

LOCAL NOTES

Rev. Robert Ennis held services at Phoenix last Sunday.

Several cases of measles have been reported in town this week.

BORN—In North Bend, Oct. 25th, to the wife of Dr. R. G. Gale, a son.

Mrs. G. S. Epperson is visiting her daughter, Miss Lillian Henry, at Gold Ray.

Omar Conger left Saturday evening for Portland where he will remain this winter.

Mrs. Al. Steele and children have returned from Leland where they went on a brief visit.

Mrs. Gertrude Norton of Ashland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dunnington in this city.

The teachers of the Jacksonville, Ashland and Grants Pass public schools spent Saturday at Table Rock.

Blain Klum, the brilliant cartoonist and advertising man of Medford, visited in Jacksonville the first of the week.

Miss Clara Elmer came up from Phoenix Friday evening and spent Saturday and Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Elmer.

Mrs. Lucinda Anderson and children returned to Berkeley, Cal., the first of the week after having spent several weeks' visit with relatives and friends in this city.

President George L. Davis of the Bank of Jacksonville, left Monday evening for Portland on a timber land deal. He expects to be gone about ten days.

Charles Dunford, Jr., who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is reported to be slowly improving. He is not as weak as was expected and his fever is gradually diminishing.

Miss Lelah Prim, Miss Josephine Donegan, Miss Lola Farlow, J. Percy Wells and Earl Moore were the teachers from Jacksonville who attended the picnic party at Table Rock last Sunday.

Wm. Puhl has disposed of his Medford barber shop to Messrs. Murphy & Kennedy, and has returned to Jacksonville where he will manage the grocery store in which he is interested.

J. D. Clark and family of Helena, Mont., arrived at Jacksonville last Monday. They are looking for a suitable location for a fruit farm as well as other lines of business and the chances are very favorable for them to make Jacksonville their future home.

C. H. Ketching of Butte, Montana, visited in Jacksonville this week. Mr. Ketching was postmaster at Canyonville during the old stage days between Roseburg and Redding. He says he met ex-President Hayes and party when they made their memorable trip through Jacksonville. Mr. Ketching may locate in Jacksonville.

G. F. Krels and wife of near Pomeroy, Wash., have moved into the Ryan residence on Jackson St., and will remain here this winter. Mr. Krels was one of Jacksonville's prominent citizens in the early mining days, he conducting a wagon and wood worker's shop here. He with Henry Hoover used to give nightly concerts at the old concert hall. Both gentlemen were classed as fine singers and they never failed to draw a crowd. Mr. Krels is now the owner of a 500-acre wheat farm in Washington and is on Easy street. He is troubled with rheumatism and came to Jacksonville, where he always enjoyed good health, to see if his ailments would allow him to enjoy life. He left here to go to Washington in 1867.

The best grape land on earth for sale by Bank of Jacksonville.

Mrs. R. B. Dow visited relatives in the Applegate country the first of the week.

Henry Orth came up from Dunsmuir, Cal., last Wednesday on a business visit.

Miss Bertha Prim came up from Rock Point last Saturday on a day's visit with her parents.

Mrs. Josie Houston went to Beagle the first of the week on a visit with relatives.

Justice of the Peace-Cashier-Express-Agent H. G. Dox was a visitor at Medford last Wednesday.

Antone Rose is suffering from an attack of malarial fever, it is reported. He is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Clara Birdseye of Foots creek visited this week with her grand-daughter, Miss C. L. Reames.

William Broad came down from the Blue Ledge mine the first of the week to do some assessment work on his claims on Jackson creek.

Miss Daisy Huffer returned to Glendale last Saturday evening to resume her profession as trained nurse.

Wm. Jennings, the popular manager of the Sterling mines, was transacting business in Jacksonville last Wednesday.

Alex. Norris, who has been hauling lumber to Grants Pass from the sawmills, has returned to his home in Jacksonville.

Sheriff Jackson left Thursday evening for Salem with the burglar, Wade McDonald, who received a sentence of 15 months in the penitentiary.

W. R. Stansell is contemplating going into the real estate business in Jacksonville. He will soon open an office, we are informed, and offer inducements to homeseekers.

The much-despised and derided electric arch is now in the dim and joyful past. Chris Ulrich tore it down and hauled it away last Thursday, and the Halloween marauders purchased their supply of rope in vain.

D. H. Barneburg drove 200 head of cattle to the Ish pasture last Saturday where they will be fed for shipment. The cattle were sold to Mr. Hunt of Ashland and the approximate price received for them was $9000.

