JACKSONVILLE, JACKSON COUNTY, OREGON, OCTOBER 22, 1910

NO. 25

JULIA WARD HOWE

Died at South Portsmouth, R. I.
Monday, aged 91 years.

Boston, Oct. 17.—Julia Ward Howe, famous as the author of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maude Elliott, at South Portsmouth, R. I., according to a telephone report received here.

Mrs. Howe had been seriously ill for several weeks.

Julia Ward Howe was born in New York in 1819, and was extremely well educated for a girl of her time, in the early part of the nineteenth century. She married Samuel Gridley Howe in 1843.

All Mrs. Howe's life she stood out foremost in the ranks of good and sincere and earned the sobriquet of "America's grand old woman." She was a voluminous writer of prose and verse and was one of the brightest intellects of her generation.

Mrs. Howe was the mother of six children.

AN ORCHARD PEST

Easy method of eradicating the Jack Rabbit

Jack rabbits are an orchard pest that many fruit growers, whose orchards are not enclosed with woven wire fence have much difficulty in controlling. These rabbits are especially fond of the tender twigs of young fruit trees and even in the summer when other vegetation is plentiful will mutilate a young orchard by cutting off the tops. Melons is another delicacy with jack rabbits and they will flock into a patch so soon as the melons begin to ripen and eat the fruit with the avidity of pigs. The vegetable garden is also subject to their depredations. The cottontail rabbits are also a bad orchard pest, but they do little damage to field crops or gardens. Those rabbits do little damage to orchards during the summer the winter being their favorite time for feeding on young trees. Not being tall enough to reach many of the limbs they feed principally on the bark of the trees often completely girdling the trunks.

Both the jack and cottontail rabbits are very fond of salt, quite as much so as deer, sheep or cattle and they will seek for it with great avidity. This craving that rabbits have for salt makes it a very easy matter to exterminate them with poison by mixing strychnine or arsenic with salt. The mixture should be put on old boards or bark so as not to be too conspicuous and the board then placed in some secluded place where the rabbits frequent, but it must be protected so that stock can not reach it. This method of killing rabbits has been practiced by a number of Rogue River fruit growers and they have found it a success. John Kinkle and James Dodge, of Savage Creek Valley, have each had experience in the rabbit pest and they have with poisoned salt killed six and eight rabbits in a night.—Fruit Grower.

FALLACIES OF PROHIBITION

Discussed by Ex-Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, Wis.

Hon. David S. Rose, ex-mayor of Milwaukee, Wis., an orator of ability whose fame extends across the length and breadth of the American continent delivered an interesting address to an appreciative audience in the U. S. Hall, Saturday evening.

The subject of the address was "The fallacies of prohibition". The speaker presented the subject in many different phases, some being new to most of his hearers, and introduced statistics in order to prove the truth of his statements.

PORTLAND LETTER.

Oregon sheep against the world--Biggest cargo of lumber ever floated.

Portland, Or. Oct. 18, (Special)—Oregon not only raises the best sheep in the Union, but they will compare favorably with any in the world, in the of Geo. W. McKnight, of Vale, president of the Oregon Wool Growers Association. He expects this fact will be demonstrated at the coming convention which opens in Portland on January 4.

"We shall have the greatest sheep show ever held in Oregon," he said. "Our breeders will have a great chance to show their stock, and if we win in the coming competition they can safely take their sheep anywhere in the world."

The Portland convention of the National Wool Growers Association, which is the oldest livestock organization in the United States, will be the biggest in the history of that organization. The state association of wool growers will meet in Portland just before the National convention, the exact date to be determined later.

Oregon's apple show is receiving very wide attention. Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Ry., is taking interest in the coming exhibit and offers a cash prize of $250 for the best exhibit of apples from any district tributary to the Great Northern. Two cash prizes of $250 each will be presented for the best exhibits of apples. Fruit growers of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana will be eligible in these two classes.

The Lane County Apple Show, to be held at Eugene October 20, 21 and 22, under the auspices of the merchants and the Commercial Club of that city, promises to make a fine showing of Willamette Valley apples. A long list of prizes has been arranged and there is no fee for entries, of which there will undoubtedly be a large number. Lane County is growing apples that would be hard to beat anywhere, and the visitor to Eugene on the above dates will see these Valley beauties in their perfection.

