School Notes.

As the school year draws to a close will give you once more the "school notes," make our bow and close the show for the year 1903-10.

The eighth grade examination is over, our pupils did well. Some were conditioned in one or two subjects. These will be taken over early in June. The following passed in all subjects. Hazel McClellen, Ione Caughthran, Frank Coleman, Clifford Dunnington, and Ruthetta Ennis.

The school will begin next year with a brand new set of teachers. Wm. M. Steine, now at Glendale, Ore. will be principal, Miss Collins, of White Hall, Ill., Miss Wilkinson of Athens, Ore., Miss Palmer of Ashland, and Mrs. Crouch and Miss Gillette, both home people, will work in the grades.

Of the present teachers, Mr. Joy turns farmer. He will put in his time raising peaches on his ranch at Astoria. Miss Lewis goes to her home in Astoria. Miss Elmer and Miss Neil will spend a year in study at the Oregon Agricultural College, Domestic Science we are told. Miss Donegan will teach in the Klamath Falls schools. Mrs. Peter will teach some of the little tots in the Medford Schools.

Next Thursday evening May 26th the high school and upper grades will give the operetta "The Gipsy Queen." This operetta was given to crowded houses, three nights in succession last year, by a high-school in a neighboring state. The pupils have been at work for some time on this program. They will all do their parts well. The proceeds will go toward a piano for the school.

The Board of Directors have added another year to the high-school course. This gives us work that soon should bring the school up to the level of the schools in the county.

The two tennis courts are being used a great deal. The pupils invested in courts and equipment nearly fifty dollars.
