WILSON-SAYRE WEDDING SOCIAL EVENT

Marriage Ceremony Performed in Historic East Room of White House.

Washington.—Occupying first place in the important events of the week at the nation's capital was the wedding Tuesday afternoon of Miss Jessie Wilson, second daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson. The ceremony was performed in the historic East room of the white house, on the very spot where Miss Nellie Grant married Algernon C. F. Sartorios on May 21, 1873, and where later Miss Alice Roosevelt was joined in wedlock to Nicholas Longworth.

An altar had been erected before the broad window at the east side of the room, as was done for the Roosevelt wedding. Before the altar was a broad dais, on which the bridal party stood.

Miss Wilson, attended by her maids, entered the East room through the main doorway, from the inner apartment, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Sayre, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, of the Labrador mission, the best man, and the Rev. Sylvester W. Beach awaited her at the altar. To one side were the diplomatic corps. Opposite them were the guests of the senate and the house and in another group the personal friends of the Wilson family and the representatives of Washington residential society.

OPPOSE INSURANCE CURB

Fraternal Congress Disturbed by Policy of Wisconsin.

Chicago.—Condemnation of activities of state insurance commissioners in the internal affairs of fraternal insurance orders was expressed in resolutions adopted here by the executive board of the National Fraternal congress.

The resolution resulted from reports of officials of the Independent Order of Foresters of Toronto that the insurance commissioner of Wisconsin had demanded a change in plans for a special assessment of 80,000 members which the order's constitution does not call for. The resolution asserts that such a policy "finds no warrant in the laws of any state and if successfully pursued will be destructive to the fraternal insurance system."

Washington University Regent Named

Olympia, Wash.—Eldridge Wheeler for many years head of the schools of Montesano and now mayor of that city, a prominent democrat, was appointed a regent of the university of Washington to succeed Howard G. Cosgrove, son of the late governor who resigned recently.

MEXICAN REBELS ARE VICTORS IN BATTLE

El Paso, Tex.—General Jose Ynez Salazar's command is completely surrounded south of Saragosa. General Villa ordered his soldiers to take General Salazar alive so that he may be publicly executed as an example to federal officers and federal sympathizers.

Simultaneously repulsing a front and a right and left flank attack, turning the separate attacks into general engagement along his line of defense, 12 miles long, General Francisco Villa, by executing a clever strategy after dark drove the attacking federal forces out of their camp before Tierra Blanca and hurled his cavalry after them as they fled in a panic to their trains.

The decisive movement came about when General Villa apparently abandoned his center position at Tierra Blanca, leaving his camp fires burning.

The federal forces, bent on a night surprise, advanced upon the position. Halfway to the apparently deserted Villa camp they were confronted with not only Villa's main column, but detachments from the right and left wings.

Race for Senate Intent of Allshie.

Boise, Idaho.—Chief Justice James F. Allshie intends to become a candidate for United States senator, subject to the will of the republican primaries. This is settled with the friends of the chief justice, who have been circulating the information in the state.

Read This, It Will Interest You

Do you know your little tots will soon be grown men and women and you, yourself, will be old and had you thought hw, then yu would like to see the tots as they are today and how they will like to see you when you were young. Why not have that photo taken for them to remember you by? Have photos of the tots for keepsakes when they are older. Photos made now are very valuable in the future.

Those worn and faded photos that were made years ago, think how highly we prize them. Yours will be the same to someone some time

Come to us and have those photos taken between now and Christmas as we are giving one enlargement free with each dozen $4.00 photos or higher. This will be a nice Christmas present for some friend.

We have a leather present if you prefer it to the enlargement. Come and see what we give you. It costs you nothing to investigate. If our offer pleases you, make your date for sitting.
