THE PILL BOX

NO. 19

Editorial

It was the intention of The Pill Box to place a member of its editorial staff upon the primary ballot for some office but at the last moment, powerful influences representing both the Democratic and Republican parties asked for just one more chance and The Pill Box withdrew its candidate before he was entered. Representatives of these "powerful influences" made a most solemn vow that their candidates if elected would conduct themselves and their offices in such a manner as to bring peace, happiness and prosperity to every inhabitant. Peace, by requiring every jackass, regardless of the number of limbs he may have, to be muffled; Happiness by requiring that the expenses of all females be paid out of the public treasury; Prosperity by making a dime go just as far as a silver dollar in purchasing power. The Pill Box, after the above explanation, does not deem it necessary to publish the protocol in full except the concluding paragraph which reads:

To all of which aforesaid, we pledge our sacred hearts to uphold and maintain the same from Alpha to Omega and that all parts of the constitution of the United States, the constitution of the state of Oregon, the Apostle's Creed or Robert's Rules of Order in conflict thereof are hereby appealed. Signed. Ace Robinson, representing the powerful influences of the Democratic party. Walt Toose, representing the powerful influences of the Republican party. Countersigned. J. Botta Collick, Plenipotentiary Stand Between of The Pill Box.

There is no need to say more.

Different Kinds of Fun

The young man from the city and the young man from the country were courting the same girl. They were sitting in the parlor with the object of their affections. Said the young man from the city:

"We have certainly been having some fun the last few days. Thursday, we autoed to the country club and golfed until dark, then trolleyed back to town and danced until morning."

The country boy not to be worsted followed with:

"We have had pretty good times here, too. One day we bugged out to Uncle Ned's and went to the back lot where we baseballed all afternoon. In the evening we sneaked up to the attic and poked until morning."

The girl's father, a hard working old farmer, who was vainly trying to sleep in an adjoining bedroom, heard the remarks and butted in with:

"I was having some fun about this time myself. I muled to the field and gee-hawed until sundown. Then I suppered until dark and piped until nine. Then I bedstedded until the clock fiveed, then breakfasted until it was time to go muling again."

Society Section

The joys of Easter are somewhat saddened by the fact that some women will not have new hats and the Society Editor of The Pill Box always has a good cry about it every Easter afternoon. But never mind, unfortunate sisters, read this story:

Once upon a time there was a beautiful lady who was married to a doctor whose patients always died and he never received anything for helping people into the next world so she never had a new Easter hat. She finally died of a broken heart and was laid to rest in the village cemetery which was owned, maintained and kept green by the Ladies Cemetery Association whose membership consisted of women who could afford to buy Easter hats every year. After the beautiful lady had been dead for a few months, a little dandelion commenced to grow upon her grave and had many descendants and soon the whole cemetery was covered with them. The women who belonged to the association were compelled to dig all the dandelions out of that cemetery and it required seven months of awful hard work to do it. So the beautiful lady, who died of a broken heart, was sleeping peacefully while the others worked until they wished they were dead.

If one single sad heart is gladdened by this story, the author, the writer, will feel that the great mental effort required to produce it was no work at all.

MELLOW-SWEET IS TASTE OF

"SPEAR HEAD"

Most Richly-Flavored Chew
That Was Ever Pressed
Into Plugs

FAVORITE FOR A GENERATION

Red-blooded men with real tobacco hunger find that they can satisfy it only by chewing, and the most wholesome and satisfying tobacco to chew is that made in plug form.

The limit of luxury in tobacco chewing is the rich, sweet, juicy flavor that trickles through your system when you chew Spear Head.

No other chewing tobacco is so mellow, so luscious and so satisfying. No other equals Spear Head for putting a keen edge on your appetite.

Spear Head is made of the world's best tobacco leaf—the choicest of red Kentucky Burley. This leaf is selected for its full, juicy richness with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is pressed into Spear Head plugs so slowly that not a drop of the rich, natural juice escapes.

Your first chew of Spear Head will open your eyes to the genuine enjoyment there is in chewing.

Chew the rich and mellow tobacco that has been the favorite for a third of a century—that's Spear Head in 10c cuts, wrapped in wax paper.
