OREGON CITY, JANUARY 18, 1899

"Contemptible Lying."

Under the above heading in the Oregon City Enterprise Senator Porter referred to his having received pay for more mileage than Senator Brownell.

As was to be expected the Honorable Senator denied the charge, but in his denial he makes some misstatements, of course it is merely an error, the Senator would not be guilty of anything contemptible or malicious.

There is no public reports of the expenses of the legislature, but on page 6 of the Daily Oregonian of October 20, 1898, appears a complete list of all the senators and representatives together with the mileage and amount allowed. In that report Senator Brownell is credited with 70 miles and allowed $70.50; Senator Porter is credited with 76 miles and allowed $71.40. The total number of miles claimed and the total amount allowed also appears. The completeness of the article stamps it as reliable.

In Senator Porters's article he states: "I filed no claim for mileage and drew but $70:50." As is well known the senators were allowed $3 per day for the 20 days of the session and 15 cents per mile traveled as mileage. The Senator having drawn, according to his own admission, $10 50 more than his own salary must have filed a claim for mileage. His memory has probably failed him owing to his efforts to secure a clerkship for a resident of Multnomah county.

A letter received from an Oregonian in Honolulu describes the condition of the men employed on the sugar plantations as worse than slavery. It is contract labor in the worst form. Poor, ignorant Japs, Chinese and Portuguese are compelled to labor long hours for a mere pittance and are treated worse than dumb animals. This matter is certainly worthy of investigation by our government. A test case should be brought to determine whether involuntary servitude can be inforced under the American flag.

Representative Thompson was in Oregon City during the recess of the legislature and stated he had no special legislation to bring up but would endeavor to prevent the passage of useless and evil measures with special attention to school laws. This is certainly more commendable than burdening the legislature with bills.

Senator Porter is a champion for the clerks. He introduced senate resolution No. 10, authorizing the appointment of two stenographers for the senate. The senate has already spent over $1400 for clerks, who have done little or nothing. Porter evidently believes that state money is for gratting purposes.

"The personal-political organ is in these later days a difficult affair to conduct for profit. It carries a dead weight that carries it down to weakness and unimportance."—Newspaperdom.

The Philippine insurgents are about to accept orderly government as planned by the United States. The only question is as to whether they will accept it with or without a fight.

High Lights.

Every day begins unhappily; we have to get out of bed.

Candor in a man cuts off old friends and holds off new ones.

Even faith cure advocates never try to run a furnace without fuel.

When a man knows music he isn't expected to know anything else.

Never speak ill of youself. Others are already working at the job real charity consists in being tolerant toward the faults of people we don't like.

A man can't fool his mother; but she never tells because she feels responsible for him.

If we could see ourselves as others see us we would take our oath it was somebody else.

A woman who is very pretty always makes other women discover how much more clever they are.

Advertisers and Advertising.

A furious shower does not soak in so well as a steady rain.

Does it?

A double column advertisement once a year is not so good as a half-inch 52 times a year.

Is it?

The parallel is fitting.

The first of the year is upon us. The time is ripe to make a contract for a steady rain of advertising. Let the water begin to fall with the next issue of The Press, it will begin to soak in at once; and as the weeks lengthen into months, you have watered your entire territory, and the ground will give forth an abundace of fruit.

Don't get funny at this argument, and say that after a while things would get too muddy.

We are not talking about deluges.

That's what these once-a-year fellows enjoy.

The highest praise Artemas Ward had for George Washington was that he "never slopped over."

Did you ever study mathematics, and learn that one and one make 2, 2 and 2 make 4, and 4 and 4 make 8, and 8 and 8 make 16, and so on?

Some of you never get above 1 and 1 makes 2.

You don't figure the cumulative powers of advertising.

You believe one good "old soaker" is worthy 20 "drizzles."

You don't realize that three-fourths of the water in an "old soaker" runs off and finds its way into the gutters.

Figure how much you are going to appropriate for advertising in 1899. Divide it by 52, and take so much worth for each week. Let us make a contract with you at once.

The water might freeze as it falls, but it will be there when the thaw comes in the spring.

CORRESPONDENCE

MILWAUKIE.

