Jos. McDaniel returned last Saturday from Roseburg.

Mrs. S. P. DeRoboam and Mrs. P. Ingram visited in Medford last Wednesday.

Miss Mollie Ray of Ruch visited friends in this city a day or two this week.

C. W. Conklin, "the furniture man," visited in Medford the first of the week.

Will Smith was up from Grants Pass last Saturday visiting a short time with friends.

Mrs. Ella Cook returned the first of the week from Applegate, where she has been visiting for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Haney and Mrs. Hersey and son have returned from their extended trip to Star gulch.

Mrs. Blaine Klum, wife of the brilliant cartoonist, of Medford, visited friends in this city the first of the week.

Monroe McKenzie of Portland, a former resident of this city, came in the first of the week on a visit with friends.

Mrs. Mamie Dox returned the first of the week from Klamath Hot springs where she has been sojourning for some time.

Walter Kitto, son of O. C. Kitto, arrived with his family from Idaho Springs, Colo., last Wednesday and they will make their home here in the future.

Dr. Fredenburg, the eminent physician of the Ashland sanitarium, was called to Jacksonville the first of the week in consultation with Dr. Robinson on the case of George Waite.

A part of the crew who were laying the new rails for the R. R. V. railroad helped to take up five rails last Tuesday morning, then demanded $2.50 per day instead of $2.00. The raise was refused.

A party, composed of Dan McQuade, Dave Cronmiller, Charles Duniord, Jr., Roy Ulrich, Mark Finney, Harry Helms, Pat Donegan and Frank Robison, spent Sunday at Gold Ray, on a fishing trip.

Rev. G. A. Gray, of Bellfountain, Ohio, and wife, came in last Wednesday. Rev. Gray is the new pastor of the Methodist church. Rev. Fleming has returned to California, where he will remain in the future.

A. T. Lundgreen, who came down from the Blue Tuesday, says that Mr. Williams, who is doing assessment work for the Blue Ledge company, recently uncovered a huge ledge of rich ore in one of the tunnels.

The stage to the Blue Ledge went over an embankment near McKee's ranch last Monday. None of the passengers were hurt, but the horses were badly crippled. The stage rolled about 125 feet. The accident was caused by the team becoming unmanageable.

Some malicious person laid a large rock on the railroad track below on last Saturday evening just before the construction crew came along on the handcar. The car was thrown from the track and one or two of the men were slightly injured. George Nelson was the principal sufferer. He was incapacitated from work for a few days.

Correct clothes for gentlemen at the Toggery Medford.

Prof. J. P. Wells spent Saturday and Sunday in Ashland.

R. T. Burnett went to Medford on a business visit Tuesday.

W. R. Coleman and R. T. Burnett spent Sunday at Rogue River fishing.

A. B. Ellyson and wife of Grants Pass visited last Saturday with friends in this city.

Mrs. Anderson and family of Berkley are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reames this week.

W. H. Gore, the progressive owner of the fish farm on the Jacksonville road was a business visitor in this city last Tuesday.

We will pay your car fare to Medford and return for every $10 or more spent at The Toggery—Medford's Fashion Store for men.

J. Parks, former postmaster at Buncom, has purchased the Bily Arthur ranch on Little Applegate and will live thereon in the future.

L. A. Harbaugh, of Honey Lake Valley, Cal., has leased J. Nunan's large ranch property adjoining Jacksonville for one year, and will take possession at once.

W. R. Garrett and family have gone to Buncom where Mr. Garrett will act as postmaster at that place. Mr. Garrett formerly conducted the boarding house at the Opp mine.

B. G. Phares and M. L. Spencer of Butte Falls were visitors in Jacksonville last Tuesday. The gentlemen are holding down a couple of homestead claims in that section, and are enthusiastic about their country.

At a regular meeting of the common council of Jacksonville held last Tuesday evening, a petition signed by a majority of the business men of the city, praying for the removal of the arch, owned by the Condor Water & Power company, which adorns (?) the corner of California & Third streets, was read and the Condor people were notified to remove the arch. No other business of importance was transacted.

The Iowa Lumber & Box company moved their mill to Tolo this week where several thousand feet of lumber will be sawed, after which the mill will probably be moved to the Butte creek country. All their timber near Jacksonville has been sawed into lumber and they were unable to purchase other holdings. Emil Britt owns several hundred acres of timber land adjoining the Iowa Lumber & Box company's property, but an agreement as to the price could not be reached. The entire crew went to Tolo to assist in the two-months' sawing.

