On Tuesday night, Mar. 15 the Jacksonville Assembly of United Artisans No. 60, entertained their Supreme Master Artisan H. S. Hudson of Portland Ore. his visit was one of pleasure to all who were lucky to be present. The reading he gave entitled "Not Understood" was very touching given in his congenial and sympathetic manner. The committee on refreshments served a dainty basket lunch consisting of olives, sandwiches, pickles, cake and delicious hot coffee, after which all enjoyed dancing which the Artisans are very fond of, until a late hour and all went home rejoicing hoping that Bro. Hudson would make his visits oftener to Jacksonville Assembly.

Madrona No. 12 Degree of Honor received this week the warrant for $1000. for the beneficiary of Lottie Rose who died Feb. 20, 1910, and whose beneficiary certificate was in favor of O. E. Rose her husband. Mrs. Rose was a beneficiary member of the Degree of Honor for just 13 years. But may she continue her good work in that Degree beyond, and may the God of love and truth strengthen and bless Madrona Lodge to continue our good work here on earth. RECORDER

Old Time English Elections. In old time England each constituency gave its representative in parliament a horse to carry him to Westminster and also paid his expenses on the road. These expenses, together with an allowance for each day spent on duty at the house of commons, generally at the rate of 80 cents a day, were refunded in one lump sum when the member returned home at the end of the parliamentary year. Sir P. Delaval totaled seven votes in an attempt on Andover in the general election of 1708. An item in his election agent's bill is typical of the reckoning he had to pay: "To being thrown out of the George Inn, Andover, to my legs being thereby broken, to surgeon's bill and loss of time and business, all in the service of Sir P. Delaval, £500." Lord Lindaff won Dungarvan in 1868. The item "547 whisky" caused him to protest faintly. "Begorra," said his election agent, "if ye want to squeeze a pippin like that ye'll never do for Dungarvan."

Real Sea Serpents. In New Caledonia sea serpents are frequently seen and sometimes captured. They are curious creatures, the head being very small and scarcely distinguishable from the body and the tail being formed like an ear. In length they are generally between three and four feet. In the jaw there are tiny glands containing poison, but as the mouth is very small it is difficult for them to bite, and the natives handle them fearlessly. A European traveler witnessed an experiment at Noumea which shows that under certain conditions the sea serpent can do deadly work. A rat was caught in a trap, and its tongue was grasped by a pair of pliers and placed in the mouth of a sea serpent. The serpent immediately bit it, and the rat died in four minutes.

Saved by Fireflies. The gigantic tropical fireflies which swarm in the forests and canyons of most of the low lying West Indian islands once proved the salvation of the city of Santo Domingo. A body of buccaners, headed by the notorious Thomas Cavendish, had laid all their plans for a descent upon the place, intending to massacre the inhabitants and carry away all the treasure they conveniently could, and had actually put off their boats for that purpose. As they approached the land, however, rowing with muffled oars, they were greatly surprised to see an infinite number of moving lights in the woods which fringed the bayou up which they had to proceed, and, concluding that the Spaniards knew of their approach, they put about and regained their ship without attempting to land.

How Good News Spreads. "I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabeth, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They affect a cure every time. They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's daily joy. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by the City Drug Store.

Convinced. "Do you think a college education helps a man in business?" "Sure. I've had two college boys here workin' for me durin' the past year, and I was afraid to discharge either one of 'em for fear they'd find fault with my grammar when I done it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Handsome Woman. Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

QUEER INDIAN BELIEFS.

The Five Worlds of the Bella Coola Sun Worshipers.

There is an odd feature in the theology of the small Indian tribe of the Bella Coola which inhabit British Columbia in about latitude 52. They believe that there are five worlds, one above the other, and the middle one is our own world, the earth. Above it are two heavens, and under it are two underworlds. In the upper heaven is the supreme deity, who is a woman, and she doesn't meddle much with the affairs in the second world below her. The zenith is the center of the lower heaven, and here is the house of the gods, in which live the sun and the rest of the deities. Our own earth is believed to be an island swimming in the ocean. The first underworld from the earth is inhabited by ghosts, who can return, when they wish, to heaven, from which place they may be sent down to our earth. If then they misbehave again they are cast into the lower of the underworlds, and from this bourn no ghostly traveler returns. The Bella Coola are sun worshipers, for Senex, the sun, the master of the house of gods, who is called the father and the sacred one, is the only deity to whom the tribe pray. Each family of the Bella Coola has its own traditions and its own form of the current traditions, so that in the mythology of the tribe there are countless contradictions. When any one not a member of a clan tries to tell a tradition which does not belong to his clan it is like a white man trying to tell another's joke—he is considered as appropriating the property right which does not belong to him.

