

MANUFACTURERS BUILDING.

On the eastern side of Geyser Basin, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the handsome Manufacturers Building looks across the restless waters of the Cascades and the flashing foam of "Old Faithful," the reproduction of its namesake in Yellowstone National Park.

Its location is the most central of any of the exposition buildings, and its architectural design is especially fitting for the position it has been given. It was one of the first great exhibition palaces to be completed, and before the end of last year was ready for the reception of its vast collection of exhibits. It will house a magnificent assortment of the highest examples of man's ingenuity and invention, and within its walls will be gathered specimens of manufactured articles from the workshops of every nation of importance in the world.

It overlooks the finest of the formal gardens of the exposition, and its splendid line of pergolas, with their vine-covered columns and blossoming flowers, complete a restful and pleasing view. At no part of the grounds can be seen a more beautiful illuminating effect than is presented from the open pergolas during the late evening and early night. A million sparkling electric bulbs flash their white lights through the waters and, scattered throughout the greenery, hundreds of electroliers mingle their many hues with the riot of colors. Looking down the gentle slope of Rainier Avenue the floating craft of two lakes is brought into vision and adds the delights of a broad, light-sprinkled stretch of forest-enclosed waters to the whole effect.

NICKELL MUST PAY PENALTY

Williamson and alleged that Williamson performed the same act of which Nickell was convicted that of inducing settlers to sell their claims before final proof had been made. The circuit court of appeals, which sustained the Oregon federal court. An appeal then brought it to Washington. Thomas O'Day and Martin Pipes were Nickell's counsel. Lloyd W. WORLD'S EXPOSITION IN BOSTON

Exposition to Commemorate the Three-Hundredth Anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, Proposed to be Held in 1920.

The Boston Herald of April 19 announces the inception of a movement to commemorate by an International Exposition in Boston, in 1920, the three-hundredth anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrims and the founding of New England.

Steps are already taken to establish a permanent organization representing the financial, commercial, industrial, educational and religious interests of New England, for the consummation of the project and we can see no reason why it should not be brought to a successful issue.

New England, of all the sections of the U. S. has had no great Exposition. Philadelphia had the Centennial, Chicago, Buffalo, St. Louis, San Francisco, Atlanta, New Orleans, Jamestown and Portland have all had Expositions and it would seem only fair to give old Boston, "The Hub" and "Athens of America" a chance to show what it can do in providing amusement as well as instruction for the millions of sight-seers usually attending a world's fair.

CALL ISSUED FOR CONVENTION

Oregon County Judges And Commissioners Get Together—Horse and Cattle Sale on in Portland.

(Special Correspondence.)

The Oregon palate is never without a relish for a good warm soaking, growing rain, but never did it taste more like a full meal than during the last days of dry, record breaking April.

"Raise more hogs and get more wealth by sending the Oregon Brand of packing house products to every market of the world" is a motto that should be announced from every school and pulpit, and be emblazoned on the walls of every commercial organization in the state.

County Judge J. B. Messick of Baker County, upon the request of several county courts of the state, has issued a call for a state meeting of the County Courts and County Commissioners, at which it is expected to perfect a state organization similar to those existing in other states. Judge Lionel R. Webster, of Multnomah County, will act as Chairman of the Reception Committee, with power to name his associates. The gathering will convene at the Convention Hall of the Portland Commercial Club (6th floor) at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, June 7th, and continue through the day. An arrangement has been made for the County Courts and Judges to secure a point of vantage to witness the Rose Festival Parade Monday night and also the one Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday morning the convention will close its session, devoting the afternoon to the festivities.

County Commissioners, Sheriffs and Engineers have derived great benefit from their organizations throughout the entire United States, and it is certainly right that the County Courts and County Commissioners, who practically handle the public affairs of each county, should get together for the benefit of each other's experience. Oregonians don't wish anybody hard luck, but they never get sufficiently sympathetic, when the fruit crop fails in the older states, to "mark down" the price at which we "hold up" the balance of the world for its best apples.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Jacksonville.

Scores of Jacksonville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

K. Boaz, Retired, living on the East side, Jacksonville, Ore., says: "I suffered a great deal for several years from kidney and bladder trouble. The most annoying symptoms were the too frequent passage of the kidney secretions, over which I seemed to have no control and sharp shooting pains in the small of my back. My sleep was broken and my general health became greatly run down. I tried many remedies but was unable to obtain relief and my condition gradually grew serious. I was almost discouraged when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured a box at the City Drug Store. Within a week I felt the beneficial effects of this remedy and in a very short time, I was entirely free from the trouble. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and will do so on every opportunity."
