COUNCIL MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

The Regular Monthly Business Was Transacted--Water was up for Discussion, no Definite Action Taken by Board.

At a regular monthly meeting of the city board of trustees held in the city hall Tuesday night aside from the bills allowed no business was transacted.

The proceedings of the council follow:

The cemetery committee reported on the condition of the railing, gate and toilet at the cemetery and was ordered to have the needed repairs made.

BILLS

Chris Ulrich, street sprinkling	$135.00
Chas. Dunford, lumber	8.00
Sam Walsh, labor	19.00
R. R. V. R. R., referred to street committee for correction	1.20
R. R. V. R. R.	1.20
Nunan Taylor Co.	.60
Union Livery Stables	15.00
Woods Lumber Co.	30.35
John Renault, labor	2.00
Total	$213.00

The street commissioner was instructed to notify the business men to have the streets cleaned in front of their respective places of business, the city to furnish a team to haul the garbage away.

The water problem was discussed but nothing definite was done. The proposition to bore for artesian water carried the most weight, and would probably be the cheapest. Some contended that sinking a large well down to bed rock and run cross-cuts in all directions would be the cheapest and best.

By drilling for artesian water the city would have to run chances of striking coal which would render the water unfit for culinary purposes. However if a good deposit of coal was encountered the city would not be out anything as the discovery would mean thousands of dollars to this city. Another obstacle in artesian wells is that about one out of 100 such wells are serviceable. Nevertheless the POST approves of the artesian well, if it don't prove valuable for water it will prove an excellent prospect hole and for this purpose may prove to be worth millions of dollars to our city and the cost will not exceed $2000.

BANK STATEMENTS CALLED FOR

The state bank examiner called for the statements of the two local banking institutions and the same appears in this issue of the POST.

The report show both banks in excellent condition. The deposits are much larger today in both banks than at the time of making the report.

MEDFORD CHARTER CASE ARGUED

Supreme Court Heard Arguments for Two Hours--Decision Will be Rendered in Few Weeks, Says Attorney for Respondent.

In the supreme court Wednesday the Medford charter case was argued for two hours. The case was heard by the court en banc, both commissioners and three supreme judges being present.

Attorneys Wallace McCammant, of Portland and R. G. Smith, of Grants Pass represented the respondent and Judge Colvig represented the appellant.

"I think the case will be decided at once say within two weeks," said Attorney McCammant.

This case will decide the local option question in this county until the next election.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE AT MEDFORD

Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, spoke to an enthusiastic audience from the platform of his car in Medford last Wednesday.

Senator Beveridge is an orator of the highest rank and explained the principles of republicanism in a manner which proved conclusively that he was an ardent student of good government.

Dr. J. M. Keene welcomed the distinguished visitor to Medford, who presented the Senator with a basket of fruit and flowers. The Senator took occasion to say a good word for the Rogue River Valley and said that he would do all in his power to secure an appropriation from the national government to assist in building a road to Crater Lake.

The train arrived in Medford about five minutes ahead of time and departed a few minutes late in order to give Mr. Beveridge all the time possible to address the large crowd gathered near the depot.

CALIFORNIA SARDINES

It is not generally known that on San Pedro Bay is located the only cannery of Genuine Sardines in oil put up in the United States. The small fish put up at various canneries on the Eastern coast are not to be confounded with the sardines that are caught along the southern Coast of California.

Professor David Star Jordan, President of Leland Stanford Junior University

writes of the California fish: "This species is everywhere known as the sardine, or by the Italians as Sardines. It is in fact, almost identical with the Sardine of Europe." The California Sardine Packing Industry can hardly be considered a new business for the State, although practically the entire pack is put up by one concern The California Fish Co., San Pedro and Los Angeles Cal.

In the year 1894 they put up their first of 4,000 cases. Since that time the industry has reached immense proportions, this season's pack amounting to 50,000 cases of sardines and Tuna or one million Five Hundred Thousand cans. California sardines are put up in oil and also in Tomato Sauce, Mayonnaise or Soused in spices' (mackerel style). California Sardines have become as popular and are in as great demand as California Canned Fruits and Vegetables.