Miss Emma Wulf visited in Medford Thursday.

Mrs. Louise Caughthran went to Sebastapol, Cal., the first of the week on a business visit.

John Beckner was brought in from Thompson creek Thursday evening quite sick. He is at the Lyden house.

C. P. Briggs left yesterday morning for a ten days' visit at Portland and points in the Willamette valley.

Emmett Thompson, wife and child were in Jacksonville last Thursday purchasing supplies from Jacksonville merchants.

W. R. Tucker, the enterprising and progressive liveryman, moved his family into the Obenchain house, recently vacated by C. H. Dutton and family, last Wednesday.

Always keep a bottle of I. W. Harper whiskey in sight. Good to look at and good to taste; and what's more a benefit to your health. Sold by E. H. HELMS.

Mrs. Ed Binns and daughter and Miss Josephine and Edith Hoefs returned last Sunday from a few weeks visit to Newport. Mrs. Binns' health is somewhat improved.

John Lyden is soon to open a cigar store in the room recently vacated by the Post. This will be run in connection with his lodging house. He will also carry tobacco and stationery.

T. J. Beagle, the hustling Applegate farmer, brought some onions into town the first of the week that would get the blue ribbon prize most any old place. A couple of them are now in the Post's collection and one of them measures 17½ inches in circumference.

H. K. Hanna, Jr., has rented an office room in the Lyden building and will remove his law office to that place. Mr. Hanna is a hustling and enterprising young man, always with the best interests of the town at heart, and is making good as a reliable and conscientious attorney at law.

J. W. Wright has gone to Kane's creek to take charge of the McClendon sawmill. This mill has recently been purchased by eastern capitalists and is being fitted up with electricity, and other improvements added. They have enough timber on hand to keep the mill running for two years.

George Waite was removed from the U. S. hotel to the home of Mrs. Kenney where better care may be given him. Mr. Waite took seriously ill last Monday and his life is now hanging in the balance. It is stated that he is now suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Dr. Robinson of this place and Dr. Fredenburg of Ashland are in attendance and are doing everything possible to prolong his life.

Send your orders for sheet music to Singler's Music Store, Medford.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will give a ball and supper on the night of Wednesday, October 30th.

"In the good old summer time" is the greatest danger of fire. See Daily & Briggs for Fire Insurance.

Messrs. J. W. Mills, Lloyd Colver, and A. S. Furry of Phoenix, were business visitors at the county seat Monday.

Mrs. Chas. Dunford, Miss Mollie Britt and Mrs. Gus Newbury visited friends living in Central Point the first of the week.

Mrs. Pool and daughter, Miss Eva, of Eagle Point, were in Jacksonville Wednesday, where Miss Eva has become a student at St. Mary's Academy.

"Brick" Dunnington returned this week from Squaw lake on a hunting trip. He says George Buckley, the other day, killed the biggest buck he ever saw. He said it had nine rattles and a button.

See Dunford & Overholt about that 8-room, two-story frame house. Fine well—best in town—stone cellar, out-buildings, lot 100x100 feet. Ideal location, small fruits and berries in cultivation. Price $1300.

The sheriff's office has received advices from the attorney-general to the effect that the new tax law, enacted at the last legislature, will not go into effect, so the same procedure as heretofore will be gone through with. That is property upon which the taxes are not paid will be sold at a sheriff's sale and the delinquent tax list will be published in some county newspaper as has always been the law. The new law lacks several features to make it practicable, and it certainly would have been decidedly unpopular.

And who would have thought it! The sheriff of Jackson county has ordered all saloons to close on Sunday and gambling to stop. He is sitting on the lid, and says he is going to keep it closed. Bully for the sheriff of Jackson. We are beginning to believe the law is applicable in other portions of our state outside of our big cities. Jackson's sheriff thinks so at least. Sometime we are going to peep in our statute books and see where the dividing line is in Oregon that permits saloons open on Sunday and gambling as well.—Silver Lake Herald.

Fred Lockley, assistant editor of the Pacific Monthly of Portland was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday. Mr. Lockley has made a proposition to the Jacksonville Commercial Club to carry some advertising in the Pacific Monthly which will probably be accepted. He is also preparing to give Jacksonville's resources a write up to appear in that excellent publication. Fred Lockley is an old-time, warm friend of the writer of this, and we can say to the members of the Commercial Club that whatever Mr. Lockley tells them can safely be depended upon, and there is no man on the coast who can present the good features of Jacksonville in a more able manner than Fred Lockley.