The ball and supper last Wednesday night was a decided success. A large crowd from Medford and Central Point was present and all are loud in their praise of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society. $91.89 was cleared, which will go toward repairing the church.

A jar of English walnuts was brought into this office this week by Attorney H. K. Hanna which were raised in Jacksonville. There are none in the market any better and as these were raised without irrigation it would seem that the nut industry would be a profitable one for this section. The trees grew from nuts planted in the Hanna yard and are only three years of age. Mrs. Hanna has several nut trees growing at her home. A few land owners around Jacksonville are intending planting English walnut trees here this fall.

Mrs. Ella Cook visited this week in Medford.

Robert Moore of Gold Hill was in this city last Wednesday.

George Lewis and wife were Medford visitors last Wednesday.

Dr. Kelsey of Gold Hill visited in this city the first of the week.

Mrs. S. R. Taylor has returned from her visit to the Willamette valley.

$31,000 will buy a stock ranch of 2000 acres. See the BANK OF JACKSONVILLE.

Judge Neil returned from a hunting trip in the Butte creek country Monday.

E. P. Bower, the miner, was down from Elliott creek this week on a brief business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tungate have returned from a visit with relatives at Grants Pass.

List your property with the Bank of Jacksonville.

Correct clothes for gentlemen at the Toggery Medford.

Attorney H. K. Hanna visited in Medford last Wednesday.

Send your orders for sheet music to Singler's Music Store, Medford.

Arthur Kleinhammer this week disposed of his ranch to Ralph Jennings for $7000.

David Linn is having his residence repainted this week by E. Hostetter, the artist.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pursel of Buncom were visitors in this city the first of the week.

Peter Deisch, the promising young attorney, spent a few hours in Medford last Wednesday.

Andrew Cantrall has sold his stock ranch to Arthur Kleinhammer for a consideration of $13,000.

R. B. Dow and Miles Cantrall went on a hunting expedition to Beaver creek the first of the week.

Have you any property to rent. We have calls for both town and farm properties. BANK OF JACKSONVILLE.

Magnus Hall and wife have returned from Shake, Ore., where Mr. Hall has been employed for sometime past.

We have buyers for town property if you want to sell. List your property with us. BANK OF JACKSONVILLE.

Have your roof painted before the rainy weather sets in. Hostetter will stop the leaks. Better see him at once.

At the special school election held yesterday T. J. Kenney was elected to take the place of Dr. J. W. Robinson, resigned.

Yesterday was a Catholic holiday in honor of All Saint's Day. Today is All Soul's Day, but is not a holiday for that church.

Mrs. Reta Dagger, well known in Jacksonville, was married recently in Grants Pass to Will Dana, a saloon proprietor of that place.

We will pay your car fare to Medford and return for every $10 or more spent at The Toggery—Medford's Fashion Store for men.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the Jacksonville postoffice: Tom Ball; I. N. Lewis; C. P. Marshall; Mrs. Ora McKinnis; Jacksonville Nursery; J. E. Olson; T. W. Tendick.

Next Friday bids will be received for the purchasing of the Jacksonville school warrants. From present indications it looks as though the warrants will be taken up by local people.

Always keep a bottle of I. W. Harper whiskey in sight. Good to look at and good to taste; and what's more a benefit to your health. Sold by E. H. HELMS.

A man by the name of Taylor was found dead in his bed at Jacksonville Thursday morning. He had been ill for a long time and came here only recently with his family for the benefit of his health. The remains were shipped to Woodville for burial.

Adolph Schulz is preparing to go into the implement business in Jacksonville. He will probably erect a building on one of the principal streets immediately. He has already ordered a consignment of wagons, buggies, plows, etc., etc., and will have everything running full blast by the time spring work opens. An implement store is something that has long been sadly needed here in Jacksonville, as none of the merchants carry any kind of implements in stock. One day this week a man wanted to buy a single tree and had to go to Medford to get it. Lots of trade is lost to this town because a great many lines are not carried by the local merchants.

Place names:
Will Kahler and wife, of Medford; Tom Kahler, of Medford; Martin McDonough and wife, of Medford; George and John McDonough, of Washington, and Gus Samuels and wife, of Medford.

The Post fruit display was greatly improved this week with a box of several varieties of grapes from Rev. Robert Ennis' vineyard. Rev. Ennis was asked by the writer to bring him a bunch of grapes, and, instead he brought a whole box. That is the kind of a man we like. When asked for bread he does not hand out a stone, but a whole loaf of bread. Mr. Ennis certainly has a fine vineyard, for never before was there any larger or handsomer grapes produced. He intends enlarging his vineyard several acres.
