OREGON CITY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1898.

The retention of the Philippines by the United States will mean much to Oregon. It would insure eastward extension of the Oregon Pacific, which is now promised; it would mean that the Rio Grande railway system, and perhaps the Burlington and Northwestern as well, would build extensions westward to tide water.

The calling of a special session of the legislature by Governor Lord indicates that Senator Corbett has secured sufficient pledges to insure his election. COUNTY ITEMS.

John Schmitt, who is employed in Huiras' shingle mill, at Liberal, has his finger come in contact with a knot saw and it is in a bad condition.

A boy named Cross fell 18 feet at Claus Wilson's hop-liner, near Aurora, last Thursday and died the next day. He was buried at Bateville Saturday.

In J. C. Miller's hopyard, near Aurora, a family's tent and all their things were burned on Monday last week. The woman was singing a bird when the wind carried a piece of lighted paper to the tent and started the fire. Loss, $50.

Fire got beyond control on Mayor Lee's place, near Canby, last Tuesday and spread with such rapidity that the town of Canby was for a time endangered. Citizens turned out and fought the fire back. A strong wind was blowing from the north.

Fire leaped the Willamette at Rocky Reel on Tuesday last week and started for G. W. Shank's place, near Canby. With the assistance of residents of the community he succeeded in checking its progress. In a ditch he plowed furrows and then started a backfire.

On Sunday evening of last week Dr. B. F. Giesey, of Aurora, was called to Bond's hopyard, where he extracted two large splinters, each six inches in length, from between the scalp and skull of a woman. She had fallen against a doorjam filled with splinters. The two taken out by Dr. Giesey followed the turn of the skull and did not break.

John Molzan's house, near Canby, was burned to the ground Tuesday. The fire came from Smith's place, where brush had been ignited. The barn, containing wagons and farming implements, was also consumed. Mr. Molzan is in Eastern Oregon, and no one was home but Mrs. Molzan and little children, the other children being absent in a hopyard.

Milton Hasford, of Canby, this season shipped about 200 boxes of apples and pears. At the orchard of James Evans he did not find a wormy apple, very few in G. W. and A. R. Shank's orchards, none in a New Era orchard, and in all there were no scabs on the apples. None of the orchards had been sprayed. The further up the river he went the more wormy were the apples.

A fire on the west side of the Willamette on Tuesday last week, says the Canby Independent, destroyed Pete Warner's woodshed covered with valuable grapevines bearing fruit. One of his logs was badly burned. The fire then crept toward James Evans' place, where it burned leaves and got close to the house before it could be subdued. The fire started on the place of Mrs. Coulter.

While thrashing at Scheule's, five miles south of Bateville, last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock a spark from Jos. Scheuler's engine set fire to five stacks of grain. The separator was also burned to the ground. Desperate attempts were made to save the separator by Clarence Scheuler, Alfred Greenleaf, Clay Barclay and others, but it was so saturated with oil that it burned in a few minutes. No one was injured, although a few had narrow escapes.

CROP BULLETIN.

In some of the larger hops yards picking is nearly completed. Baling of hay continues. Prunes are now rapidly dropping from the trees, and drying is in full operation.

The grain crop is larger than usual; there are not enough dryers to handle the crop. Small lots of wheat and oats are yet to be threshed. The grain crop is, however, practically secured.

Potato digging has commenced; the potato crop promises to be very large. Corn is maturing. Apples are being picked. Peaches, pears, melons, etc., are being shipped in large quantities. Fall seeding has commenced. Farm work of all kind is well advanced, and soon the farm will rest after a most successful crop year and harvest.

Twenty Stories About Mark Twain.

Mark Twain is the next famous person to be "anecdotalized" by The Ladies' Home Journal, and the humorist's closest friends have sent to the magazine for its next number some 20 old stories about him, none of which have been printed. They are, of course, of the droll sort, but not more funny than the "snap-shot" pictures of Mark which his friends have also banished the magazine. These, too, have never been printed.
