SOCIETY AND CLUBS

BY VIRGINIA SOUTHERN

WALKER-PETERSEN WEDDINGS

Like a delightful picture that would have represented even June's most beautiful traditions was the wedding of Miss Virginia Adell Petersen and Dean H. Walker which was celebrated last Tuesday evening. The service which was performed at 8 o'clock in Grace Episcopal church, of Astoria, by Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, was notable for its impressiveness and the beauty of its appointments and the prominence of its participants. The pretty setting was of flowers, music and radiant smiles with a benediction from hundreds of approving eyes.

Never in Astoria has there a more beautiful wedding and from the decorations and appointments, handsome in every respect, to the charming ceremonial, each detail complimented the other and added its suggestion of elegance with which the entire service was marked. The decorative scheme was admirable throughout. Only pink and white blossoms were used and with the masses of greenery employed were successful in completely transforming the handsome edifice into a beautiful nuptial bower.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Margaret Hawkins, of Portland, rendered a program of wedding music on the pipe organ and Miss Zella Knox in beautiful voice sang "With You." Mendelssohn's Wedding March was the signal for the approach of the bridal party.

The Misses Eleanor McClain, of Silverton, and Mary Ward, of Astoria, Sorority sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids, led the way. They were beautiful pictures in imported frocks of pastel shades of pink. They carried pink sweet peas showered with baby breath. Miss Genevieve Shaver, of Portland, another Sorority sister, was maid of honor. She was much admired in her beautiful, billowy gown and carried an arm bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses with streamers of broad pink tulle, flower-entwined. Dainty little Frances Hawkins, in a French frock, strewed rose petals along the bridal pathway. The bride appeared on the arm of her father and was radiantly beautiful in her elegant wedding robe embellished with silver lace, her veil was held in place with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried brides roses and orchids showered with lilies of the valley. At the chancel rail the party was met by the groom, who was attended by Vernon Vawter, of Medford as best man, while Wallace Benson, of Portland, son of former Governor Benson, Harold C. Dean, of Portland, Errol Kay, of Salem, and R. D. McCormack, of Spokane, all "frat" brothers of the groom, were the attendant ushers. As Bishop Sumner spoke the marriage vows, using the impressive ring service, the bride was given into the keeping of the groom by her father. About 500 invitations were issued for the event, which was followed by a reception at the Petersen residence, to which 100 intimate friends were bidden. For the reception the pink and white color scheme was again beautifully developed throughout the reception suite.

Mrs. Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Petersen. Mr. Petersen is the president of the Astoria Savings Bank and has large lumber and cattle interests. Mrs. Walker was a member of the '16 class of the U. of O. She is an attractive young woman of the blonde type and has a most lovable disposition. She has a soprano voice of rare sweetness and also possesses considerable histrionic ability. She is an active member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

Mr. Walker also graduated from the U. of O. with the '13 class. Throughout his college days he was an athlete of much prominence and as a senior was captain of the football team. After his graduation, he was graduate manager for University athletics. He is a leading member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

After a two-weeks' honeymoon, which will be spent at Cannon Beach, where the Petersens have a cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in Independence, where Mr. Walker is a prominent furniture dealer. They will be the aspiration for much entertainment during the early fall.

MID-SUMMER FUNCTIONS

The largest and most elaborate society functions of the summer season were given at the handsome new home of Mayor and Mrs. W. H. Walker on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of last week when Mesdames G. W. Conkey, W. H. Walker, and O. D. Butler formed a trio of charming hostesses for two large card parties, for which more than one hundred invitations were issued.

The spacious drawing room was banked with massive branches of golden rod and lacy ferns, with huge bowls and art baskets of golden hued poppies, arranged ad libitum, producing a most harmonious blending with the elegant interior furnishings. The dining and living rooms were equally as pleasing with a decoration of various colored sweet peas in many crystal vases and bowls.

The guests were welcomed at the door by the Misses Babe Butler, Velma Whiteaker, and Leona Sloper, the dainty Misses appearing in pretty summery frocks, while the hostesses, becomingly gowned in white, formed the receiving line.

Wednesday afternoon eight tables were appointed for "500." At the conclusion of the games the player holding top score at each table was presented with a dainty piece of hand painted china. The winners were: Mesdames John Dickinson, H. Matison, P. H. Drexler, O. F. Cosner, O. E. Williams, L. Damon, H. Childs, and Miss Mabel Cooper.

Thursday's prize list included Mesdames R. E. DeArmond, A. L. Thomas, Clyde Eker, Maurice Butler, Guy Walker, Olen Whiteaker, Pearl Hedges, E. E. Cook, George Girard, and Hatfield Henkle. Hand painted china also complimented these winners.

While the games progressed each afternoon, a choice program of cabinet music, executed by the mayor, added much pleasure. Both afternoons Mrs. Maurice Butler delighted the guests with a group of pleasing vocal numbers. Mrs. Butler was in splendid voice and was insistently encored. Her selections included "An Old-Fashioned Home," "When I Leave the World Behind," "Jest Her Way," and "Little Gray Home in the West."

The splendid three course collections of elegant appointments were served by the same pretty Misses who received.

Out of town guests who shared the hostesses' delightful hospitality were: Mesdames George Hawkins, C. F. McDowell, O. E. Williams, and Asa B. Robinson, of Dallas; Mesdames J. B. V. Butler, Maurice Butler, and Orville Butler, of Monmouth and Mrs. McDaniel, of Ashland.

CHAB CLUB

The members of the Chab Club dispensed with their six o'clock dinner last Friday evening and motored to Eola Spring, where a delightful picnic supper was served.

NEEDLECRAFT

Last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Hugh Hanna furnished a most delightful session for the Needlecrafters. Following the needlework, a light luncheon was enjoyed.
