TOBACCO satisfied—a clean, small chew. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. So satisfying and comforting that men are glad to hear about it. And then when they've found it their next impulse is to see that their friends get the good news, too.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size will be more satisfying than a mouthful of tobacco. Just take a nibble of it and you'll find the strength chew that suits you, then you'll satisfy the real tobacco taste and you'll know how much less you have to spit to be tobacco satisfied. It is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's what it is. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not in excess of licorice and sweetening makes you covered up. As much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

A FREAK IN TYPE

Here is a line of type that reads exactly the same from either end:

Able was I when I saw Elba.

This remarkable sentence is credited to Napoleon Bonaparte, and said there is not another line of type in the world that does the same from either end that equals it.—Lebanon Express.

THIS EDITOR IS AMUSED

It is amusing to hear some poor sucker who couldn't buy a storage ticket on a raft down the Willamette river howl about the rights of American citizens on the high seas.—Falls City News.

PEPPERMINT INDUSTRY

Glenn Parr is in the peppermint industry and expects to find it lucrative. He has three acres on low ground, having planted the roots in rows 2½ feet apart. It is thick and makes a good showing. As soon as the weather gets warm, so as to bring the oil out, he will cut and distill it and will realize from 60 to 80 pounds of oil to the acre. The mint is cut when in bloom and cured the same as clover. Mr. Parr is building a still to handle his crop.

This will be an important industry in the low lands of the Willamette Valley some day. The first year does not bring much profit, but the succeeding years up to the fourth or fifth year pay well if properly handled. Woodburn Independent.

MOST BOYS WILL RISK THE COLIC

How much would you give for a bunch of those blackened-eyed, manicured-fingered, gum chewing, frizzle-headed sissies who can't do anything but go to the piano and play, "Does the Spearmint Lose Its Flavor After Dark?" If you'd kiss one of them you'd die of painter's colic.—Billy Sunday.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Cataract.

Cataract is a disease of the eye that most people regard with horror. To them it is irremediable blindness. As the disease progresses and the vision decreases they become alarmed and are quite positive they are going blind for life. The trouble is they do not know the nature of the disease. What they should know is that the disease is such that there will be a progressive loss of sight until a certain stage is reached, after which it will be possible by a delicate, but not especially dangerous, operation to restore the sight. In only a very small percentage of cases does the eye become blind. In the great majority of cases a high degree of useful sight is obtained, and in some a condition approaching normal vision results. In fact, cataract is one of the most favorable eye diseases which cause loss of sight, and a patient whose failing sight cannot be remedied by glasses should halt this diagnosis with relief instead of horror. Persons suffering from cataract should pay no attention to quack doctors and "cataract cures." Glasses will do no good, while lotions may do great harm. They should early consult a reputable oculist and should put their case into his hands. They should not by any means delay treatment, as the success of the operation depends much on this point.
