

ELECTRIC RAILROAD

Captain F. L. Evans who is promoting the new electric line from Astoria to the Coast, is meeting with considerable success, and, according to the morning Astorian, men are in the field rushing the line to completion. When the surveying party staked out the route they had little difficulty in getting permission from the farmers. Jacksonville should have a road in operation today. Our citizens are too eager to consider worthless propositions and when matters of importance come up all we can say is that we "just got bit," and turn it down. Captain Evans had a good proposition for Jacksonville, but people were skeptical.

Jacksonville must have transportation facilities, aside from the stage and freight team. It is true that we have a very poorly maintained railroad that is no improvement over the stage and freight team. In fact the freight team will deliver freight from Medford here in better shape and for less money than the railroad will charge, again the freighters have families to support and spend their money in Jacksonville, they donate money liberally for the improvement of our city. Jacksonville supplies these families from cellar to garret, and our merchants are benefitted.

With an electric road connecting with the main line of the Southern Pacific the fruit growers in this district could ship their fruit much cheaper than they can haul. As it is all of the fruit raised in this district is delivered to the main line by freight team, on account of the exorbitant charges made by the company.

The condition of fruit after it has traveled over this road is enough to almost cause a man to use a wheelbarrow. The fruit is stacked in one end of the passenger car, which is also used for a smoker and void of seats, and as the passengers board the car, they comfortably repose on one of the boxes of fruit, and it is said that on several occasions boxes have been broken into. With the electric railroad this would be eliminated, freight would not be carried on the same car with passengers. The city engineer of Medford instead of having his freight for the quarry brought over on the railroad got teams and hauled it over, this shows how Medford appreciates the railroad management.

The Post is read all over the United States. Mr. Wm. S. Thompson, manager of a factory in Texas, is a recent subscriber. This issue reaches six easterners who want to get posted on Jacksonville. Three are from Minnesota, one yearly subscriber from Montana who says that if he locates here he will have his paper changed, one paper goes to Erie, Pa., and another to Chicago, Ill., who says that it is so hot in Chicago that one cannot breathe. There is some truth in this because we have read in the papers that hundreds of people have died from sunstroke in Chicago.

Ammie Walker, manager of the Woodburn branch nurseries at Central Point was in the city Monday. Mr. Walker intends to spend a few weeks in the mountains.

WHAT IS A DEPOT?

What is a depot?
The dictionary defines a depot as "a building for the convenience of passengers on a railroad."

Is the building erected by the Rogue River Valley railroad at Medford a depot?

Not in the dictionary sense of the word—not in any other sense of the word.
When the railroad obtained a special permit from the council to erect a wooden structure in the fire limits, it was with the promise that an "ornamental depot" would be erected, and the permission to violate the city statute given solely for the benefit of the public.

When the Southern Pacific leased the ground at a nominal figure to the Rogue River Valley Railroad company it was with the written agreement that it be used for passengers, for the benefit of the public.

The R. R. V. railroad has erected a building, a part of which is used as a freight depot, the balance as stores, which are rented. There is a restaurant and a nursery office, but no place for the passenger to stand or sit. Meals are sold and trees are sold but no tickets.

If the Southern Pacific will only lease its right of way at a dollar a year, we will all go into the business of erecting stores for rent on the city's main thoroughfare. But it won't to the rest of us.

The lease and the permit were evidently obtained under false pretenses, for the public hasn't a look in at this "depot."—Medford Tribune.

Harry Luy, Sam DeRoboam, Ray Sexton and Pat Donegan went out on Little Applegate last Sunday and returned with 275 nice trout.

THE MISSIONS OF CHARITIES

The present day workers of charity are becoming more obnoxious than the book agent, the type writer peddler or the patent medicine fakir. The past ten years has brought into existence every possible meaning of the word. We have "Boy's and Girl's Aid Societies," "Probation Court Officers, professors of sociology, a home for babies, and fallen women, and scores of other societies all directed to one goal.

In this day of organization and merging one would think it a wise move for charities to merge and save the annoyance and expense of the vast army of solicitors. The Salvation Army is doing a great amount of good along this line, in fact they are attending to the interests of down-trodden humanity in every sense of the word. This organization is sneered at by many, but it is today the foremost charitable institution of the day. They care for the poor, attend to the orphan, reason with the girl who is on the brink of the hell-dive of our larger cities, feed and clothe those who are unable to provide the necessities of life, they do not turn their backs upon those who are in the gutter but seek to elevate them in a true christain manner.

The church is finding that it has in large part lost its hold on humanity. Old-time view on woman suffrage, on political economy, are breaking up. That which today is happening, to the astonishment of many, is all down in the books, clearly foretold and mapped out.

I long to see the day when the benevolent and beneficary societies of today will no longer be a necessity, and this great universe will be one mighty organization for the assistance of humanity in a true and christain sense.

Let the motto "The Brotherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man" unfurl from the flag-staff of all nations and our armored cruisers and monster battleships will no longer be needed, and the greatest blessing to humanity will have been accomplished. If the minister from his pulpit would advocate these reforms the POST is earnest in its belief that a greater amount of good would be accomplished for christianity than is being done under the present system.

Equal rights to all. Teach, don't force, and you have gained the admiration of the masses.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do any thing. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by City Drug Store.

Don't forget that you should get the tokay grape printed on your envelopes, it will bring you returns.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1972 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of every ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by City Drug Store.

ASSAY OFFICE FOR FAIR

A branch United States assay office with the full machinery in operation, taking the gold in its natural state and converting it into the purified metal, will be one of the interesting moving exhibits at the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which will be held here, opening June 1 and closing October 15, 1909.

The assay office exhibit which will be installed in the Alaska building as it will graphically picture an important process in the principle Alaskan industry. Seattle already has an assay office, where since its establishment in 1898 up to July 31, 1907, there has been received and paid for gold to the value of $156,720,133. Every year millions of dollars worth of gold is shipped to this office from the Northland. It is the intention to have the exposition office a branch of the Seattle office. It will be equipped with a furnace and complete apparatus for handling the gold as it is taken from the ground until all all-ys and impurities are separated from it, and its exact value determined.

Some of the consignments which would be taken to the main Seattle office will be handled by the exposition office and the processes gone through with there. A showing of the amount of precious metals the Seattle office has handled since its inception will be made in a graphic manner. The amounts will be figured out in cubic feet and bars erected of the resulting dimensions, one representing the gold being gilded yellow and the other showing the silver cut but being colored accordingly.

Boy's Life Saved.

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up.
