Jacksonville Post

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF JACKSONVILLE, OREGON

Published every Saturday by the Post Publishing Co. J. B. Barnes, Editor

Admitted as second-class matter at Jacksonville, Oregon.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1909.

SUBSCRIPTION One year, by mail, $1.50.

A farmer near our town recently hired a lad to help him do chores. One morning he told him to take some salt and salt a calf out in the pasture. The boy took a quart of salt with him and thoroughly rubbed it all over the calf, working it into the hair. A gang of colts in the pasture scented the salt and got after the calf. They licked all the hair off the calf and nearly took the hide off too.

The Happy Farmer

A certain class of newspaper men assert that a farmer is the most independent man on earth, and that he has nothing to do but enjoy life. That when winter comes and the blizzard's on the wing he toasts his feet in the oven and reads the local newspaper and the only thing that disturbs him is a call three times a day to a banquet of mince pies and other luxuries. It is a mistake. The industrious farmer begins work long before the sun thinks of getting up. With his soul shrouded in gloom he proceeds to build a fire and soften his boots with a sledge hammer. He then takes a lantern and shovels his way to the barn and feeds the hogs. It is then time to feed the newly arrived calf, which seems to delight in butting a pail of milk over the tiler of the soil until he only needs to be stamped to pass for a package of oleomargarine. He crawls through a barbed wire fence and digs the hay out of the snow, feeds the cows, cleans the stable, gathers up the frozen chickens, chases a stray pig worth 25 cents for four miles, and does not catch it, doctors a sick horse, freezes his fingers, gets kicked by a one-eyed mule, and when the gloaming comes and quietness broods over all the earth, he has a single half hour to meditate and wonder how he will pay his taxes.

FORWARD

One at first thought can hardly realize the vast strides made in the progress of this country in the past fifty years. Stop and reflect. Mankind is striving to devise a way whereby he can improve or perfect the vocation which he has undertaken, be it good or bad. The robber has become more shrewd, he has studied human nature, and when he commits a crime it is very difficult to place the responsibility on the right shoulders. Peace officers are, to a large extent, handicapped. He is elected by the people because he is well liked in the community regardless of his fitness for the position, and before he has mastered the situation his successor has been elected. Fifty years ago, yes 25 years would cover a sufficient period, a farmer would go to the postoffice and get mail for everybody in his community and deposit it in a large open box nailed to a tree in a convenient place. This box was never locked and everyone in the community would search through the box for a letter or paper addressed to him. No one lost any mail in those days because everybody was honest.

Crime has grown to such an extent that the government officials are obliged to order the lock boxes in the city postoffices to be kept closed and locked and have placed a penalty on anyone caught tampering with a box belonging to some one else.

Business methods have advanced more than has anything else. A man of ability can command almost an unreasonable salary. He must be a man of executive ability, one who is capable of advancing new ideas that will benefit the interests he represents. Proper and timely advertising is one of the requirements of the a prosperous business man.

RICH STRIKE

BY J. NORLING

Word reached this office that John Norling struck a large body of iron ore assaying 51% iron. The strike was made about one mile west of Jacksonville. Mr. Norling sent a sample of ore to the assayer a few weeks ago thinking that it was gold bearing rock, but it proved to be rich in iron.

With an unlimited amount of timber tributary to the strike and an excellent smelter site on the ground this may prove to be a valuable piece of property. We were unable to find Mr. Norling to verify the statement but the word came from a fairly reliable source.

BUTTE FALLS MERCHANT SHOT

M. J. P. Huges, a merchant of Butte Falls, was accidentally shot last Friday by his son. The son, Luther, had just entered the home and was talking to his father as he loosened a belt containing his revolver and cartridges. The gun fell on the floor and discharged, the bullet passing through the man's groin. The blood was stopped and the elder Huges is out of danger.

Progress of Civic Improvement.

All through southern California, reaching to points quite remote, there is a stronger trend toward public beautifying and preservation of natural beauty than ever before. Even down in the so called desert sections, the Coachella and Imperial valleys, where settlement and development of agricultural lands have heretofore occupied all available of both time and means, the work of civic improvement and civic beautifying is now under strong headway and able leaders. All the more important towns are taking up this work in a thorough and systematic manner. Even the rural residents are awake to the fact that to grow and market crops is not all of life, and to have the "desert bloom as the rose" is to become a reality in the very near future. From all parts of the California southland come reports of a great moral uplift manifested by the desire for better homes and home surroundings, which bespeaks in no uncertain tones that this end of the state will in the near future be one vast stretch of beautiful gardens made accessible to all who travel by tree lined roadways of perfect condition.

Agitate a new charter for Jacksonville. It is needed.

SPECIAL OFFER

To the readers of the the Telegram: We ask your co-operation during the coming year to help push The Telegram. We ask this with a good deal of confidence for the reason that every reader knows we have stood for nothing but what was the best for the State and the people. We have tried to make The Telegram something more than an independent newspaper. It has been that, it has been outspoken and plainspoken as well, but it has likewise been peculiarly the representative of the best thought and aspiration of the people. No paper in the state has taken such advanced moral grounds and none has fought so consistently for what was right and decent.

It is on the principle that we have done something to deserve it that we ask you not only to take advantage of the proposition we have to make you, but to be kind enough to pass it along to a friend or two with a recommendation to them to do likewise.

Once again we propose a special Mail Order Day, for February 1, 1909.

FOR THIS DAY ONLY you can secure The Telegram daily by Mail Order Day Rates, as follows:

The Daily Telegram (under this offer one day only) by mail, one year, will cost you $3.75.

Saturday Telegram only, one year, will cost you $1.25.

Subscriptions mailed on February 1, OR ANY DAY PRIOR, will be acceptable under this offer.

Hoping to receive a prompt reply, and that you will influence your neighbor to follow your example, we beg to remain

Yours very truly,
THE EVENING TELEGRAM
JOAN F. CARROLL, Manager.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says: "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines." The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. For sale by City Drug Store.
