THE WEEK AT CARDS

With the coming of Spring and the inviting appearance of nature, card enthusiasts are already planning to push aside the card tables and enjoy various outings where freckles and a coat of tan will be sought rather than shunned. However, the following club events were chronicled for the week:

The Whist Club

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Walker was a scene of gayety last Monday evening when they received the members of the Whist Club. After several enthusiastic games, the hostess served a delicious collation. The hours passed so pleasantly that the members were reluctant to leave.

Autovins

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hibbs most graciously entertained the Autovins last Wednesday evening. The Club's ever interesting game 500 was indulged in till late when the hostess served a dainty luncheon that would please the most fastidious. This will probably be the last meeting of the season.

Klosetillium

The members of the Klosetillium Club enjoyed an evening of 500 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Walker last Thursday evening. Artistic decorations of dogwood and other blossoms gave a breath of Spring to the reception rooms and made a pretty background for the guests in their new spring costumes. Seven tables were smartly arranged for 500 and the occasion as a whole was a very festive one. A splendid repast concluded the pleasure of the meeting. Mrs. A. L. Sperling will be the next hostess to the Klosetilliums when they adjourn for the summer season.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETS

The Civic Improvement Club held a business meeting at their club rooms on Monmouth street Saturday afternoon. The president, Mrs. J. S. Cooper, presided. The secretary, Mrs. Swope being absent, Mrs. Butler acted as secretary pro tem. The committee on beautifying the City Park reported progress. Some arrangements having already been made to beautify and make more attractive the surroundings. Mrs. Merwin reported from the Entertainment committee and plans were discussed for having an impersonator give a Riley evening, tho no definite conclusions were reached on account of the small attendance as the ladies of the club on that day seemed more enthusiastic about the cooking demonstration than civic beautifying, but we can say that if as many ladies attend the civic meetings when they are not enticed away by some culinary artist, as were present at the demonstrations, they will certainly accomplish all the good movements they are undertaking.

THE DEBUT OF EASTER

Heralded by many days of most ideal weather, which brought forth so many beautiful flowers, Easter was ushered in with just a little chilly wave. The usual financial depression that comes with so many milliner bills seemed to have been dispelled and tho' everyone seemed arrayed in a bit of new finery, the paramount feature was the thought of Spring dispelling Winter and youth old age.

At the various churches the rostrums were beautified with banks of lilies and flowering almonds. Elaborate musical programs were prepared and in some of the churches, the musical directors prepared cantatas. The choirs beautifully rendered the anthems; the solos, duets and quartettes were sweetly sung. Each pastor had prepared for his followers excellent discourses and the attendance at Easter worship was unusually good.

MRS. ECKER IS GIVEN "FAREWELL"

Mrs. W. F. Cary entertained a few friends Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Clyde Ecker of Denver, who had been visiting here several weeks and was to leave the next day. The game of 500 was played until five o'clock when the hostess served light refreshments. The score cards were suggestive of the departure of the guest of honor, being suit cases in shape and containing baby ribbon handles. The napkins also were adorned with a suit case or traveling bag. The favors were given to Mrs. W. S. Pyle and Mrs. Sommers. All report a very pleasant afternoon. —Estacada Progress.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The evening Easter at Calvary was particularly pleasing, altho the rain prevented the attendance of the usual congregation. The ceremony of ordination to the Eldership was performed by Dr. Dunsmore, G. W. McCauley being the Elder ordained. The Easter music was especially pleasing and appropriate, the principal anthem being, "We Are But Strangers Here" from the Ave Maria by Donizetti. A bass solo by Mr. Macy was especially well rendered and delighted the congregation. It is much regretted that a larger congregation was not present. Regular Sunday School service at Calvary Presbyterian church at 10 o'clock every Sunday. Regular service at 8:00 p. m.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

BEN C. CROW, Pastor.

Last Sunday Easter services at the Church were largely attended both morning and evening. The morning service was impressive but at the evening hour the musical program rendered was extraordinary, both the solos and choruses being exceptionally well rendered. It is to be hoped that another such evening will be given in the near future. This Sunday the services for the morning hour will be "God's Definition of Religion" and in the evening, "The Sleep of a Happy Disciple." We will again render special music and at the evening service the usual evangelistic song service will begin promptly at eight. By special request "Take the Name of Jesus With You" will be rendered as solo and chorus. You are invited to meet with us.

Oregon seems to be suffering from the commission form of government with fifty or sixty boards and commissions that spend the state's money in gathering dry statistics that nobody cares about and in making exhaustive reports that nobody reads. —Weston Leader.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

The Monitor Assumes no responsibility for the matter in this column. The Editor.

