A Strange Nervous Disease.

Among the natives of the Philippines, according to a correspondent of the Medical News, New York, "there is occasionally found a peculiar nervous disease called mali-mali, the victims of which seem to be impelled by an uncontrollable impulse to imitate the movements of any one they see before them. Sometimes the disease will lie dormant while the victim goes quietly about his work, but if frightened or excited in any way he will immediately begin to imitate every motion of any person who attracts his attention. If a person suffering from this disease becomes angry he shrieks and raves like a maniac, at the same time continuing his mimicking performances. Old women are the most common victims of mali-mali, though men are sometimes attacked. Some people believe that the imitation mania, as it is sometimes called, is always assumed and that the pretended victims can control their antics if they try, as they are often attacked in the presence of Europeans from whom they hope to obtain alms; but there is no doubt that the symptoms of this disease are generally real, and that such a disease exists is certain."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Our Sunday Victories.

The old saying, "The better the day, the better the deed," seems to find substantial support in our war with Spain. Dewey's great victory at Manila was fought on Sunday, May 1; Schley discovered Cervera's ships hidden in the harbor of Santiago on Sunday, May 29; Cervera's fleet was smashed by Schley on Sunday, July 3; the Spanish flag on Morro castle, Santiago, was hauled down on Sunday, July 17; and the first battle between our land forces and the Spaniards at Manila began on the night of Sunday, July 31, ending in a victory for the American troops.—Leslie's Weekly.

Perverted Ideas of Beauty.

Some of the natives of Australia have a queer idea of beauty. They cut themselves with shells, keep the wounds open for a long time, and when they heal huge scars are the result. Those scars are deemed highly ornamental.

MRS. LUCY GOODWIN

Suffered four years with female troubles. She now writes to Mrs. Pinkham of her complete recovery. Read her letter:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish you to publish what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Sanative Wash and Liver Pills have done for me.

I suffered for four years with womb trouble. My doctor said I had falling of the womb. I also suffered with nervous prostration, faint, all-gone feelings, palpitation of the heart, bearing-down sensation and painful menstruation. I could not stand but a few minutes at a time.

When I commenced taking your medicine I could not sit up half a day, but before I had used half a bottle I was up and helped about my work.

I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used one package of Sanative Wash, and am cured of all my troubles. I feel like a new woman. I can do all kinds of housework and feel stronger than I ever did in my life. I now weigh 131½ pounds. Before using your medicine I weighed only 108 pounds.

Surely it is the grandest medicine for weak woman that ever was, and my advice to all who are suffering from any female trouble is to try it at once and be well. Your medicine has proven a blessing to me, and I cannot praise it enough.—Mrs. LUCY GOODWIN, Holly, W. Va.

INDIANA'S EARLY GOVERNMENT

Relics of the First Capital and Constitutional Elm Still Standing.

At Corydon, the first capital of Indiana, are the relics still standing of the first government of the State. One is the old State house, built in 1811 for the Territorial Legislature and offices. The building was not completed until 1815. The State was admitted into the Union in 1816 and the State officials used the building until 1825. The building is still a solid structure.

The second relic is the constitutional elm. The constitutional convention met at the State house in June, 1816, but the weather was so hot that adjournment was taken to the shade of the old elm. The tree has wide-spreading branches and covers a space 124 feet in diameter.

The Vehicle Which Carried Florence Nightingale on Her Mission.

Florence Nightingale recently passed her seventy-eighth birthday. This is the carriage which she had built for her use during the Crimean war when transportation was so bad some vehicle became a necessity. It was a very light four-wheeled vehicle, being composed of wood battens and basket work, its interior lined with water-proof canvas. A canopy ran the full length, and there were curtains at the sides, so that it might be inclosed at will. The sides were padded, and it was fitted with patent brakes, so as to allow it to go gently down the steep Turkish roads. All through the campaign she worked with well-nigh incredible courage and patience, almost succumbing at one period to the terrible Crimean fever, but recovering and taking up her work again, in spite of a naturally fragile constitution, still further weakened by hardships innumerable and overwork. The national gratitude knew no bounds, and England subscribed $250,000, which sum was devoted to the founding of the Nightingale home, where nurses are trained for the splendid work of which Florence Nightingale may be called the pioneer. The Queen, who had followed her career with intense interest and sympathy, presented her with a costly and beautiful decoration.

One of the Greatest Naval Duels.

Henceforward—to use Nelson's words about his own most desperate action—"there was no maneuvering, there was only downright fighting;" and great as was Jones' unquestionable merit as a handler of ships, it was downright fighting endurance, of the most extreme and individual character, that won this battle. When thus in contact, the superiority of the British eighteens over the American twelves, though less than at a distance, was still great; but a far heavier disparity lay in the fabrics of the two enemies. That Richard was a very old ship, rotten, never meant for naval use; the Serapis was new, on her first commission. The fight hitherto having engaged the port guns of the latter, the starboard lower gun-ports were still closed, and from the ships' touching could not be opened. They were therefore blown off, and the fight went on. "A novelty in naval combats was now presented to many witnesses, but to few admirers," quaintly wrote Lieut. Dale, who was in the midst of the scene below decks. "The rammers were run into the respective ships to enable the men to load;" that is, the staves of the rammers of one ship entered the ports of the other as the guns were being loaded. "We became so close fore and aft," reported Pearson, "that the muzzles of our guns touched each other's sides;" and even so, by the testimony of the lieutenant on the lower gun-deck of the Serapis, her guns could not be fully run out, owing to the nearness of the vessels.—Scribner's.

