

LOCAL NOTES

S. P. DeRoboam visited Medford last Tuesday.

T. J. Kenney was a Medford visitor last Tuesday.

Mrs. C. W. Conklin visited in Medford last Monday.

T. Cameron attended the State Fair at Salem this week.

Charles Nunan returned from his business visit at San Francisco Tuesday.

Otis Krause and wife of Medford visited relatives in this city last Saturday.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier of Griffin creek, last Friday, the 13th.

Mrs. T. J. Kenney and daughters, Miss Mervena and Francis, returned last Sunday from a visit at Roseburg.

Mrs. J. Russell and Miss Fannie Nunan have returned from an extended visit at their summer home at Newport.

Miss Bertha Allen returned to her home at Salem last Saturday, after having visited a few days with friends in this city.

Arthur Baxter, the San Francisco druggist, who has been at Cinnabar for several weeks, came in from that place the first of the week.

Miss Daisy Wetterer, who has been visiting her relatives in this city, returned to Albany where she will visit a few days before going to her home in Portland.

C. K. Textor of Milwaukee, Wis., came to Jacksonville last Sunday where he took the stage for the Blue Ledge district. His father is one of the principal superintendents at the Blue Ledge mine.

Louis Nicholas Brautlacht, once employed as a butcher in Jacksonville, committed suicide in Portland last Saturday night by taking carbolic acid. Insane jealousy was the cause of his rash act.

A jolly crowd of Jacksonville's young people "picnicked" at Ray's dam last Sunday, among them being Misses Anna Wendt, Emma Wendt, Gladys Shaw, Cora Basye, Mary Peter and Messrs. Ed. Wendt, Roy Ulrich, "Sandy" Sanderson, Charles Dunford and Troutwine.

P. J. Ryan is having a couple of his buildings on California street, opposite the P. J. Ryan store, remodeled, repaired and repainted which, when completed, will be rented. The buildings are in a fine location and when they are put in suitable condition there will be a fine chance for some small business to locate therein.

M. H. Price was in from the Mineral Hill mine Saturday. He brought some fine samples of ore, a great deal of which contains plenty of free gold visible to the naked eye. Some of this ore runs as high as $3200 per ton, but there is only a small stringer of this grade. However, it is expected it will widen as depth is gained. The Mineral Hill has some excellent showings all over, and Messrs. Price and Van Syckle, the owners, are sure to have a good thing in their property.

Miss Dorland Robinson received first prize at the Fair at Grants Pass for her sketches from nature. Miss Robinson's work with a brush would win the blue ribbon at most any kind of an exhibition, for her sketches are really wonderful when it is considered that the young lady is only 14 years of age. Her recent portrait of Miss Marion Neil of Ashland is truly most remarkable life-like and natural sketch from life, and belongs in a class among the great artists. Miss Dorland has a great future before her.

Miss Leona Ulrich visited with friends in Ashland last Sunday.

Send your orders for sheet music to Singler's Music Store, Medford.

Mrs. H. C. Reagan of Medford visited her mother, Mrs. J. Huffer, in this city last Wednesday.

"In the good old summer time" is the greatest danger of fire. See Daily & Briggs for Fire Insurance.

Miss Clara Elmer has gone to Phoenix where she has been engaged to teach school at that place.

Miss Bertha Prim, who has been engaged to teach the Rock Point school, left for that place last Sunday.

George Henry began his duties as teacher of the school at Ruch Monday, Sept. 9. Hereports a good attendance.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society wish to thank all those who patronized the chicken pie supper Tuesday night.

Emil Britt received second prize for the best collection of scenic photographs at the Rogue River Fair held at Grants Pass last week.

Miss Flo Thompson went to Woodville last Sunday where she will teach a three months' term of school. She was accompanied to her duties by Miss Minnie Thompson.

Always keep a bottle of I. W. Harper whiskey in sight. Good to look at and good to taste; and what's more a benefit to your health. Sold by

E. H. HELMS.

George Neuber and T. W. Kelley returned from Butte Falls last Sunday evening. Mr. Neuber thinks there will be only a temporary delay in the affairs at that point and that it will be a good town next year.

Two carloads of supplies arrived here last Saturday for the Blue Ledge Mining company among which were several thousand pounds of steel rails which are to be used in laying the track in the various levels of the mine over which the ore will be hauled to the dump.

George W. Nelson, who has been employed by the Iowa Lumber & Box Co., at Medford, is taking his vacation and has returned to Jacksonville. George is one of the company's most trusted employes and since he has been working nearly a year without losing a day he is entitled to a few days lay off.

A. J. Percival returned the first of the week from Yreka, Cal., where he went to take out a hotel bar license for Hotel Percival at Eileen. Mr. Percival strenuously denies the report that the hotel has closed its doors, as was erroneously stated. He says that the cook resigned, from which the story grew, and that the hotel is doing more business daily.

According to figures given out from Grants Pass there were $12.75 spent in advertising, etc., for Jackson county at the Rogue River Valley Industrial Fair held at Grants Pass last week, while the gate receipts from Jackson county attendance amounted to $10.50. Five visitors from Jacksonville, seven from Medford and five from Ashland were in attendance.

Metzler's Electrical show which gave two exhibitions last Saturday and Sunday evenings proved to be the best entertainment that has appeared here for several months. Their machine is of the very best and latest manufacture and the pictures were exceptionally good. Jake Haughey, who manipulates the machine, proved to be a former resident of the town in which the writer of this did once reside, and so the show was particularly interesting to us, as Jake used to do most of his "showing" upon the hurricane deck of a spotted cayuse back in Colorado. Mr. Haughey is now a resident of Portland.

Mrs. Lewis Ulrich visited in Medford last Wednesday.

