The tract consists of 120 acres, situated on the slope adjoining the city and will afford ideal sites for suburban homes.

We are having some stormy weather and a little snow.

Harry Gilson of Buncom tarried in town Monday getting winter supplies.

Z. Cameron is busy picking his apples.

W. T. Bostwick and family of Upper Applegate spent Monday in Medford.

Lee Saltmarsh was over in the valley after a load of corn last week.

Ed Ryan of Colorado is visiting relatives living here.

We were all shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. C. D. Rifer at Ashland, as she was well known here and had many friends to mourn her loss.

Albert Learned of Jacksonville has been visiting friends at Buncom.

W. R. Garrett bought a load of fine apples for winter recently.

Oregon Sidelights.

The Glendale public school has 135 pupils.

Gold Beach Globe: Ye editor played the devil the other day in order that our devil proper could play Nimrod once more before the hunting season closed. As a result a fine fat venison hangs in our meat safe.

A farm of 234 acres lying along the banks of the Willamette on the Linn county side just across from Corvallis has been placed on the market for sale in five and ten-acre plats. This is river bottom land and suitable for market gardening.

East Oregonian: The people of Echo are now going to seek for artesian water. In no other way could they do more effective work for the development of that section. Artesian water, if found in proper quantities, will revolutionize this county.

Drain Nonpareil: The government seems to have a hard time getting a contract to carry the mails in this region. Whether it is too much bond or too little profit we don't know, but the mails must be in some way carried, if we have to build a railroad to do it.

Lakeview Examiner: Lawyer McGinn of Portland, who is defending Mr. Westcott is much pleased with the country about Lakeview. He says it has wonderful opportunities, and that Portland people have no idea of its value. He believes the coming of the railroad will bring it to the front with a bound.

Elliott Prairie correspondence of the Woodburn Independent: Some of the farmers are wanting a frost to kill the potato tops so they can dig potatoes. The early potatoes have about all been dug. Bert Kent reports having dug 400 bushels from one and three-fourths acres and not enough small ones for seed.

That Curry county is the home of the strawberry was demonstrated by a strawberry dinner served to friends by Mrs. J. W. Ostrander, on the 29th day of October, says the Gold Beach Globe. The luscious fruit was picked from the vines that morning. The vines are full of strawberries in all stages of development.

Newport Leader: Newport is soon to have a creamery. Ona and Kernville are to have cheese factories. Waldport has a new creamery. So it goes. Within the space of a very few years Lincoln county will be shipping butter and cheese by the car and boat loads. We have the climate and the soil for one of the greatest dairy countries in the world, so we may reasonably expect big things in the dairy business.—Journal.

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla, was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever. It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by City Drug Store.

BASKET BALL

Exciting game at U.S. Hall Friday night-Jacksonville High School defeats Central Point in great shape.

The Jacksonville High School defeated the Central Point High School at Basket Ball in this city Oct. 5th, the score being 20 to 5. The game was one of the roughest ever witnessed in Southern Oregon and to the casual observer would have passed as a foot ball field. Warden Ennis our center was the star of the game, although this is his first game his playing last Friday shows that he will soon be the best man in the team.

Chapman at forward played a fair game but was not up to his usual standard. He threw four baskets and in the second half was thrown to the floor, and injured, by his guard.

Coleman as usual, was the "Johnny on the spot" and gave us a pretty exhibition of basket throwing, getting five baskets, and one out of four fouls.

Withington also threw one foul. In fact all of the Jacksonville players did good work.

Dunlap, Central Point's center was very poor and his playing was entirely too rough.

In the second half Central Point's two forwards, Marshal and Kincaid, deserted their basket and bunched up at ours and Chapman's guard seeing this went down to the deserted basket, leaving Chapman in the clear. So under these conditions it is not surprising that Central Point was walloped to a finish.

PORTLAND LETTER

Oregon Cities to advertise opportunities--Centennial at Astoria in 1911--Direct steamship line to Antwerp

Portland, Ore. Nov. 11—(Special)—Under the banner of the Oregon Development League, the state has never taken a more decided forward movement in community publicity than now. With the various cities aroused and actively at work to advance their interests, the outlook is very bright. Never has there been a stronger advertising pulse throughout the state. There is a determination to set forth to the world the manifold advantages Oregon has to offer to the homeseeker.