GRANDSON OF BRIGHAM YOUNG

He Commanded the Utah Artillery in the Glorious Fight Near Manila.

In the fight at Malate, in the Philippines, in which the American soldiers fought so gallantly and repulsed the Spaniards with great loss, one of the interesting figures who took part in the engagement was Capt. Richard W. Young, commander of the Utah Light Artillery, who is a grandson of Brigham Young, the late Mormon leader. The Utah Artillery drew forth the commendation of Gen. Greene for their brave work in repelling the Spanish attack. Capt. Young is a West Point graduate and was connected with the artillery branch of the army. He resigned from the army to practice law in Salt Lake City, having been graduated from the Columbia University Law School. When the war broke out he volunteered his services and was placed in command of two batteries of

The Great Hegelmans Coming to the Exposition.

Portland, Or., Sept. 12.—(To the Editor.)—This is a most beautiful and attractive city, and its live people are up and doing in the march of progress.

The Hegelmans are coming to the Oregon Industrial Exposition, and they are an attraction that will be long remembered, for they are the greatest aerial gymnasts in the world. They command princely salaries, and people who have seen them in San Francisco, where they are now playing, say that they alone are worth ten times the price of admission. They limit their performances this season to three places in the United States—San Francisco, Portland and New York, then they return to Europe. The exposition management was bound to have star attractions, and certainly secured a big one in the Hegelmans.

Other attractions are being arranged for, and people who come to the exposition this year will have plenty of amusement in connection with instruction and sight-seeing and promenading through the big building.

The full military band which has been engaged to give concerts day and evening during the exposition is now giving daily concerts at a big fair in San Francisco, and is delighting thousands of people. Such music will be appreciated in the Northwest, and those who attend the exposition will be given every opportunity to enjoy it.

Advices from all parts of the Northwest indicate that many people are coming to the exposition who have not been in Portland for years. They will find that many improvements have been made here and that the city has grown. And they can see all these improvements at a cost of almost nothing in time and money, for Portland has one of the best street-car systems in the world. Electric cars vibrate to all parts of the city and its suburbs, and you can take a car every few minutes. Excursions to the beautiful city park, the heights, Willamette falls and other attractive points are thus quickly and cheaply made. At the city park visitors not only see a very pretty place, but also see a large collection of bears, cougars, wolves, alligators and other wild animals, besides eagles, owls and all kinds of feathered families.

The great Exposition building is being rearranged and made attractive, and every evening during the exposition it will be illuminated with countless electric lights, and the display along that line will be the grandest ever seen in the Northwest.

The farmers and fruit-growers of the Northwest are taking a very laudable interest in the exposition, and the display of their products will be large and creditable, and many special features are being arranged for their benefit and edification, and the farmers' wives and daughters will find in the exposition many exhibits and attractions that will be specially interesting to them, not the least of which will be the free cooking lectures by Miss Suzy Tracey, who is an acknowledged scientific expert in that line.

The solid and enterprising business men of Portland are all behind the exposition, and are pushing it along. They know that it is a good thing for the whole Northwest, and their committees are meeting every night to arrange for and engage new attractions and make the exposition beneficial to all, and the railroad and steamboat companies are going to give low special rates, so that all may come and enjoy themselves and be edified, instructed and amused. IMPROVEMENTS IN FLYING MACHINES.

Inventors are plenty who can make a machine that will rise and float in air, but the one improvement which none has succeeded in making is an apparatus that will guide the machine through the many treacherous currents of air. In this respect humanity is fortunate in having Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which acts as a safe guide by curing treacherous stomach, liver and blood diseases, giving a good appetite, a strong constitution and nerves like steel.

It has been proved, as the result of experiments, that the circulation of the blood is affected by music.

Crown and Bridge Work.

If you are in need of artificial teeth be sure they are modern and strictly up to date. If you have a few teeth do not have them extracted, but have bridges made. The L. L. White system of crowns and bridges is acknowledged to be the latest and best. All persons who are fortunate enough to have crowns and bridges made according to this system are delighted, and never cease in their praises of the comfort they derive from their new teeth. It also more perfectly restores the features of the face than any other method. This system of artificial teeth is more easily kept clean than any other. A large number of Portland people are wearing our make of artificial teeth and crowns, and several of them had worn crowns and bridges of other systems, and they assert that for comfort, cleanliness and artistic appearance nothing can equal the White system. Dr. White also uses all the latest electrical appliance for painless filling and extraction of teeth.