Officers of W. C. T. U.
President, Mrs. Esther Morgan.
Editor, Mrs. Lucy L. Whiteaker.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Peter Kurre, with a good attendance of old and new members and visiting friends. Roll call was responded to by scripture texts; the reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were very encouraging and reports from committees on work done were enthusiastic and helpful. Special readings were given in plans to be carried forward by our state and national leaders. The hour was taken up with helpful talks and new inspiration given to further our plans. The meeting for next Monday will be held at the home of Mrs. Stansbury. All are welcome to these meetings.

The members of the union were royally entertained at the home of Mrs. Will Dun an last week, an profitable meeting held, with a good attendance. A fine lunch was served at the close of meeting for which we thank our hostess.

The L. T. L. child on had a very pleasant surprise at the close of their Easter meeting in the way of a treat of candy chickens, ducks, rabbits and eggs as a remembrance from their friend and helper Agnew, who always helps to furnish good things for the L. T. L. children. The program of singing and speaking was well done by the little folks and a promise given to all to keep up their meetings and be loyal to the cause. New members were added and the election of officials was completed. Reports of the retiring officials will be given next week. The lessons and talks given are very entertaining and helpful to all, strengthening the children in their desires to live a useful life, free from evil habits. All are welcome to these meetings.

The president of Coos county sends us a letter giving us the names of men for office whom she thinks can be endorsed by white ribbon voters, tried and true in the past.

The president of the National Retail Liquor Dealers Association admits that prohibition laws are enforced at their annual conference in Washington. He said in his closing address there must be a reinvigorating of the forces of the brewers, wholesalers and retailers to protect the liquor industry in the United States. It must be done to save the industry and check the present prohibition wave which is rushing so swiftly over the country. He said if they had stood together in the past as in the present, there would not have been so many states recorded in the prohibition column as there are today; he called their attention to the large amount of territory now in the dry column and declared he believed the prohibitionists must be working 25 hours per day to do this. He said the great trouble was that they had been lulled to sleep by legislators telling them the prohibition laws looked well on the statute books, but would never be enforced, but they are being enforced and we must stop it.

THE NE'ER DO WELL SYNOPSIS.

Kirk Anthony, son of a rich man, with college friends, gets into a fracas in a New York resort. A detective is hurt. Jefferson Locke institutes himself into the college men's party.

Locke, aided by Kirk's friend Higgins, who thinks it a joke, drugs Kirk and puts him aboard a ship bound for Colon. Kirk is on the passenger list as Locke.

"Broke" and without baggage, aboard the ship Kirk makes the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cortlandt.

Cortlandt is in the American diplomatic service and is going to Panama on a mission. In Colon Kirk, as the son of a big railroad man, is taken up by Weeks, American consul.

Kirk's father repudiates him, and Weeks casts him out as an impostor. Kirk meets Allan, a Jamaican negro canal worker out of a job. The two are arrested by Colon police for helping to put out a fire.

Kirk and Allan are treated brutally in a Colon jail by young Alfara, commandant of police. Alfara's release is obtained by the British consul, but Weeks refuses to aid Kirk. Mrs. Cortlandt gets a phone call.

Mrs. Cortlandt obtains Kirk's release by using influence with Colonel Jolan, head of the canal. The Cortlandts are intruding to make Alfara's father president of Panama.

Kirk's father casts him off finally, and Mrs. Cortlandt obtains for him a position on the Panama railroad under Funnels, master of transportation.

The Cortlandts and Kirk plan a picnic on the island of Taboga, near Panama. Cortlandt is detained and his wife and Kirk are marooned on the island.

Kirk kisses Mrs. Cortlandt and is then ashamed to think he has violated Cortlandt's trust in him. Cortlandt, alarmed by his wife's absence, rescues her and Kirk from the island. In the country near Panama Kirk meets a charming Spanish girl.

The girl tells him her name is "Chiquita." He learns later that that means only "little one." Kirk begins his work. Mrs. Cortlandt has learned who Jefferson Locke is.

Locke (real name Wellar) is a swindler and has disappeared. His description fits Kirk. The latter tries in vain in Panama to learn something of Chiquita and meets Alfara again.

Kirk wins the capital prize, $15,000, in the lottery. He and Funnels make plans for advancement. The Cortlandts, having turned from the older Alfara, intend to make Honor Garavel, a banker, president of Panama.

Alfara's son, Kirk's foe, is engaged to Gertrude, Garavel's daughter. She is Kirk's "Chiquita." He meets her again at the opera through Mrs. Cortlandt's aid.

Kirk makes love to Chiquita. Edith Cortlandt, infatuated with Kirk, goes riding with him frequently.

She avows her love for him. Their ride and talk are interrupted by her husband. Kirk asks Garavel for his daughter's hand. The banker wishes her to marry Alfara to advance his own ambitions. Clifford, a man from the States, asks Funnels about Kirk.
