GOOD ADVERTISEMENT

The Portland Commercial Club has shipped twenty boxes of Oregon apples to four European rulers. The express on the apples amount to $100, but what better advertisement could we get for our fruit. The account will be printed in all the leading papers in the United States as well as in Europe, and eventually Oregon apples will be a fad in court circles. Should this be the case we may expect $25 or $30 a box for the choice packs. The value of the apples in the Portland market is $4 a box and with the express added they are worth $9 a box delivered.

THE R. R. V. R. R.

The R. R. V. R. R. company has openly defied the state railroad commission. The commission ordered certain improvements made, but the company has done nothing.

If Medford is entitled to a depot Jacksonville is equally entitled to one. The passengers who use the depot at Medford should be accorded the same accommodations in this city.

The state railroad commission is a needless expense to the state, inasmuch as they accomplish nothing. The shipper must make the complaint, he must prosecute the case, the commission draws a $4000 salary, each, and gets the credit (for doing nothing.)

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The opposition to government control of these great corporations makes its most effective effort in the shape of an appeal to the old doctrines of states' rights.

The proposal to make the national government supreme over, and therefore to give it complete control over, the railroads and other instruments of interstate commerce is merely a proposal to carry out to the letter one of the prime purposes, if not the prime purpose, for which the constitution was founded. It does not represent centralization.

I believe that the more farsighted corporations are themselves coming to recognize the unwisdom of the violent hostility they have displayed during the last few years to regulation and control by the national government of combinations engaged in interstate business.

There are many matters affecting labor and the status of the wageworker to which I should like to draw your attention. As far as possible I hope to see a frank recognition of the advantages conferred by machinery, organization and division of labor; accompanied by an effort to bring about a larger share in the ownership by wageworker of railway, mill and factory. In farming this simply means that we wish to see the farmer own his own land. We do not wish to see the farms so large that they become the property of absentee landlords who farm them by tenants nor yet so small that the farmer becomes like a European peasant.

The depositors in our savings banks now number over one-tenth of our entire population. These are all capitalists who through the savings banks loan their money to the workers—that is, in many cases to themselves—to carry on their various industries. Postal savings banks will make it easy for the poorest to keep their savings in absolute safety. The regulation of the national highways must be such that they shall serve all people with equal justice. Corporate finances must be supervised so as to make it far safer than at present for the man of small means to invest his money in stocks. There must be prohibition of child labor, diminution of woman labor, shortening of hours of all mechanical labor. Stock watering should be prohibited, and stock gambling, so far as is possible, discouraged. There should be a progressive inheritance tax on large fortunes. Industrial education should be encouraged.

There is one matter with which the congress should deal at this session. There should no longer be any paltering with the question of taking care of the wageworkers who, under our present industrial system, become killed or crippled or worn out as part of the regular incidents of a given business. The object sought for could be achieved to a measurable degree, as far as those killed or crippled are concerned, by proper employers' liability laws. As far as concerns those who have been worn out, I call your attention to the fact that definite steps toward providing old age pensions have been taken in many of our private industries.

Pending a thoroughgoing investigation and action there is certain legislation which should be enacted at once. The law passed at the last session of the congress granting compensation to certain classes of employees of the government should be extended to include all employees of the government and should be made more liberal in its terms. In this respect the generosity of the United States toward its employees compares most unfavorably with that of every country in Europe—even the poorest.

The terms of the act are also a hardship in prohibiting payment in cases where the accident is in any way due to the negligence of the employee. It is inevitable that daily familiarity with danger will lead men to take chances that can be construed into negligence.

I renew my recommendation made in a previous message that half holidays be granted during the summer to all wageworkers in government employ.

I also renew my recommendation that the principle of the eight hour day should be rapidly and as far as practicable be extended to the entire work being carried on by the government.

I most earnestly urge upon the con-

EATON FINED $25 BAKER PAID $5

William Eaton was arrested early Sunday morning in Medford and fined $25 for disorderly conduct, being unable to pay the amount he was obliged to remain in the city bastille.

Andrew Baker was picked up and charged $5 by Recorder Collins for a night's lodging.

Eaton was made a trusty and was sent out to work on the streets Wednesday with another fellow prisoner, he did not seem to like his job and came home, although he was registered for twelve days. It is not likely that the authorities will do anything further in the matter.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by City Drug Store.

EAST SIDE BANK MONEY LOCATED

About $2,400 was received through the mail wrapped in a newspaper, by Charles L. Price, of Ogden Utah.

On discovering the contents, Price at first thought that he would not say anything, but his conscience failed him and he turned it over to the postal authorities.

It is thought in police circles that a man by the name of C. L. Price was implicated in the robbery and that the money had been sent to him at Ogden and fell in the hands of another man by the same name.

The roll of money was sent from Portland, this fact together with the large denominations and the manner in which the money was sent is strong evidence that the money was taken from the East Side bank.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by City Drug Store.
