TANGLE CLEARED UP
Pacific & Eastern R. R. tangle cleared up Monday
John R. Allen takes up $100,000 worth of bonds.

The extension of the Pacific & Eastern railroad to the timber belt, the final winding up and adjudication of its indebtedness as well as the involved finances of the defunct Medford & Crater Lake road was arranged Monday when John R. Allen, of New York, owner of the Pacific & Eastern, paid over to Receiver J. F. Reddy of the Medford & Crater Lake railroad $77,425 for $100,000 worth of Pacific & Eastern bonds.

The Pacific & Eastern bonds had been turned over to Reddy by Receiver T. C. Devlin of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank in exchange for $81,500 worth of certificates of deposit on the defunct bank. The certificates represented the proceeds of the sale of the Medford & Crater Lake railroad to George Estes and associates of Portland.

The negotiations were completed at this city by Mr. Allen, Receiver Reddy, his attorney A. E. Reames, and Attorneys Franklin Griffith and S. B. Linthicum of Portland, who represented Receiver Devlin and Judge H. K. Hanna.

And he accepted the waists, too, but did not pay for them. Instead he wrote back that the work was unsatisfactory and suggested that the women send a dollar for a sample waist, so that they could see just exactly how the sewing was to be done and thereby learn how to earn much money in the future. In every instance the work was unsatisfactory. Certainly. That was the game. Some few of the poor women sent another good dollar after the first one, but most of them, it is pleasant to say, had sense enough to know that they had been bitten by a shark and did not need another bite to make sure of it.

Somebody complained, and Uncle Sam pounced down upon this mail order genius and put him in jail.
 Now, the moral is easy. Nearly any one of these women by a little looking about could have found work at waist making right at home, where they would have been sure of prompt and bona fide acceptance of their good work and prompt pay, according to the agreement. But instead of doing that they were caught by the cutely worded little mail order ad., and thousands of poor women would be caught yet if Uncle Sam had not caught the catcher.

Pioneers' Re-union
Held in Ashland, Thursday--
Jacksonville leads in number

The annual reunion of Southern Oregon pioneers was held at Ashland, Thursday. A large number of leading citizens of Jacksonville, Medford, Central Point and other districts were in attendance. This city, the first town in Jackson county, sent a larger delegation than any one town in the county.

Hon. B. F. Mulkey of this place delivered an interesting address and a good time prevailed. The Pioneers' Association was organized in 1896 and during all these years, Judge Silas J. Day of this city has filled the office of Secretary.

Following are the names of some of those attending from this place:
 Mr. and Mrs. Silas Day, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beckman, Mrs. E. Kenney, Mrs. Dora Harbough, Mrs. Charles Prim, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coleman, Miss Beekman, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. K. Ubbi, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ulrich, Mrs. A. Rose, Mrs. M. Taylor, Miss M. Brit, Mrs. Kate Hoffman, Mrs. S. P. Jones, Miss Louise Jones, Mrs. J. F. Miller, Ed. Day, Miss I. McCully, and Mrs. E. B. Watson, from Applegate were Mesdames J. H. Buckley, S. C. O'Brien and Miss Kate Buckley.

Judge Day read biographical memorials of the following named members who have died during the year:
 John Buckley, Applegate. William Bybee, S. P. Jones, Mrs. A. M. Berry Jacksonville, and Mrs. Abi Foundry, of Phoenix.

An excellent address was delivered by Irving Vining, a native son of Oregon who now resides in New York. A fine duet was rendered by Mrs. Mable Jacobs and Clyde Edgington. A fine banquet was served at noon and the exercises continued in the afternoon.

Fines if Paper is Loose on Streets.
 The Philadelphia council's highway committee has agreed on an ordinance which if passed by councils will make every householder liable to a fine of $5 if waste paper and other light materials are not placed in separate receptacles from ashes. Director of Public Works Stearns and Chief Benson of the bureau of highways have given their sanction to the ordinance, the object of which is to prevent the waste paper and other house refuse from being blown about the streets. The ordinance will go into effect early in the new year.

SWINDLING POOR WOMEN.
 Mail Order Shark Got Caught in the Nets of Federal Law.

Those who bite and are bitten are many and widely distributed. Recently a man was arrested by federal authorities in an Oregon town on the technical charge of misusing the mails to defraud. He was a mail order genius, also a crook of perfect proportions. He had figured it out, he said, that mail order advertising is so popular as to tempt the unwary, particularly the ignorant unwary, almost anywhere, from Massachusetts to Arizona—effete east and frontier.

Accordingly this enterprising person advertised that for the small sum of a dollar he would send material and instructions for making a dozen waists. The completed waists were to be returned to him, or, rather, to the high sounding "company" under the title of which he traveled, through the mails. Upon receipt of the dozen waists the maker would receive $3.00. A waist could be made in a few minutes, the advertisement said, by any woman.

Thousands of unsuspecting women sent in their dollars to this mail order advertiser. As a matter of course, practically all of them were poor women, most of them pitifully poor, who were willing to invest a hard earned and much needed dollar in the expectation of getting nearly $4 in return. The replies and the dollars came in from Maine and Florida, from Seattle and San Diego, from all over the country and even from Canada. This mail order shark accepted Canadian money without protest. Any sort of money looked good to him.

And he accepted the waists, too, but did not pay for them. Instead he wrote back that the work was unsatisfactory and suggested that the women send a dollar for a sample waist, so that they could see just exactly how the sewing was to be done and thereby learn how to earn much money in the future. In every instance the work was unsatisfactory. Certainly. That was the game. Some few of the poor women sent another good dollar after the first one, but most of them, it is pleasant to say, had sense enough to know that they had been bitten by a shark and did not need another bite to make sure of it.

Somebody complained, and Uncle Sam pounced down upon this mail order genius and put him in jail.
 Now, the moral is easy. Nearly any one of these women by a little looking about could have found work at waist making right at home, where they would have been sure of prompt and bona fide acceptance of their good work and prompt pay, according to the agreement. But instead of doing that they were caught by the cutely worded little mail order ad., and thousands of poor women would be caught yet if Uncle Sam had not caught the catcher.

HALLEY'S COMET
 Celestial wanderer comes this way after an absence of seventy-five years.

Astronomers the world over are sweeping the heavens every night to gain first view of Halley's comet which is due to appear after an absence of 75 years.

Attaches of the Lick observatory at Mt. Hamilton, Calif. are keeping a sharp lookout, ready and eager to obtain a photograph of the comet.

This comet has a will authenticated history dating back to the year 800, and prior to that date it is recorded in Chinese legends.

It is believed by some to be the Star of Bethlehem that appeared to the "Wise men of the East" some nineteen hundred years ago.