A MIDNIGHT FRUIT MEETING

John Barrett Will Tell Northwest About South American Trade--Committee Working for 1909 Live Stock Show.

(Special Correspondence.)

The numerous Hearst publications have been personally represented throughout Oregon and Washington recently by Ray Washington Taylor, who is writing a series of articles showing agricultural, in part and horticultural actualities in this portion of the United States. Mr. Taylor is on the staff of the San Francisco "Examiner", but his stories will be printed in all the Hearst papers.

It is rumored that the fruit brokers of New York City got together recently, had a midnight meeting down in the sul-way, and decided that they were not going to pay fancy prices for Oregon and Washington apples. There was at least one commission man who did not attend this meeting, however he sneaked off to Hood River and bought 80,000 boxes. A grapevine telegram says that 150,000 more have been sold and eastern commission men have been plentiful in the Yakima, Grand Ronde, Wenatchee, and other fruit producing sections.

Hon. John Barrett, Director of the International Bureau of American Republics at Washington, D. C., who was in attendance at the National Irrigation Congress last week in Albuquerque, will be present at the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress at San Francisco, then comes North for a visit to points in Oregon and Washington. His addresses will be non-political and will deal with the creation and fostering of the trade of the Pacific Coast with South America, a subject upon which he has bestowed special attention.

The people of the Northwest, but particularly those of Portland, were not entirely satisfied with the attendance at the show of the Portland Country Club and Livestock Association, and immediately upon the close of that meeting a canvass was commenced for 1909 season tickets. The success of this campaign has been phenomenal. Tickets are $5.00 each, and it is proposed to sell 5,000 of them from the present outlook this can be accomplished without any trouble. It is the intention of the Committee to have guaranteed trains from points throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho to bring an attendance, including those from this city of 150,000.

Both Friday and Saturday nights' trains took good big delegations of people from the Pacific Northwest to attend the conference of Coast commercial bodies to be held in San Francisco this week, and also to participate in the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress.

With the money derived from cashing the check Hess, proceeded to imbibe quite freely and was soon pretty well intoxicated.

Later in the day the check was taken to the bank where it was soon learned that Clark had no money on deposit.

Chief of police Shearer was notified and he soon located Hess. He was placed under arrest and lodged in jail. At the police station the sum of $7.76 was found on Hess' person.

Mr. Clark, whose name was signed to the check, is a carpenter and at present is working at Phoenix. He was in Medford yesterday and when questioned about the matter most emphatically denied ever having issued the check.

There is a very noticeable similarity in the writing of the signature of the check and the indorsement on the back. The letter found on Hess, which he had written but not mailed the writing was similar to that on the check.

Circumstances are certainly very much against Hess, and if he cannot satisfactorily explain matters when he becomes sober he stands an excellent chance of being a guest in the penitentiary at Salem for a number of years.

SUDDEN DEATH OF J. A. JONAS

The entire community was shocked last Saturday on account of the sudden death of one of the prominent citizens, James A. Jonas. Saturday morning he got up as usual and asked his wife how she felt, she having had her hip broken some time ago, and replied and asked him to make a fire in the cook stove, and as he started to go he found that he could not move one of his legs, telling his wife so he remarked that the feeling was going all over him when he fell over. Mrs. Jonas ran to the door and called a neighbor. They managed to get him onto the bed and he never regained consciousness again, being completely paralyzed. He died on Saturday about 4 o'clock p. m.

James A. Jonas was born June 22, 1851, in Fayette county, Indiana, married to Rebekah H. Lazenby, August 29, 1877, and died October 3, 1908, aged 57 years, 3 months and 11 days. He leaves a wife, two sons, two sisters and one brother in Indiana, he being the youngest of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas moved to Jacksonville Oregon, in 1877, and bought land that is now situated in the town of Eagle Point, where they have resided ever since up to the time of his death. - Mail.
