"You're always kicking about our having too many laws. I suppose you would repeal the law of gravitation if you could." "No; that's always rigidly enforced. It's only the dead letter laws I'm after."

Point of View.

"What is the use," remarked the philosophical boarder, "of speculating concerning immortality?" "What's the use," broke in the sportive boarder with the turned collar, "of speculating in anything? You lose every time. That's my experience."

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

TEURET

Seeds All of It. "I never saw anybody as cool, self-possessed, and quick to act in time of imminent danger as that man Globbs." "Chaufeur!" "No; just a common pedestrian."

Declared Off. Said He—Darling, we have been engaged for six months. Don't you think it is about time we were getting married?

Said She—Well, I'm willing to be married just as soon as you can provide me with a home.

Said He—That being the case, I suppose I am to consider the engagement broken.

Jumping at a Conclusion. "What sort of play is this?" asked the man who had just come in and taken his seat.

The question was answered by a man named Olson, who happened to be sitting next to him.

"Ay tank—" "O, it's a tank drama, is it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Extremely Rare. "While I was downtown," said Mrs. Lapsling, laying aside her wraps, "I saw a wonderful old violin in a music store. The clerk said it was worth $5,000. It was a genuine Sardanapalus, and you know that kind is getting very scarce nowadays."—Chicago Tribune.

Wouldn't He? "Somehow," said the political manager, "I can't help wishing I could get acquainted with the chap that held up those 125 travelers in Yellowstone park a few days ago. Wouldn't he be a dandy collector of campaign contributions!"—Chicago Tribune.

In the Mission Sunday School. Teacher—And what do you suppose all the animals did during those forty days in the ark?

Smarty Williams—They just loafed around and scratched themselves.

Sandy Toole (disdainfully)—Chuck it, Smarty! What'd they scratch for, when there was only two fleas?—The Bohemian.

Quite the Contrary. Mrs. Upsome—Is your dentist one of the "painless" kind?

Mrs. Oylwell—Not at all. He's so sympathetic that he says it hurts him just as much as it does me.

Great Objector. Street Preacher—O, my friends, when Gabriel blows his trumpet what will you be doing?

Voice (from outskirts of crowd)—Waiting for Montgomery Ward to serve an injunction on him!—Chicago Tribune.

Explaining It. The tortoise had won the race.

"I didn't half try," said the hare, with a yawn. "What's the use? We're not allowed to bet on races now, anyway."

From which it is apparent that the real facts in the case were suppressed.—Chicago Tribune.

Reassuring Him. "Madam," said the guard on the South Side elevated, "this is the smoking car."

"That's all right, conductor," said the self-possessed matron, taking a seat. "Don't apologize. I know it's dirty, but one can't expect a smoking car to be a front parlor."—Chicago Tribune.

Apartment House Amenities. Third Floor Renter—When you buy coffee why don't you have the grocer grind it for you?

Fourth Floor Renter—When you buy a chuck steak why don't you get the butcher to hammer the daylight out of it for you?

Righteous Resentment. "You may put that back in the show case!" said the indignant Mrs. Lapsling to the milliner. "I wouldn't even wear much less buy, a hat named in honor of that horrid murderess, Charlotte Corduroy!"

None in Evidence. Mrs. Highsome—Yes, he's the Duke of Hufhouse. In speaking of him, you know, of course, we use the term, his grace.

Mrs. Suddyn-Klymer—His grace? Why, he hasn't any! He's a regular lummix!

Badly Rattled. The timid young woman, who had letters of introduction to the great man, had ventured to call.

"You are so busy, judge," she said, "that I—I hesitated about disturbing you. How many—er—days in the work do you week?"

Collateral Evidence. His indulgent grandmother had given him a half of a custard pie.

"You seem to like it, Tommy," she said. "Like it!" exclaimed Tommy, taking it away from his face for a moment, "jes' see how I'm mussin' up my ears!"—Chicago Tribune.

Knows Better Now. "If you wish to have everybody for your friend," counseled her elderly adviser, "don't be a talker; be a listener."

