HEALTH OFFICER

HAS BIRDS EXAMINED

A party of Portland nimrods consisting of Roscoe Fawcett, sporting editor of the Oregonian; Messrs. W. E. Carlon, Miller and Smith, was entertained this week at the O. D. Butler home and in company with local hunters have been enjoying the open season. Dr. Butler, member of the board of health, sent some of the Chinese pheasants they slaughtered to the state health department for examination and after they were tested the birds were pronounced tubercular.

CAMPAIGN OPENS

Hon. Milton A. Miller, collector of revenues, of Portland, opened the Democratic campaign in the city last night. Attorney N. L. Butler introduced the speaker to an enthusiastic audience. Mr. Miller is a convincing talker and a man of figures. He loudly commended Mark Weatherford, then praised the present administration, showing why Woodrow Wilson should continue to be the president of the good old U. S. A.

$500 COW

At the state fair last week, H. H. and J. I. Hanna purchased a Holstein cow from the herd of H. W. Jones of Amity, paying $500 for the animal.

MAYOR WALKER HURT

W. H. Walker is walking on crutches as a result of an accident which happened early Wednesday morning. Mr. Walker was riding down town, the pavements were slick with frost, causing his horse to lose footing. The animal fell on its rider and Mr. Walker's feet are badly bruised and the ligaments of his right leg considerably torn. The mayor is a prince of good fellows and his accident is regretted by a host of friends who hope he may soon put aside his crutches.

MARRIED

At Turner, Or., Saturday, October 1, Miss Bernice C. Small of that place and Mr. Laurence Roberts of this city were married. The Rev. George Mickey read the wedding service at the bride's home, which was decorated for the event with a profusion of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. After the marriage a wedding supper was served at tables centered with lavender and white blossoms.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Small and was assistant postmaster at Turner. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Roberts of this city and both have hosts of friends who join in congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were presented with many handsome gifts.

MORTUARY

Emmett Alexander, a young orchardist of Sheridan, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Beaver Hotel, presumably of ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. Alexander had been in the city several days demonstrating tractors and the day previous to his death he spent at Hanna Bros. hop ranch. He was 30 years old and a member of the Masonic order. The local masons escorted his body from the funeral parlors to the 2:30 train, which conveyed the remains to Sheridan for burial.

Friends of Mrs. Virginia E. Wells were grieved to learn of her death which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Conaway, of Vancouver, last Wednesday morning.

The funeral service was held from the home Thursday afternoon, the Rev. R. H. Sawyer of the Christian church officiating. The body arrived here this morning and commitment made at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mrs. Wells was for many years a resident of this city and is remembered kindly by all. She moved to Vancouver in 1902. She was born in McMinnville, Tenn., Aug. 27, 1829. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Conaway and Mrs. Emma Lang of Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. Laliberti died at her home in North Independence last

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Bridge conditions are still unsettled. At a meeting of the commissioners and contractors here yesterday a proposition was made that the county bear half the loss and the contractors half. Then another proposition followed to the effect that the company rebuild the bridge and sue the contractors for the loss of the first structure. Just what will develop from the propositions remains to be seen.

REGISTER! REGISTER!

Tomorrow, Saturday, is the last chance to register for the November election. Unless you are registered, you cannot vote for Wilson, Hughes, Hanly or Benson. Those who have changed their residence will have to register over again. The registrars in Independence are Miss Ella Robinson, B. F. Swope and Mrs. Esther Morgan.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

The congregation of the Methodist church here will be guided by the Rev. T. J. Yarnes from Salem who succeeds the former pastor, W. C. Stewart, the latter being sent by the Methodist conference to Bend, Ore. Rev. and Mrs. Yarnes and three children arrived in the city Wednesday and are busy getting settled in the parsonage. The new pastor is a graduate from the Willamette university, and is reputed to be a splendid speaker and an enthusiastic worker and it expected that a revival of interest will be manifested among his followers. The monitor joins with Methodism in extending a hearty welcome to Rev. Yarnes and family.

AUTO ACCIDENT

The Rhyming Summarist

The hunting season now is on
And in our book of pleasures,
We can write that a fellow said:
"I shot my share of pheasants;"
Now if you have a little gun
And make the old hills rattle,
When you shoot
You'd better skoot,
You've killed some farmers cattle
John Feagles is a crackerjack
Tote'll a story up-to-date,
He can start at dinner time,
He will get thru at eight;
All the county seems to care
About our new bridge falling,
And then you hear
Far and near
Much about recalling.
One more day to register,
We hope you all are noting,
For in just a little while,
The country will be voting;
Elmer Paddock has withdrawn
He wants no judicial fudging,
So Bob Baker
You may take her
And try your hand at judging.
The boys are makin' googoo eyes
At each and every teacher,
Methodist folks are looking up,
They draw a bran new preacher
In every street and alley now,
The wood saws are humming,
So do you know,
Well, it's so,
Winter sure is coming.