Miss Mary Dowling, who has been quite sick at her home in Milwaukie, was moved to the Good Samaritan hospital last Friday morning.

Rev. Fisher, who has charge of the meetings at the Evangelical church, is on the sick list and the meetings are stopped for the present.

F. O. Paine, who is in the employ of the East Side Railway Compnay as conductor, has been laid up for a few days with a sprained ankle. Dr. Sellwood is attending him.

J. Keck is quite ill from over work and getting too warm.

The school board had its monthly meeting Saturday and did considerable business as Mr. Scott was present and some delayed work came up before the meeting.

Many of our most prominent citizens are dissatisfied with the proposed new school law.

A meeting will be called later to talk over the cemetery changes All are not satisfied with the present conditions.

Milwaukie Grange met and initiated into the fifth degree the following members: Mrs. J W. James, Mrs. T. J. Anderson, Mrs M. J. Farnsworth, Mrs. Anna R. Stevenson, Mrs. O. S. Roberts, Mrs. E. Walsh, Mrs. F. Atwood, Mrs. M. A Johnson, Miss Anna Bryan, Miss Amelia Mullen, S. C. Priesely, Elmer Bunnell, Fred J. Rodgers, R. Scott, L. L. Moore, Wm. Wills, J. A. Dowling,, H. E. Holm, C. R. Wills, J. Irvin, John Walsh and Henry Stucky. A delicious dinner and supper were served by the ladies of the Grange, who are noted for their generosity when Grange day comes. In the evening an open installation was given and the following officers were installed: W. M., Mrs. M. S. Howard; W. O., O. P. Sharp; W. L., Geo. Stevenson, W. S., R. A. Sellwood; W. chaplain, O. Eaton; W. secretary, Mary A. Waldron; W. G., K. E. Hammond; W. F., Lilly Wills; W. L. A. S., Mrs. Ralph. The installing officers were J. S. Casto, lecturer of the state Grange, assisted by A F. Miller, of Multnomah county. Following the installation a program was rendered, which was as follows: Instrumental music. Mrs. F. Atwood; recitation, Miss Sadie James; song, Mrs. Roberts; song, F. J. Rogers; recitation, Miss Augusta Botemilier; instrumental music, Mrs. Atwood; recitation, E. Hammond. Although the Grange is composed mostly of farmers it is not dead as many may suppose. They are the most lively people in the world and no one enjoys eating and having a good time any more than they do. There was 69 members present and all took part and showed much interest in the work. Milwaukie Grange is among the best in the county.

January 14 WENS.

COLTON.

Mr. Countryman had the misfortune to lose one of his work horses this week. Mr. Woodruff also lost a horse last week.

There was a very pleasant dance at the residence of Mrs. Gottberg on the 7th inst. A delightful time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs Gorbett were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hubbard last Sunday.

Cusic Arquet has left this vicinity again.

A party was given at the residence of J. Gorbett in honor of Miss Media Hubbard's 19th birthday. There was a jolly crowd present and a good time was had. We wish Miss Hubbard many more happy returns.

Tinnerstat, Munson Company are taking advantage of the high water by running logs.

January 14.

GREENWOOD.

We have been having some webfoot weather again and the snow is a thing of the past.

Fred Rider, who has been visiting in Greenwood and vicinity, returned to his home in Inuependence Sunday.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones on Wednesday evening, the occasion being a surprise party given in honor of Mr. Jones, who lately returned from the mines. The evening was spent in dancing, after which lunch was served.

W. S Rider was shipping potatoes to the San Francisco market on Wednesday.

Born, on January 4, to Mr. and Mrs. C. McCornack, a daughter.

Enos Cahill is running his sawmill again for a few days.

January 11 VELMA.

LOGAN.