During the past week, under the direction of the Oregon Development League, remarkable meetings have been held in various parts of the state. Tremendous interest has been shown everywhere.

Lebanon raised a publicity fund of $2500 at an enthusiastic meeting. The people of the city are united in the determination to exploit the resources of that section and are doing splendid work.

Corvallis has organized a woman's auxiliary that will make itself felt in many ways in furthering the efforts of the local commercial club in advertising Corvallis. A warm welcome is given newcomers.

Silverton people, at a meeting during the past week, raised a fund of over $2000 that will be still further increased. A strong commercial club has been organized with over 40 members and it is promised this number will be raised to 100 soon.

Scio and Jefferson are in line for their share of publicity, having each raised $600 for development work in their section. All are alive to the benefits of working together as a state league.

Laidlaw is active. The development league of that place is on the alert to advertise that part of Oregon and it is going ahead as never before.

Glendale, at a meeting Friday, showed a splendid get-together spirit and the people of that place are thoroughly wide awake and enterprising.

The centenary of the first American settlement on the Pacific Coast will be celebrated by Astoria in 1911 and plans for the affair are already being discussed. Descendants of John Jacob Astor will be asked to join in the commemoration of the planting of the first American city on the Pacific Coast by the founder of that famous family. The story of the founding of Astoria is told in Washington Irving's book of that name.

Establishment of a direct steamship line between Portland and Antwerp was announced this week and this new channel for commerce is important to the whole Northwest. Coast consumers will be able to take advantage of commodities brought directly here from the old world and the vessel will have large loading space available for carrying Coast products back to European markets.

Thousands of new settlers have come to Oregon and Washington during the period that the low one-way colonist rates were in effect and are now building permanent homes here. On the O. R. & N. lines alone, 7184 homeseekers came to the Northwest between September 15 and October 15. This is a very satisfactory increase over the travel of this kind during a similar period of last Fall, and shows that the tide of immigration is steadily growing stronger to this favored section of the country.

Local Option at Eugene.

In an opinion by Justice McBride the Oregon supreme court holds that the city of Eugene has the right to legislate against the liquor traffic, notwithstanding the local option law. It also holds that an offender who has been punished for violation of the local option law cannot plead the maxim of "once in jeopardy" as a bar to still further prosecution by the city for the same offense. In his opinion Justice McBride takes cognizance of the fact that the state university is located in Eugene, and declares that in college towns where numbers of young men are beyond parental restraint sumptuary restrictions are especially important. The decision is an affirmation of a decision by Judge L. T. Harris of the circuit court, and is a confirmation of the acts of the Eugene authorities in dealing with those who have insisted on attempting the sale of liquor where the local option law is in effect.

The decision is of much value to the citizens of Eugene. It ought to serve a powerful purpose as a deterrent to those who attempt an illicit liquor traffic in that city. All the law and all the decisions are against them. They can only do business in violation of law and at the hazard of punishment. If they must engage in the business, why do they not go to places where the traffic is not under the ban? Why do they not go to such places where they can engage in the business without fear of sheriffs, constables, magistrates, laws, courts, fines, penalties and jails, leaving Eugene to pursue unmolested the line of public policy its people have selected?—Journal.

MUST BE SOBER

Can't Marry if You're Drunk in Snohomish County, Wash.

Any man who desires to obtain a marriage license to wed in Everett, Wash., will have to convince P. T. Lee, auditor of Snohomish county, of his sobriety. When a man, visibly intoxicated, applied for a license Thursday, Lee turned him away.

"I am not familiar with the law upon this point, if there is a law governing my refusal to issue marriage licenses when requirements have been fulfilled," said the auditor, "but I know my duty and I will not issue a license to a drunken man."

The would-be bride, an attractive young woman, and her mother, were with the man and seconded his plea for the license.

"I have known this man for several years and he is not an habitual drunkard," pleaded the mother. "He met some companions and took a few drinks too many, that is all."

Lee was obdurate and the party left.

The meteor was still warm and ten feet of it projected above the ground. The spot where it fell is about half a mile from Lake Michigan.