Correct clothes for gentlemen at the Toggery, Medford.

George Neuber visited at Medford the first of the week.

Mrs. Harry Luy visited in Medford the first of the week.

Mrs. Chris Keegan is in Ashland for a few days this week.

"Brick" Dunnington was a Medford visitor last Wednesday.

Banker C. C. Beekman was a Medford visitor last Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis visited friends in Ashland a day or two this week.

Mrs. John Orth was up from Medford last Wednesday on a visit with relatives.

Mrs. J. Buckley of Applegate visited her mother, Mrs. C. Ulrich, in this city this week.

Robert Finney has gone to the Blue where he will be employed in the mines this winter.

Lawrence Dutton is up from California on a visit with his mother, Mrs. C. H. Dutton.

Mrs. C. C. Beekman and daughter, Miss Carrie, went to San Francisco the first of the week to visit for a few days.

Jacksonville assembly of United Artisans held an enjoyable meeting last Tuesday evening. Watermelons and cantaloupes were served as refreshments.

Fletcher Linn is erecting a commodious frame dwelling house on his fruit ranch recently purchased from his father. Carpenter Fred Fick is doing the work.

Mrs. Howard Kilham and Mrs. E. B. Watson, who have been visiting their mother in this city, Mrs. E. J. Kubli, left Thursday evening for their homes in Portland.

The chicken pie supper at the M. E. parsonage last Tuesday evening proved to be a great success. The "pie" was excellent and everybody enjoyed the supper. The home-made candy booth was also heavily patronized.

Dave Thompson and Joe Wetterer have returned from Applegate and were successful, inasmuch as they brought some of the fish home with them. They were fine too, thank you, because the Post man was kindly tendered some of them.

C. W. Conklin and wife and Dr. R. T. Burnett and wife attended the wedding last Wednesday evening at the M. E. Church, Medford, of D. A. Forbes and Miss Anna M. Lawton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lawton and the groom is a young physician from the east. They will reside at Talent where the doctor will practice his profession.

A box social will be given at Orth's hall tonight by the young ladies of the M. E. church. Dainty lunch boxes filled with daintier lunches, put up by the handsomest young ladies in Jacksonville, will be sold at auction to the gentlemen. In each box will be a lady's name, who will be the buyer's partner for the evening. An enjoyable time may be had at one of these socials, particularly if each gentleman will see to it that his partner, whoever she may be, does not lack for all the deference due her, whether she be the one he desires for his supper partner or not. No matter, boys, whether the lady whom you secure as a partner, is old enough to be your grandmother or young enough to be your daughter, treat her as if she was THE girl, and you can't imagine how much better you will enjoy yourselves. Don't be displeased if you fail to get the lady of your choice for a partner; if you do you will spend a mighty dull evening.

George Lewis visited in Medford Wednesday.

William Bybee visited in Medford this week.

John W. Opp was a Medford visitor last Saturday.

A. D. Houston was a visitor at Ashland yesterday.

Mrs. John F. Miller visited in Medford last Wednesday.

J. M. Cronemiller was a visitor at Medford last Wednesday.

Mrs. W. R. Coleman was a visitor in Medford last Wednesday.

Miss Maud Byrne has returned from an extended visit in Seattle.

Judge Dunn and wife went to Ashland yesterday to visit relatives.

Mrs. C. Ulrich and Mrs. J. Buckley visited in Medford last Wednesday.

Miss Olive Crump visited this week with her parents on Poorman's creek.

B. Saltmarsh was in from Buncom the first of the week after a load of supplies.

C. P. Briggs went to Butte Falls yesterday for a few days' visit with his family.

Miss Emma Wulf went to Ashland yesterday to visit a few days with Mrs. Howard Norton.

Don't forget the "box social" tonight at Orth's hall. There is bound to be an enjoyable time, so go.

It is stated that the Iowa Lumber & Box Co., will shut down its mill next week, as their supply of available timber has run out.

Harold Kubli, who was kicked in the face by a horse last week, left for his home on Applegate yesterday. The lad is getting along nicely.

Miss Thompson of Portland, demonstrator for Economy fruit jars, held forth at Ulrich Bros.' store for a couple of days this week.

C. W. Conklin and Dr. T. T. Shaw visited Thursday afternoon on Applegate and returned with several nice trout. They say they caught them.

Miss Leola Farlow, of South Dakota, visited her cousin, Miss Issie McCully, in this city this week. Miss Farlow will teach in the public schools in Medford this winter.

Mrs. C. H. Dutton and family expect to leave today for Coram, Cal., where Mr. Dutton is employed in the mines. They will make their future home at that point.

The following additional pupils were enrolled at St. Mary's Academy this week: Miss Leona Bean, Bonanza, Ore.; Miss Grace Bennett, Dairy, Ore.; Miss Maud Jones, Medford.

Blaine Klum, the artist, was up from Medford yesterday putting up some more advertising signs in the U. S. hotel. Mr. Klum has had some very flattering positions offered him recently as advertising artist, but prefers to remain in the valley of the Rogue.

According to the Sherman Realty Co., of Grant's Pass, A. H. Carson is the "father of the grape industry in the Rogue River Valley." This is an error on the part of the Grant's Pass real estate firm, for the late Peter Britt of this city, father of Mayor Emil Britt, had a growing vineyard here before Mr. Carson ever saw the Rogue River valley—nearly fifty years ago.

Peter Applegate, county assessor and mining magnate, was here Monday on business connected with the affairs of the Buzzard Mining company, of Elk creek. Mr. Applegate, W. C. Leever and J. W. Merritt own a controlling interest in the group, which they have recently bonded to English capitalists. Work at the mine is being delayed on account of difficulty in getting machinery here from the East. Central Point Herald.