Last Thursday while W. P. Kirchem, of Lower Logan, was away from home his son Norval, aged 13 years, drove to the Clackamas river for a load of gravel, taking with him his brother, Carl, aged 5 years. They drove onto an island, but had not room to turn around so drove in the edge of the river but went out too far and were caught by the current and swept down the stream. They had a gravel bed on the wagon which soon went to pieces and the boys had to cling to some of it for safety and were drifted down the stream for over half a mile when they were taken near enough to the shore to allow the eldest boy to get on land and draw his brother out of danger. Saved, but nearly, frozen they arrived home and gave the alarm of the conditon of the horses, being unable to do anything for them themselves, but it was then too late and it is believed that on account of the swift current and the water being very cold the horses became chilled and stiffened rendering it impossible for them to swim out. They were found dead on a small island below the Clackamas bridge, a distance of about three miles from where they entered the stream. The front wheel and tongue of the wagon is all that has been found. It was surely by the hand of providence that the boys were saved and although the loss of the team is great as they were fine horses, we are very thankful that it was no worse.

January 15 MOONLIGHT.

ELWOOD.

January 1, raining and snow almost gone. Everybody enjoying good health.

January 2, snowing almost all day. People enjoying the fire side.

January 3, still snowing and no sleighs.

January 4, snow 10 inches deep and still snowing.

January 5, raining lightly almost all day, snow melting, very disagreeable travelling.

January 6, still raining all day, snow melting slowly.

January 7, clear and pleasant.

The taffy pulling at Mr. Coxes on the 30th ult, was quite a success, everybody enjoying themselves. About 50 were present, several coming from Colton.

James Kernes traded for a wagon a few days since. We think it would of been better if it had been a sleigh by the looks of the ground.

Marvin Park has traded for some geese, probably with the intentions of starting a goose factory. If geese remain as high in value as they are at present no doubt he will do well.

James Kernes, Feaster Lee and Henry Cadamaw, who have been taking a trip through the wild forest, report that it was disagreeable under foot and over head and very little game.

Mr. Shubert is under the weather. He killed four nice hogs on the 5th inst.

Mr Freeman has a horse sick with the staggers. Mr. Shubert also has two horses suffering with the same disease.

The people here will rejoice to see the snow leave as rain is preferable.

January 7 NEXT.

STAFFORD.

B. F. Weddle is taking some large stumps out of the field near his barn. As soon as he has them out he intends to start in on his young pear and prune orchard and pull up all of the trees. It is one of the nicest orchards in this community and has just commenced to bear, and it seems really a shame to destroy it, but every man to his own notion and this notion seems queer, but listen, it cost Mr. Weddle eight prunes to get one dried, does not that alone look discouraging?

Sixteen able bodied men met at the Widow Schiewe's on the 13th inst. and tore away the old line fences, made post, dug holes, hauled lumber and put up good substantial fences.

John Aden has been appointed, by request of a well circulated petition, supervisor of this road district. It is Mr. Aden's desire to make better side roads so that those in remote parts can more easily get to the main thoroughfares. He says: "The main roads have been getting it all, now give some to the side roads." Mr. Aden's attention should be called to the approach to the Shipley bridge on the Oswego and Aurora road, as it has become quite shaky and one side gives down considerably as teams pass ouer it.

The A. O. U. W. organizer, Mr. Allison, who has been in this vicinity since Christmas, has not yet succeeded in organizing a lodge, although there seems to be a great supply of young blood that ought to take hold of it and help push it along.

We would make notes of bad colds and light cases of the grip in this issue, but to do justice to all would be too much of an effort, so will merely say it appears we are not much better or worse off in that respect than other neighborhoods.

January 15 LOUISE.

OSWEGO.

Friday evening at their regular monthly meeting the school board elected Miss Gracie E. Edwards to teach the second grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Seghers, who reside with their daughter, Mrs. De Rauw, celebrated their golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Seghers are both 78 years old, and came to this country from France 14 years ago.

Willie Gower, who was sick in Portland with the measles, is well again.

I. B. Heninger left on a business trip to Baker City.

Dan Monroe is quite sick with pneumonia.

Miss Agnes Nelson commence da term of school at Spring Brook today.

Master Bertie Dyer, who has been quite sick since Christmas, is gradually improving.

Grandma Ingle is on the sick list this week.

Sunday one of the Oregon City doctors was called to see Mrs. Muckle, is who quite sick.

If any one thinks Oswego is dead let him visit our schools. Where in the world do all these children come from?

Last Sunday Emil, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, was seriously wounded in the forehead by the explosion of a gun cartridge.