The British tramp steamship, Knight of the Garter, cleared from Portland the latter part of last week with the biggest cargo of lumber ever floated at this or any other port. She carries 5,300,000 feet of fir lumber, weighing approximately 8,745 net tons and valued at $60,000. It is stated that to produce this one cargo of finished

PIONEER DEAD

Mrs. Minerva Armstrong came to Jackson County in 1849--Died Monday--Funeral Tuesday.

Mrs. Minerva Armstrong, widow of the late Rev. J. A. Armstrong, and one of the pioneer mothers and wives of southern Oregon, died at her home in this city Monday morning at 1:40 o'clock.

Mrs. Armstrong first came to Oregon with her husband in 1849 and settled near Jacksonville, where she has resided since.

She was born in Virginia, September 29, 1829. Mrs. Armstrong is survived by several grown children, among them being A. P. Armstrong, of Portland; M. E. Armstrong of Grants Pass and Minnie Emma Armstrong of this city. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

BIDS OPENED

For the construction of water work for Jacksonville.

Bids for the construction of a reservoir and pipe lines to supply water to the city of Jacksonville, were opened by the councilmen at the city hall Thursday evening. The meeting was well attended by our citizens as well as a number of representatives of well-known contractors from different parts of the state. Five bids, all in excess of the amount of bonds issued, were submitted and opened, but definite action was postponed until Friday evening.

The bids submitted for the construction of the system were as follows:

F. W. Dodge and Henry Wentworth, $32,351.40.

Addison & McKims, $38,783.50.

Clark-Henry Construction Co., $51,655.99.

Jacobson & Bodes $47,603.01.

Vincent & Baker, $49,702.36.

BOWERMAN AND HAWLEY

Deliver addresses at U. S. Hall, Monday evening.

Jay Bowerman, and W. C. Hawley, republican candidates for governor and congress, delivered addresses to a fair sized audience at the U. S. Hall in this city, Monday evening.

Judge Colvig of Medford introduced the speakers who proceeded to discuss the questions of the hour in an interesting manner.

Mr. Hawley in the course of his remarks enlivened the attractions of Crater Lake and promised to use every effort to secure appropriations for further improvements in the reserve.

The motor car made a special trip to Medford after the meeting closed in order to accommodate those who wished to return to that city.

A Contrast

The following article from an exchange shows the difference between the "old world" habits of Italy and American "push".

It is nearly two years since Americans put their hands into their pockets for Messina and sent men and materials to build a temporary town. It is natural to ask therefore at about this time what Messina has done to recover itself, the answer appears to be: Next to nothing.

According to last reports, the city, as seen from the sea, looks just as it did immediately after the great disaster. It is a screen of masonry behind which are dust and desolation, impassable streets and general slackness and incompetence.

The Sicilians are still boasting of the Messina that is to be. Meanwhile they lodge in the American huts, and not even the ruins are cleared away.

During these years San Francisco has rebuilt itself and is as lively, prosperous and hopeful as ever. What a difference in the two countries! What a contrast between the two peoples!

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted at the joint Institute of Jackson and Josephine school teachers.

WHEREAS the teachers of Josephine and Jackson counties assembled at Grants Pass, Oregon, October 12, 13 and 14, 1910, have spent three days with profit and enjoyment:

Be it resolved: First, that we extend our thanks to Superintendents Lincoln Savage and J. Percy Wells for the successful manner in which they have conducted this Institute and for the able instructors they have secured.

Second, that we extend our thanks to all of the instructors for their helpful services during this Institute.

Third, that we thank the Grants Pass School Board for the use of the High School building where our sessions have been held, and to the people of Grants Pass who have so kindly opened their homes for our entertainment we express our thanks and appreciation, and further that we especially extend our hearty thanks to Supt. Turner and his corps of teachers for the royal manner in which they have provided for our entertainment.

Fourth, that we extend our heartfelt thanks to our retiring State Supt. Ackerman for his general success in building up our public school system to its present state of excellency.

