Bank Disappears.

New York.—Postoffice inspectors of two countries, secret service men and the W. J. Burns detective agency are investigating the mysterious disappearance of a registered mail package containing $200,000, consigned from Havana to the National Park Bank of this city.

The loss was discovered when a registered mail pouch from Havana was opened in the New York post-office.

Havana.—The missing $200,000 from the National Bank of Cuba which was mailed to the Park National Bank in New York, was stolen here, as one of the listed $10,000 bills has been found.

It now seems certain that the money was stolen either at the National Bank of Cuba, or in the Havana post-office.

California Women in Convention.

Los Angeles.—California suffragists, carrying out their idea of thorough political education, held the first political convention ever held by women in this country in San Luis Obispo. The convention, which was a Democratic affair, was called to order by Miss Mary Foy, of Los Angeles, and continued for two days.

Bragg Wins Big Auto Race.

Wauwatosa, Wis.—Caleb Bragg, a wealthy young Cincinnati driver, won the fourth international grand prix automobile road race with a Fiat car after a sensational last lap brush, in which Ralph De Palma's Mercedes car was overturned and De Palma was seriously injured.

Hookworm Case Found in Medford.

Medford.—The first discovery of oriental hookworm in Oregon was made here. A former resident of Manila has been found suffering from its ravages. The oriental hookworm is larger, more vigorous and characterized by greater ravages than those of the American species.

Condon Fair October 15.

Condon.—Preparations are being made here for the crowds that will attend the first eastern Oregon Tri-County Fair, organized for the purpose of bringing about better farming conditions in Gilliam, Sherman and Morrow counties. It will be held October 15, 16 and 17, and will be the greatest representative gathering ever held in the three counties.

Italy to Pay Indemnity. Lausanne, Switzerland.—The Turco-Italian peace treaty awaiting ratification provides for Turkish recognition of Italian sovereignty in Tripoli, according to the Lausanne Gazette. The Italian government it is said, is to pay an indemnity to Turkey and is also to recognize the religious authority of the Khalif over the Mussulmans of Tripoli.
