OUR LOCATION

Jackson County is located in the southwestern part of Oregon and touching the northern boundary of California, on the old Oregon and California road traversed in the '50's and early '60's. The soil is deep and fertile, and retains moisture until the crops are matured, hence irrigation is unnecessary.

Rogue river, a stream laden with beautiful trout, flows through the northern part of the Rogue River Valley and the numerous mountain streams wending their way through all parts of the county reach this wild stream in its mad rush to the great expanse of the roaring Pacific.

Here, nestled in the midst of the greatest wealth producing valley of the world, is Jacksonville, the county seat of Jackson county, where the scenic view is suberb and the climate is all that one could ask.

The area of Jackson county is 3000 square miles, equal to that of the State of Delaware or Rhode Island, and at its lowest point is 1000 feet above the level of the sea.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendant, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment expect chonic dia rhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by City Drug Store.
