Wedding Joys

A happy party of distinguished guests came in an Auto, one morning this week to the residence of Rev. Ennis of Jacksonville, to renew former acquaintances and enlist his services. The party consisted of Mr. William Brown the prosperous merchant of Eagle Point, Mrs. William Brown, his wife, Miss Lottie Taylor, his sister-in-law, also his brother-in-law, and Mr. H. Clark Rippey of Portland.

The chief interest of the occasion centered about Miss Taylor and Mr. Rippey who in the pleasantest mood possible entered upon the marriage covenant.

The bride is known as one of the most highly respected young ladies of Eagle Point, whose future welfare will be followed by a host of friends, while the groom is a prosperous young business man of Portland, who is building up for himself a character which commands respect. We shall follow them with interest, and bespeak for them a happy voyage over life's matrimonial seas.

H. O. WILKINSON A FREE MAN

H. O. Wilkenson, of Medford was indicted by the grand jury for selling liquor to minors, and was arraigned before the circuit Saturday. The indictment was faulty inasmuch as it accused H. O. Wilkenson with the selling intoxicating liquors to minors without mention of the bartender. Wilkenson protested that he did not personally sell liquor to a minor and was discharged.

A "John Doe" indictment is in the hands of the officials charging the selling of liquor to minors. Just who this John Doe is a question interesting several of our citizens. The liquor was sold in Jacksonville, or alleged to have been sold.

This session of the circuit court will cost the county about $6,000, and the docket is the longest in the history of the county.