Fifth, that we the teachers assembled express our sincere regrets for the illness of Supt. Cameron of Ashland which has deprived us of his helpful presence during the last two days of the Institute.

Sixth, that the teachers of Jackson and Josephine counties believing that Rural teachers with their many classes and trying situations are in as great need of the help of a general supervisor as are city teachers, therefore we ask the legislature of Oregon to make it possible for each twenty districts in each separate county to have a supervisor which supervisor is to give one full day each school month to each school in his district.

Seventh, that we ask the State Legislature to provide copies of the State School Law free of charge for each teacher employed.

WHEREAS the highest attainment in intelligence and citizenship depends upon the efficiency of our public schools, which in turn depend upon the qualification of the school teachers of the land, and

WHEREAS the greatest proficiency of the school teachers depends upon special training therefor and no state seeking the highest grade of such efficiency has found so good a channel through which to accomplish this as the State Normal, and

WHEREAS Oregon stands as high in her ambitions as any other state and realizes her disadvantage in being deprived of her State Normal Schools by an act of the last legislature, and WHEREAS good schools are the foundation of good government and good citizenship,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

First, in the interest of the future of our State, we the public school teachers of Jackson and Josephine counties here assembled recommend the reinstatement of the State Normal Schools of Oregon by the next legislature.

Second, that such schools be so arranged as to accommodate the various sections of the state and that they receive the support of every patriotic citizen.

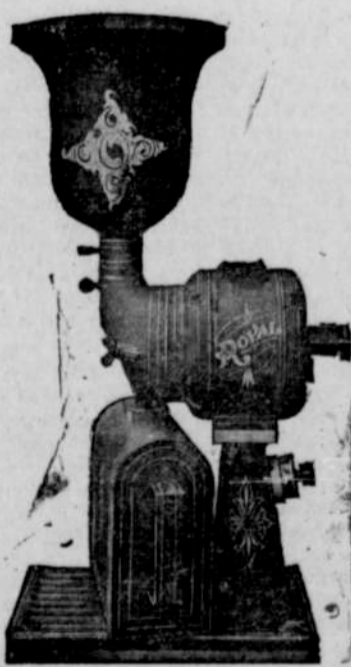

Third, that especially do we of southern Oregon plead for our own Normal under the sunny skies and amid the fruit and flowers of the Rogue River valley.

Fourth, we desire to plead in the interest of the children who are now coming on and from whom we must expect our ranks to be filled, that they shall not be driven to some distant state for their qualification to teach.

Fifth the cost of maintaining these schools is a mere bagatelle, only THE PRICE OF FOUR CENTS for each 1000 dollar of taxable property for the maintenance of the Southern Oregon State Normal school for each year under the present proposition.

We beg each voter to vote YES on NUMBER 340 as he will find it printed on his ballot.

To the Lover of Good Coffee

We wish to advise you that we have installed in our store a new Royal Electric Coffee Mill, which is being placed on the market by The A. J. Deer Co., of Hornell, N. Y. This machine is equipped with steel knives which cut the berry into uniform clean cut particles, instead of grinding and crushing it, as by the old method.

All Coffee Mills heretofore used will only crush the berry, mutilating the minute oil cells, allowing the Coffee Oil to evaporate, thus impairing the strength and flavor.

By this new process the little oil cells remain unbroken, the essential oil (food product), can not evaporate and the coffee thus retains its fine, rich, aromatic flavor in its full strength.

This is one reason why a pound of coffee cut in this mill will make from twelve to fifteen cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way. The Lover of Good Coffee finds here a richness of flavor never found in Coffee ground in the ordinary way at any price.

Another feature about this Mill is that you may have your Coffee cut as fine as the finest sand and it will still be practically free from that fine dust which is produced by the old method of grinding. You will, therefore, always have a clear cup of coffee instead of a muddy effect—a result of using the old style Mills.

Royal Cut Coffee is also adaptable for percolators or French Drip Coffee Pots.

Try a pound of our coffee cut on a Royal Mill and we know you will be pleased with the results.

Yours truly,
Ulrich Brothers
