THE NOMINEES

At the convention held Monday night for nominating candidates for the various city offices a very good selection was made. This is a thank's job. The marshal receives pay $50 per month—and must be on duty sixteen hours each day, including Sunday.

There will be considerable work for the new board to consider. About the first thing that should be brought before the board will be to collect the charter amendments and put them in pamphlet form. There are several amendments and possibly with the amendments the city would have a good charter.

We have been informed by an able attorney that no ordinance passed by the board since 1900 is legal. It appears that the legislature of 1901 passed an amendment to the charter which has not been lived up to. There has been no amendment since that time.

Two Kinds of Citizens

Patriotism manifests in many and various ways. Some people are willing to die for their country and a few are willing to live for their country—which is much harder. Some are eager to show their patriotism by holding a job at a fat salary and some are willing to vote the party ticket straight—just because it is the party ticket. Patriotism, says Walter Williams, is often another name for pride.

The small ways in which patriotism may be shown seldom attract attention. A soldier attacks the enemy of his country and we call the soldier a patriot. But it is patriotic also to eat down the weeds on your back lot. The soldier gives his life in a day, but the scientist who gives his life in a generation is also patriotic.

Two kinds of citizens are in every town, patriots and traitors. There is no middle ground of neutrality. Every man is in one or the other camp. The patriot does his full duty to the community, votes, expresses his opinion, takes part in meetings for civic good, bears cheerfully his portion of the community's work. The traitor lets the other fellow do the work and reaps benefit by the other fellow's patriotism. Treason consists of levying war against the republic—so says the foundation law—or giving aid and comfort to her enemies. He gives aid and comfort to the public enemies who does not assist in making better the community in which he dwells. He is himself a public enemy.

"We apologize for all mistakes made in former issues and say they were inexcusable, as all an editor has to do is to hunt news and clean the rollers and set type, sweep the floor and pen short items, and fold papers, and write wrappers, and make the paste, and mail the papers, and talk to visitors, and distribute type and carry water, and saw wood and read the proofs, hunt the shears to write editorials, and dodge the bills, and dun delinquents, and take castings from the whole force, and tell our subscribers that we must have money—we say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to those little matters, and getting our living on hopper-tail soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar and a patch on our pants, and obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper ain't worth a dollar anyhow, and that he could make a better one with his eyes shut."

A dearth of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not the fault of the publisher. Any live publisher will not fail to give all the local news worthy of note, therefore when the local department is short you should not rail at the editor, but remember you might have committed suicide, got married, quarrelled with your neighbor, stole chickens, let your team run away, or done a hundred other things to make a local item.

If a newspaper should publish current street gossip, or the hints and allusions of the best society in the community it would be ostracized and the poor editor horsewhipped or burned at the stake. Think a minute of the mean and low things you say about your townsmen and your near neighbor and imagine how it would look in print. Don't criticize the newspapers for what they print, but give them great credit for what they don't print. A newspaper that contains one-half the nonsense current among the best citizens, would be considered unfit to read. Honest!

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November 1st the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was, indeed, marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by City Drug Store.
