We notice in the Postmaster General's report a suggestion that people writing letters should sign their full names and addresses to their letters, and there would never be a letter but what could be returned if it failed to reach the person it was intended for. The report suggests a better way than that, too, but one which is a little more expensive. That is to have a small card printed on the corner of the envelope. This will cost only a trifle, and if the letters cannot be delivered to the address, or the address should be wrong the letter would come back in the course of five to seven days, instead of going through the dead letter office, and finally being returned to the writer after a lapse of two weeks or more. The latter suggestion is much the best, and can be adapted at a very small expense.

The young men whose pockets are filled with cigarette wrappers, mustache combs, finger nail cleaners, miniature curling irons, looking glasses, etc., and have their mothers crease their pants every day, are not the ones who will make promising husbands. The pockets of those who are helping to make the country bloom and causing two blades of grass to grow where God planted but one, will be found filled with barbed wire staples, and different sizes of nails and screws. They are the boys the girls had better look after.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria scarlet fever measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by City Drug Store.

END OF THE PEACH SEASON HAS COME

There were practically no first-class peaches in the Front street market today, and the outlook is for but little more of this fruit this year. The season is ended. Figures on the quantity of peaches handled here this season are not available, for the fruit came from 20 or more points in the three Coast states and accurate records of shipments are not to be had, but local dealers say there is no doubt that the season just finished was the biggest in the history of the peach industry of the Northwest.

"Portland this year handled probably three times as many peaches as were disposed of in this market last year," was the comment of one fruit man, "and in all probability 50 per cent more than were marketed here in any previous year. The crop in the three Coast states was one of the biggest ever known, and that Portland figured largely as a market and distributing point for the fruit may be seen when it is stated that it was not an unusual thing at all in the busy season for this city to handle from four to six carloads of the fruit in a day.

"Portland by reason of its location, is the greatest of the Pacific Coast peach markets and there is probably no other city of its size in the country that every year handles a greater quantity of the fruit. Portland also is a city of homes, and I believe that no other place of its size consumes anywhere near as much of the fruit as this city. From the beginning of the season to date the retail trade has been enormous."

With the peach supply practically finished, other fruits are taking on greater activity, notably grapes and apples. California grapes are coming in freely, Tokays selling at $1.15 to $1.25 a crate, and other sorts from 60 cents to $1 generally. Oregon grapes are for the most part selling at 60 cents to $1 per crate, but as the result of the frosts of a week ago the crop in several localities will be light. In some sections of the state the yield of the fruit will be a little better than half of what was expected.

Fall apples of half a dozen sorts are coming in quantities and trade on the whole is satisfactory. Good apples are to be had at $1 a box, and only small lots of extra fancy fruit here and there bring better figures. Common fruit sells as low as 60 to 75 cents a box.—Telegram.