It was not until after she had secured a job as telephone girl in the central office that she found out what a mistake she had made in taking the advice literally.

Parallel Case. "My observation," said the sage, "leads me to the conclusion that the more wealth one gives away the more wealth one has."

"It's just exactly the same way with kisses," whispered one of his listeners, a demure little miss who was sitting by a big man with a beard.

OREGON STATE ITEMS OF INTEREST

WAR ON SHEEP PEST.

Wool Growers Will Urge Legislature to Increase Coyote Bounty.

Pendleton.—Heavy pressure will be brought to bear on the legislature when it convenes this winter by the sheepmen of eastern Oregon and the Willamette valley to secure a bounty of from $1 to $1.50 per coyote. The pest is already ravaging flocks in the western part of the state and its depredations will exceed those of any former years on account of its increasing numbers.

It is estimated that the coyotes during the past year have done over $1,000,000 damage to the flocks of the state, and the sheepmen believe that the only way to exterminate the pest is to provide a bounty to make their killing worth while.

In order to get the matter before the legislature the Oregon sheep commission in its annual report will embrace a recommendation of a bounty of $1.50 to be paid for each animal killed. It will point to the success with which that plan combatted the evil some years ago. The sheepmen of the state will also urge through their organization that such a bounty be given.

One-half of the sum paid, according to the plan now under advisement, will be paid by the sheepmen through a special tax levied upon them for that purpose. This is in line with the old law.

Until about six years ago Oregon paid a bounty of $2 per coyote. Under that system, according to Secretary Dan P. Smythe of the Oregon sheep commission, the coyotes were practically exterminated, and just at the time the bounty had ceased to be an expense of any importance the law was repealed. As the result the animals have increased until they are a plague greater than ever before in the state.

For the first time in many years the valley woolgrowers are with the men of eastern Oregon in this matter.

The need of the coyote bounty law will be discussed in this city Saturday at the meeting of the County Woolgrowers' association, and will also come up next week at the Hepper meeting. It is also probable that at the latter place the sheepmen will adopt the plan of organized fight against the beasts during the month of January, as during the past year when some 20,000 coyotes are estimated to have been killed in the one month.

Dirt Soon to Fly.

Klamath Falls.—Dump cars and engines have arrived in Klamath Falls and are being taken to the railroad camp on the Hot Springs addition. They are to be used in making the fill over the government canal and at the station grounds. A large force of men will be employed all winter on the cut and fill, as several acres of yards and switching grounds are to be filled and made ready for track laying. Two steam shovels are now working within sight of this city.

Eagle Valley Lands Booming.

Richland.—Land buyers from all parts of Oregon and Washington have been in Eagle valley during the last few days looking for farms. Few sales have been made, but it is expected that several will be completed soon. No land is offered for less than $100 an acre, and the better quality is held at $200 and $300. These figures are rather small than large. The railroad which is being built down the Snake river is the principal factor in causing the rush for land in this section.

Grocers Plan Big Meeting.

Portland.—The Oregon State Grocers' association will hold its third annual convention in this city January 6 and 7. It promises to be one of the most largely attended conventions ever held. C. B. Merriek, secretary of the Portland Retail Grocers' association, has just returned from a trip through the Willamette valley and the eastern part of the state and found the merchants at La Grande, Pendleton and Baker City more generally interested in the convention than ever before.

Loan Fund Increased.

University of Oregon, Eugene.—Through the efforts of State Senator R. A. Booth, of Eugene, $255 has been added to the student loan fund, increasing it to about $2,200. This fund is loaned to deserving students at a low rate of interest, and is often the means of keeping a needy student in the university. The donors were prominent business men of Portland, who did not desire to have their names mentioned.

New Road Pleases Stockmen.

Baker City.—Stockmen of the John Day and Burns country are pleased with the arrangement of the Sumpter Valley railroad, which permits stock to be shipped over that line in the future. The first stock train was run, from Austin to Baker this evening. Yards of considerable size have been built at Austin and will accommodate the large herds raised in the interior.

