A church fair has been described as a function where one spends more money than he can afford for things he does not want, to please people he does not like, for the benefit of the heathen who are better off if left alone.

Frequently there are people who can get up an item much better than the editor. One in Scio showed the News man the proper way as follows: "The S. P. Co. loaded a cripple lady at Shelburn Monday with a wooden leg and lots of freight."

On Tuesday morning Charles Young, a Southern Pacific brakeman, had two fingers of the left hand so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. The operation was performed by Drs. Sommer and Parker. The fingers were caught while coupling cars.

George Kinzer, of Needy, was a pleasant caller on Wednesday morning. Mr Kinzer reports the hop crop in his section as turning out about an average in quantity but a great improvement in quality over last year. The potato crop will be slim, the acreage and yield are both small.

This is the last week in which taxes can be paid without costs being added. The sheriff has been very lenient this year, and as a result the amount that will be delinquent will be only about half what it was last year, about $14 000, last year it being $28,000 and the year before nearly $40,000.

A. C. Newell, of Damascus, was in the city this week canvassing for a book giving a full account of the blowing up of the Maine and other incidents leading up to the Spanish-American war, with profuse illustrations of all the vessels of the navy and the part they took in the war. Mr. Newell is securing many subscribers.

W. W. Irvin, a stock raiser of Barlow, was in this city Saturday, and reports that the demand for cattle still continues at a good price, and that hogs are scarce this year. Owing to amount of grain raised this year, farmers would do well by raising hogs and selling them for the market value.

Mr. Cloe, of Arkansas, was in Canby Tuesday. The object of this visit was to investigate the apple trees in that section. If he can secure not less than 10,000 bushels he will build a dryer at that point. If he constructs the plant he will try and secure 15,000 to 20,000 bushels during the season.

Governor Lord has issued a call for a special session of the legislature to convene on September 26. The prime object of the call is to elect a United States senator to fill the vacant seat, and to pass a general appropriation bill. The constitutional limit for a special is 20 days. There is in the state treasury over $1,360,000 and there are outstanding warrants for about half that amount.

A petition will be presented to the city council this evening praying for the building of a road up the bluff, starting at the intersection of Main and 3rd streets, thence under the railroad and on an easy grade ascend the hill to corporate limits of the city. We understand it is the intention to have another petition to the county court to have a road built to connect the contemplated road connect with the road leading to New Era. The consummation of the project will give the inhabitants of the southern end of the county an opportunity of direct communication with the city, and save the long trip around by 7th street that is necessary now.

Suits have been filed to recover damages from the proprietors of the Wilhoit stage for injuries inflicted by the overturning of the stage a few months ago when the horses ran away. One of the horses was stung by a yellow jacket just as the stage reached the brow of the big hill, naturally, the horse tried to get away and the grade was so steep that the driver could not control the horses. The driver showed good judgment by running into the brush at the first opportunity, this upset the stage and threw all the passengers out, inflicting some slight injuries to one or two of the passengers. There was plainly no negligence on the part of the company or their driver, but the yellow jacket is certainly entitled to severe punishment.

The Prune Crop.

The drying of prunes is in full blast, all the dryers in the county are being run at their full capacity, and still the reports are that not more than 2/3 of the crop can be taken care of.

Canby Prairie is the largest prune growing section in the county. There the yards are only just coming into bearing and in future years more dryers will be necessary. The Willamette dryer has a capacity of 20 tons a day, while the dryers of Phegley, Matthew, Clemings and Colonel Whipple have a daily capacity of two tons.

The picking is paid for by the box of 60 pounds, pickers receiving five cents a box, in other yards the drying is being done on shares, one-half going to the dryer. Drying will be continued nearly all month.

Threshing is in full operation and growers can now form correct estimates of the yield, in most sections of the county it will run about 10 to 15 bushels to the acre for wheat, while the yield of oats is very uneven. The quality of all grain is good, some is not very plump, but generally it is of good average quality.

The Hop Situation.

Hop picking is in full blast this week. Some small yards have been finished, and others will not be finished for ten days. There is a full supply of pickers, the price, 40 cents a box, having brought out a large number.

In all yards there is a trace of mold, but with favorable weather this week it will do little damage. The appearance of mold this year, with no rain, indicates that the cause of mold is something besides damp weather. M. H. Gilbertson, a prominent grower and dealer, has always contended that mold was caused by the lice biting into the burrs and cones when they are driven off the leaves by the heat or sprays, and the conditions this year certainly bear out his theory.

The yield for the state will be a little below the average, probably 55,000 bales, last year it being 70,000. The quality will be much superior to last year, and will do much to redeem the reputation of the state as a producer of choice hops.

The output of California is estimated at 40,000 bales, the same as last year. Washington's crop is estimated at 35,000 bales, which gives the coast a crop equal to the consumption of the United States, considering there is an average crop in New York and on the continent, it does not leave a very flattering prospect for an advance in price.

One factor that will assist the growers is the promised reduction in freight rates by the railroad company of 1-2 cent a pound, which means that the grower will get that much more for his hops.

The reports indicate that many contracts and sales have been made at 8 and 10 cents. California's are selling at the same price.

Hop growers that have been in the habit of employing Chinese pickers in past seasons are using white pickers this season. One grower said he had always had Chinese before, but this season convinced him that the whites are the cheapest and best. He has had no more trouble with them than he had with the Chinese, and they pick so much cleaner. Hops picked by whites will weigh more, because they are comparatively free of leaves and stems.

He becomes obliged to spend the end of money for doctors and even then can hardly save his life.

How much more sensible, and it is how much cheaper at the first sign of physical weakness to write to Dr. R. V. In a letter to Dr. Pierce, Mr. J. W. Price, of Clinton, Dewitt Co., Ills. (P. O. Box 456) writes: "For over a year I was troubled with a bad complaint. Had no appetite, could keep nothing on my stomach, and had severe pains in my stomach and bowels. I doctored with several doctors but did not obtain relief until a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I began taking it at once and after taking four bottles I think myself entirely cured. I can eat anything I want and my food does me good. It hurts me not."
