

A little of "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew, gives you the tobacco comfort you are entitled to. Satisfies you better than any of the old kind. Richer, finer flavor. Lasts longer. Pure, rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary cased tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and sweeties. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Hats off to President Wilson and his Secretary of State.

Their skilled leadership in the present time of peril is not only praiseworthy but is extraordinary.

The United States will not become involved in the European horror or Mexico's internal strife unless conditions become a great deal worse than is foreseen at present, and then only after all honorable means to prevent have been tried and failed.

We are glad that Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan are leading now. War is hell and we want none of it.

A number of Portland people have nothing else to do so they climb Mt. Hood.

After Jan. 1 next, one may go from Seattle, Washington, to Savannah, Georgia, from ocean to ocean, and never leave prohibition territory. That will be a long way to travel without a drink.

The Portland Telegram, recently moved into a home of its own, has a new dress and is otherwise improved. When the Telegram puts another good man on its editorial page and cuts out several columns of the syndicated junk thereon, it will be entitled to a seat in the front row.

The pleasing and usually read-first, Monday Crawfish, has discovered after a careful perusal of the Monitor that Spring has arrived in Independence. On April 1, when the bill for a certain Easter bonnet comes in, the editor of the Crawfish will then know that Spring has arrived in Portland also. If editors have to pay cash in Portland, he has already found it out no doubt.

The Monitor does not deny that the so-called Moser law giving the governor authority to remove appointive officers whenever he feels so disposed, might have been passed for partisan purposes as we cannot believe that Gus Mosher would father anything that was not of that kind or something worse. But just the same the law is a good one. The Monitor would have the governor appoint and remove at will all the state officers, district attorneys and sheriffs. We believe that the public interests would be better served if the governor was responsible for everybody who has a part in the execution of the law.

Dictionary Readers.
That the natives of Nigeria are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Larymore in "A Resident's Wife in Nigeria."

"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed through a valley where the inhabitants of the rocks and hills above apparently made their homes in holes and caves. One member of the party idly asked what was the scientific name for cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word. But then the native interpreter, plodding along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir. Don't you mean troglodytes?'"

"I cannot imagine myself reading a German or Italian dictionary for pleasure and storing in my mind for future use conversationally a specially unusual scientific term. I only wish I could."

The Bible has been so called only for the last 700 years. It was formerly called "The Books" or the "Divine Library."
