-:-JACKSONVILLE POST-:-

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1910

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

With two telephone companies in the field; two proposed electric roads; one steam railroad in operation, and a through road to the coast in prospect; a water system under construction and numerous improvements in sight; it looks as though Jacksonville was waking up to the needs of the hour. As a means toward the desired end, put down your name as a member of the commercial club now being organized and help the work along. You can help to make this city one of the best small towns in the state; why not do it NOW?

We understand that a new company has been organized for the purpose of constructing and operating an electric road to connect the county seat with other towns in the valley. It is proposed to ask the county court for a franchise for right of way over certain of the county roads for this purpose. If the franchise is granted it is said that work will begin at once.

The bill introduced by Senator Bourne, to amend the homestead laws as applying to lands in Oregon should be passed without a dissenting vote. The proposed measure makes the cultivation of the land, and an aggregate production of crops to the amount of $1500 a necessary requirement in order to obtain patent, instead of a residence provision as at present.

How about the commercial club? Have you decided to become a member and help along the improvement of your city? If not, why not?

Reason Enthroned.

Because meats are so tasty they are consumed in great excess. This leads to stomach troubles, billousness and constipation. Revise your diet, let reason and not a pampered appetite control, then take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. Try it.
