FAIR NOTES

In the record for energy and rapidity of construction established by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition the palm must go to the state of Oregon.

The work required successfully to accomplish a great fair, such as the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, is enormous and at no previous time has the feat been accomplished within the time set for the throwing open of the gates to the public.

The permanent buildings of which there are six, are ready for occupancy, and the exhibit buildings completed are: Agriculture, Fishery, Machinery, Manufacturers, Mining, Oregon State, California, Auditorium, Music Temple, Cascades and Geysier Basin.

All the work of grading, installation of water, gas, sewers, electricity and underground work is done. The vast area of lawns, shrubbery, flowers and landscape architecture has been perfected by the greatest masters of gardening art.

The liberal state appropriations have in several instances been increased and Oregon has added an additional amount of $25,000 to her first appropriation of $100,000.

The different state societies have requested the exposition management to set aside some certain day, on which the citizens of their home state will meet at the exposition grounds.

HARRIMAN TO HELP COAST

Wizard to Spend Millions in Northwestern Work. Chicago, Feb. 23.—A large part of the millions which the Southern Pacific management has decided to raise by bond and stock issues is to be devoted to a battle which Harriman is going to wage in the Northwest with James J. Hill and the St. Paul interests.

The state of Oregon is to secure railroads which were not dreamed of a few years ago and which will bring that state into the forefront of the Northwest in the way of future development.

Harriman will settle the Portland gateway fight by building his own line from Portland to Tacoma and using the Milwaukee right-of-way beyond that point to Seattle.

OREGON BRIEFLETS

The Dalles—John A. Seabury and his 7-year-old son, walked from Prineville to The Dalles, a distance of 123 miles, in seven days.

Salem—The State Railroad Commission has commenced proceedings against the Northern Pacific Railway Company, which announced an increase in rates of nearly 100 per cent to take effect March 1.

Albany—Kidnaped by friends, H. F. Wilkins, a prominent young man of this city, passed the first night of his wedded life away from his bride last week.

Salem—At a meeting of the joint committee of the Capital Water Commission and the Salem council it was definitely decided to establish a mountain water system for Salem, which will furnish not only this city but all of the state institutions with a supply of pure water.

Hillsboro—Morris Knudson, of near Sherwood, was fined $50 upon pleading guilty to trapping a beaver. Knudson stated that he was trying to catch a coon and the beaver sprung the trap.

Pendleton—Local and county organizations of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America were formed in this city Saturday.

Salem—The Oregon Academy of Sciences closed a two days' convention in this city Saturday afternoon.

La Grande—Last Summer a number of La Grande and Portland parties fled timber claims on lands in Wallawa county upon which squatters had settled and made improvements.

Baker City—There is fear that the searching party sent after Charles Hall, who mysteriously disappeared from his cabin in Cable Cove on February 3, has also been lost in the mountains.

Gresham—Acting under instructions from Washington, rural letter carriers are making a complete census of their respective routes.

Roseburg—The Douglas County Fruitgrowers' Association in convention here passed resolutions strongly condemning a real estate firm of this city who, in their pamphlets describing this county, gave the impression that irrigation was necessary to the raising of good fruit crops in this section.

Pendleton—A permanent home of its own is now being planned by the local lodge of Elks.

Eugene—John P. Colyer, convicted of forgery in Cottage Grove, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.