January 16.

CANBY.

The last few years have seen the formation of many new fraternal organizations. That they seem to be a necessity is hardly open to question, and that they are a product of modern civilization cannot be denied. The desire of the promoters for office and the desire of the laity for cheaper rates of insurance are not wholly responsible for the growing number of such orders. In these days of civilization, wealth and population, the individual has largely lost his power as a social unit; he stands only in the aggregate and if he is not a member of one or more fraternal orders he may not stand at all. Such orders, while they seem to meet a present need, are reactive in their influence and tend to increase that which they intended to remedy.

The fact that the Canby water supply is inadequate for present needs and unhealthful is recognized by every thinking person in town. In view of this a mass meeting was recently called to consider the question of devising some system of waterworks. It is much easier to devise an approved plan for a public improvement than it is to devise an approved plan for the the expense incurred thereby. To secure good government and necessary improvements for cities at minimum cost is everwhere an important question.

The weather bureau is subject to criticism and even ridicule, but we should know and remember that changes in the weather are due to the working of natural laws the same as changes in seasons are due to similar causes. It is not asserted even by the chiefs themselves that they perfectly know and understand all the laws governing changes in the weather, but there is no doubt that they know enough to predict with a fair amount of accuracy. We must remember that the science of weather is a new one and that patronage and time will improve it, make it more exact, and thus increase its usefulness.

January 16.

MARQUAM.

A telephone message was received here Tuesday from Marquam announcing that N. P Hanson, of the firm of Mortenson & Hanson, was drowned Monday in Butte creek while logging. He was struck by a log, knocked into the stream and was not seen afterwards The body was not recovered. Mr. Hanson was 35 years of age. He leaves a wife and three children.

Miss Minnie Dunlavy, of Oregon City, arrived home Saturday to attend the bedside of her mother, who is improving in health.

Prof. Eby is progressing nicely with our school. There are 51 names on the roll.

Rev. Shulse, with several assistants, is holding meetings at this place and is having a good attendance. Mrs. Harless and O. N. Robbins, of Molalla, are attending.

Mrs. Young and her son Cas, are visiting relatives and friends here this week.

Miss Beulah Harmon left here today for Salem to stay with Mrs. W. L. Wade.

January 16.

SPRINGWATER.

Springwater is still prosperous.

Mrs Cunningham is very ill with throat trouble.

The Misses Albright, who came home to spend their Christmas vacation, returned to Portland last Wednesday.

P. Hall, of Canyon Creek, was seen in our town last Sunday.

B. Tucker anticipates having a large fruit dryer built in the near future.

We frequently hear the wedding bells ring and now and then the echo of the charivari guns.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blackburn, of this place, have gone to Canby on their wedding trip. They will leave shortly for Tillamook, their future home. We wish them joy through life.

Messrs. Livermore, who had their saw mill burned last September, will soon erect a new mill at the same place.

Next Friday evening, January 20, under the management of the Amateur and Literary society there will an entertainment given in W. J. Lewellen's hall. After the literary part of the program there will be a game of basket ball between the Springwater team and the Y. M. C. A. boys of Oregon City. A pleasant time is expected.

January 16 AN OBSERVER.

SANDY.

Sandy has been for the past week in pure white snow, but it is all gone now much to the joy of the old webfeet.

Sickness is now the main topic of conversation. J. N. Foster is very sick with pluriesy and A. Kotzman is down with pneumonia, while quite a number have the grip or the grip has them.

The Debating Society regardless of the bad weather was well attended and the question Resolve, "That Modern Improved Machinery is a Detriment to the Laboring Class" was enthusiastically discussed by the leaders, R. Jonsrud and Lewis Haughlum and there colleagues. The question was decided in favor of the negative side. After the debate an excellent program was rendered and then followed the election of officers, which are as follows: President, E. F. Bruns; vice-president, R. Jonsrud; secretary, Miss Tillie Bruns; treasurer, T. James; marshal, Wesley Bacon. The question Resolved, "That War Causes more Suffering than Intemperance" was the next one chosen.

The Christian Endeavor will from now on hold their meeting every Sunday at 3 p. m.
