THE SWINEHERD.
A rooting hog needs something besides a ring in his nose. He needs something in his feed which he does not get or he would not root. It is up to you to supply this.

By actual experiment it has been found that by feeding alfalfa hay with corn the cost of fattening pigs has been decreased about one-half.

It is nearly always best to save some of the old sows, especially 2 to farrow the early spring litters.

When pure bred swine are kept for breeding purposes they should be given every opportunity for bone and muscle development rather than the production of fat.

Unless wisely fed and cared for a herd of fine hogs will degenerate rapidly.