No More Stolen Rides.

Grants Pass.—The Grants Pass council has passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for boys to "steal rides" on automobiles, hacks, trucks or delivery wagons. Several boys have been badly crippled by catching onto moving automobiles and wagons, and these accidents have resulted in this ordinance. Boys who violate the ordinance are subject to a fine and imprisonment in jail.

Find 700 Lost Sheep.

Pendleton.—Seven hundred head of ownerless sheep, valued approximately at $2000, have been found by E. B. Carille, of Unity, Baker county, and are being held for the owner. So far no woolgrower in this vicinity can be found who has missed that many animals.

Find Bog Iron Near Salem.

Salem.—What is declared to be the first discovery of bog iron in the United States has been made on the Wilson farm, near here. There is said to be an immense ledge, of great value.

FARMERS WANT STATION.

Gilliam Citizens Organize to Secure Experimental Farm.

Condon.—The Gilliam County Improvement association held its first meeting last week, in this city. The body has been organized for the purpose of securing the location of the experimental farm station in Gilliam county, and to further the interests of the county.

The following persons were named as a committee to draw up the by-laws of the association: Hon. W. J. Mariner, George B. Duke, A. Meresse, H. A. Thiessen, D. B. Thomas and M. Fitzmaurice, with J. A. Smith as chairman. Men from every section of the county were present to discuss the question of the experimental station in this county as proposed by President Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural college. All were heartily in favor of securing the 300 or 400 acres necessary for the state authorities, and proposed that the land either should be rented or bought and given to the state to conduct the station.

To carry the work to completion the following persons were placed on the executive committee: D. B. Thomas, of Condon precinct; J. B. Goff, Lone Rock; W. S. Wade, Crook creek; W. J. Mariner, Blalock; Oscar Maley, Ferry Canyon; George B. Duke, Mayville, and J. L. Blalock, of Arlington, with the following officers: George B. Duke, president; Charles H. Horner, secretary, and D. B. Thomas, treasurer.

In order to be able to lease or buy the land necessary for the station, the organization will be incorporated under the state laws.

WANTS FEDERAL AID.

President Kerr Goes to Washington in Interest of Experiment Station.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis.—President W. J. Kerr has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend as delegate from Oregon the convention of Farmers' Institutes of the United States, and the convention of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations.

While in Washington, President Kerr will solicit the aid of the department of agriculture in the work of developing and improving farming conditions in eastern Oregon. It is his desire to have two or three experiment stations established in eastern counties. Six weeks ago President Kerr took a party of experts from the agricultural department on an extended trip through the eastern part of the state, and at that time received assurances of assistance from the federal government.

Ashland for Good Roads.

Ashland.—Judge John H. Scott, president of the State Good Roads league, will hold a good roads convention at Ashland on Tuesday, November 23. R. P. Neil is chairman, and H. F. Pohland, secretary, of a permanent good roads organization in this city. The executive committee in charge of the arrangements for the coming convention is composed of Benton Bowers, L. L. Mult, F. D. Wagner, J. P. Dodge and G. W. Dunn.

Establish Irrigating System.

Grants Pass.—The Josephine County Irrigation & Power company, the organization of which was perfected two weeks ago, and which is composed entirely of local men, has elected its officers and will at once proceed with the work of establishing an irrigating system for Grants Pass and surrounding district. The officers elected are: President, H. L. Gilkey; vice-president, G. H. Carner; secretary, J. C. Riggs; treasurer, G. A. Hamilton.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made entirely of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.

Statistics. In all probability the first administrative act of the first regular government was to number its fighting men and to ascertain as nearly as possible what amount of taxation could be levied on the rest of the community. As human society grew more highly organized there can be no doubt that a very considerable body of official statistics must have come into existence. We know that such was the case in Greece, Rome and Egypt, but it was not until within the last two or three centuries that systematic use of the information available began for purposes of investigation rather than mere administration.—New York American.
