DON'T "LOAF"

How often we hear among men, and young men too, whose every movement is instinct with health and strength and whose eyes sparkle with mental force—the expression that after the days stop work is over people should rest to avoid decay. And "rest" in this case means giving ones self over to pure idleness, the first cousin to a regimen of bad habits, the reader can readily marshal before his minds eye. The idle are prolific in excuses for their criminality, for idleness is a crime, though it be not so termed in the police code. In printers we are not infrequently regaled by some wily old-timer with the dictum that it is wearing on his brain and eyes to read and think after a hard day's work. This may be harmless and solacing to the man tired of the fray and waiting for the call of "time." Not so with the young man; it lulls his conscience to sleep with its false assertions and affords plausible justification for the wicked conclusion it eventually leads to.

$10,000 TO BE RAISED FOR ROADS

(Special Correspondence.)

Anticipation fell short of the actual attendance and success of the Oregon Good Roads Conference held at the Portland Commercial Club on the 12th. From every corner of the state came men having the vital interests of Oregon at heart. It was decided to immediately undertake the raising of $10,000 for an intensely active campaign. Judge Lionel R. Webster of Multnomah county, and Judge John H. Scott, of Marion county, will lead in this work, devoting their entire time to it.

Another convention of national scope for Oregon next year is the welcome news that comes back from Des Moines Ia., where the American Association of Mutual Insurance Companies has assembled. This means between 500 and 600 delegates, the majority of whom have never visited the coast, since the Association has never held a Western meeting.

Rain was never more grateful to Oregonians than the showers of last Wednesday and Thursday, and messages from practically the whole state join in the thanksgiving. The danger from forest fires in the wooded sections has been greatly reduced as a result.

Four hundred thousand feet of lumber were bought by Swift & Co. this past week for the use on their township near the plant now being built. Twenty-five dwellings will be started immediately, some quite pretentious for the officers of the company. Hundreds of smaller homes will go up as rapidly as practicable.

Numerous meetings of the committee in charge of entertaining the Oregon athletes soon to return from London bearing their world records from the Olympian games, have resulted in a decision to send the sporting editors of the three Portland dailies East to meet the athletes and escort them to the Coast. Many unique features will be introduced in the parade and reception given here. The date will be early in September.

Hon. C. J. Blanchard, of the U. S. Reclamation Service, is in Oregon and will spend thirty days inspecting the various Government irrigation projects. He reports such a mass of inquiry at his home office that the clerks are scarcely able to answer intending colonists.

Poultry is to have its due recognition at the Livestock Show in September. Over $500 in prizes is offered and the interest may be judged from the fact that already over one thousand entries are booked. Poultry means almost $5,000,000 to Oregon annually.

Eagle valley, in Baker County, is planning a "Harvest Home Picnic" for the third and fourth of September. The whole county will join in the holiday the very name of the event guarantees enjoyment.

Secretary W. L. Crissey, of the Oregon State Dairy Ass'n has been advised that Hon. Ed. H. Webster, Chief of Dairy Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is contemplating a trip to the Pacific Northwest to participate in the convention of the Oregon Association December 10th and 11th.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for four years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by City Drug Store.

The Emerick serves meals at all hours. Everything neat and clean, prices reasonable. 11-1f
