THE TOWN THAT PUSH BUILT

VII.—The Brainy Hardware Man

THIS is the hardware man who took
At the jeweler's ad. a careful look,
Then went and bought some trinkets neat
For a girl whom he thought was very sweet
And paid for them with the clothier's bill
That came from the furniture dealer's till,
Where it went when the dry goods merchant bought
And paid with the bill the butcher got
From the grocer who had settlement made
With money the honest workman paid.

P.S.—The local dealer who's up to snuff
Will always advertise his stuff.
