Auditor In Charge Of Medford Phones

Auditor W. K. Merrill is in Medford going over the books of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company. He is in charge of the office.

George A. Patterson, who for some time has been in charge of the office, is reported short in his accounts to an amount between $800 and $1000. Patterson's mother said that she has made arrangements to pay the shortage. In this event the company will not prosecute. Efforts were made to raise the money locally last Saturday.

Auditor Merrill is reticent in speaking of the matter. He admitted, however, that there was a shortage, but that all arrangements had been made to cover and that his company would not prosecute.

Mr. Merrill stated that Patterson had worked for years for the company and that heretofore he had always borne a good reputation as is shown by the fact that he was appointed to his recent position. He was engaged in the same line of work in Ohio.

The Cigarette Smoker

Elbert Hubbard isn't the best authority in the world on all subjects, but he is unquestionably correct in pronouncing against the use of cigarettes, especially by the young. In a late number of the Philistine he says: "As a close observer and employer of labor for over twenty-five years, I give you this: Never advance the pay of a cigarette smoker, never promote him; never trust him to carry a roll to Garcia, unless you do not care for Garcia and are willing to lose the roll. Cigarette smoking begins with an effort to be smart. It soon becomes a pleasure, a satisfaction, an 'service to bridge over a moment of nervousness or embarrassment. Next it becomes a necessity of life, a fixed habit. This last stage soon evolves into a third condition, a stage of fever and unrestful, wandering mind, accompanied by loss of moral and mental control."

Inevitably cigarette smoking impairs health, lessens usefulness and jeopardizes happiness, and all without compensation worthy of the name. All smokers are not affected to the same degree, but there is none who would not be better off without the habit.

We wonder how many of our readers have noticed the difference between the man who has been married but a short time and one who has been married several years. You can always tell a young husband from an old one. When a man has been married a few months, you will generally see him working in the garden or fixing up about the house and while he works he whistles, or occasionally looks up towards the window to see if anyone is watching him. A year later he is still working in the garden but the smile has been exchanged for a frown and he occasionally looks up towards the house wondering why in thunder breakfast is not ready. Another year rolls by and his looks would sour milk, but he is still at work, stopping occasionally to kick the dog or throw a brick at the cat. The next year we find him sitting on the front porch, smoking a pipe, while his wife does the digging in the garden. Now just watch our young men, as one by one, they are caught in Cupid's net and see if this rule does not work out the problem correctly.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Colera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by City Drug Store.

fine or imprisonment, to sell tobacco to boys under 18 years of age. The district attorney is under obligations to prosecute all such offenders. District Attorney Mulkey is not looking for trouble but is looking for peace and happiness for this district. These laws were enacted for the purpose of elevating mankind, and is far more important than the liquor question.

If the prohibitionists would change their policy and open a was on the tobacco traffic among the boys more good would be accomplished.

ENTERPRISE VOTES

$30,000 BONDS

The small city of Enterprise is to have a municipal water system. The city council last Tuesday night, called a special election for September 12 to vote on issuing bonds not to exceed $30,000, with which to install a gravity water system.

They will pipe the water four miles from a group of springs 350 feet higher than the city.