SMOKELESS POWDER.

It Came Through Experimenting For High Explosives. The idea is very general that smokeless powder is being practically smokeless achieves its greatest end, but as a matter of fact its smokeless feature is incidental and was an accident. When the idea of modern long range guns was conceived it was at once apparent that the old black powder lacked explosive force, and thousands of experiments were made with various chemicals to procure a powder of high explosive properties, and this was at last accomplished. When the new powder was tried, much to the surprise of every one it was found that practically no smoke followed the explosion, though this could of course have been predicted had the question ever arisen. The volume of smoke from black powder is due mainly to the quantity of charcoal in the powder, an ingredient not found in the smokeless explosive. Smokeless powder, though a great boon to the sportsman, is of questionable value on the battlefield, so far as its smokelessness is concerned. The smoke clouds of old days were frequently most advantageously used to cloak movements of troops and batteries and really interfered with the enemy much more than with the troops creating the smoke.—Exchange.

CRAWFORD IN KILTS.

The Novelist's Remark When He Saw Himself as a Child. One of the best known guides in the capitol at Washington used to be Colonel Jasper E. Snow, formerly a Kansas City lawyer, who always sat in Republican conventions and voted for Blaine as long as there was a Blaine to vote for. Colonel Snow used to tell this little story of the late Marlon Crawford. He had met Mr. Crawford in Florence, Italy, and when the novelist came to Washington Colonel Snow was the first person who showed him the doors made by the novelist's father, Thomas Crawford. These are the senate bronze doors on the eastern portico. They represent scenes connected with the Revolution and the founding of the government. The panel representing Washington's reception at Trenton when on his way to his inauguration in New York contains among the populace portrait figures of the sculptor, his wife, his three children and Randolph Rogers, the sculptor of the main doors of the capitol. The novelist, who had never seen the doors before, quickly identified his mother and father. "Yes," said he, "mother used to wear her hair just like that." Then, gazing at the largest child, a Fauntleroyish figure in kilt, with long, flowing hair, he added speculatively: "But I wonder if I ever really did look like that."—New York Sun.

THE ONLY WAY.

"I wish I knew how to keep a servant." "That man across the way can help you." "Does he conduct an intelligence office?" "No; he's an embalmer."—Houston Post.

CAUSE OF THOUGHT.

"You look thoughtful tonight, Smith," remarked Brown as he stretched himself on two chairs. "Yes," said Smith. "I have just got a note from the landlady." "What does she say?" "She says that I must pay my board at once or her daughter will sue me for breach of promise. I'm thinking what I'd better do."—London Tit-Bits.

FORCE OF HABIT.

"You know that pretty salesgirl I took home from the dance?" "Yes." "Well, I stole a kiss." "What did she say?" "What that be all?"—Judge.

KARMA.

The Buddhist word "karma" means action or sequence. In Buddhist teaching karma is the law of cause and effect, according to which every deed receives its inevitable reward in kind. It is nothing more nor less than the Paulian doctrine, "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

COLONIST RATES TO OREGON AND THE GREAT NORTHWEST

The management of the Southern Pacific Co. (Lines in Oregon) takes great pleasure in announcing that the low rates from Eastern cities which have done so much in past seasons to stimulate travel to and settlement in Oregon, will prevail again this Spring DAILY from March 1 to April 15, inclusive.

PEOPLE OF OREGON

The railroads have done their part; now its up to you. The colonist rate is the greatest of all home-builders. Do all you can to let eastern people know about it, and encourage them to come here, where land is cheap and home-building easy and attractive.

FARES CAN BE PREPAID at home if desired. Any agent of the road named is authorized to receive the required deposit and telegraph ticket to any point in the East. REMEMBER THE RATES—From Chicago $33; from St. Louis $32; from Omaha and Kansas City $25. This reduction is proportionate from all other cities.
