PATRONIZE YOUR HOME INSTITUTIONS

Some people complain because the merchants of their town do not carry as complete stocks as are found in the large cities. Did you ever ask yourself the reason why? It is because the merchant in the larger town receives not only the trade of his own town but also part of the patronage from the neighboring small towns—a patronage which should go to the home merchant and which would naturally assist him in building up a better establishment. When it comes to raising funds for public improvements in the town and community it is the local people who foot the bill, the merchants in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Portland, Medford and other cities do not contribute much to the funds of your city, nor aid in its improvement or advancement, while to the local merchant the interests of the town are identical with his own.

As to prices, a careful comparison of prices, quality, etc., show very slight differences between the local prices and those prevailing in the larger cities, in several instances the local dealer's price was the lowest, quality considered. A liberal patronage would enable the local dealer to carry a fuller line of goods, buy at lower prices, sell to consumers at a smaller margin of profit and build up establishments which will be creditable to the city and its people. Patronize our home institutions, they are reliable.

NOT AFRAID OF HIS RECORD.

Judge Dinmick of Clackamas County who has announced his candidacy for Governor at the coming state election gives the following excellent reason for the early announcement.

"I believe every candidate for an important office should come out early so as to give the people in every county of the state a opportunity to look up his past record as a citizen and business man."

Sore Nipples.

Any mother who has had experience with this distressing ailment will be pleased to know that a cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results. For sale by City Drug Store.

Criticism of the Lock Canal.

During the interval which has elapsed since the endorsement by an expert board of engineers of the plans upon which the lock canal at Panama is being built, we have made it a point to read much of the literature which has appeared in condemnation of the lock canal and in favor of one at sea level. This criticism has been distinguished more by the frequent, we had almost said the invariable, anonymity of the writers than in any arguments set forth. Why this modesty, and why should "An Engineer" or "An Eminent Engineer," or a "Specialist in Canal Construction" withhold from the public the immensely increased weight which would be given to his arguments by the publication of his distinguished name?

We have read these letters, mainly in the hope that some new facts might be presented which had hitherto been overlooked, and which would have a serious bearing upon the question of the relative value of the two types of canal; but we have to confess that we failed to find anything more than a wearisome reiteration of theories and propositions, and very little pertinent criticism of the actual facts as they were clearly set forth by the late Engineering Board.—Scientific American.

Engineering.

Reports from Washington regarding the lengthy cruise recently completed by the United States steamer "Cheyenne," in which oil was used as fuel, are to the effect that the vessel was able to steam faster than with coal, and that her steaming radius of 1,500 miles, which was her limit when burning coal, has been increased by the use of oil to 2,300 miles.

The final plans are now being prepared at Twin Falls, Idaho, of what the engineers claim will be, when completed, the highest bridge in the world. It will serve to carry the tracks of an electric road across the Snake River Canyon at a point a short distance below the great Shoshone Falls of that river. The under side of the bridge will be 700 feet in the clear above the water.—Ex.
