JACKSONVILLE POST

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the court seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGS HAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1911

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

R. A. Ballinger has resigned his portfolio as Secretary of the Interior and his resignation has been accepted by the president.

The police court has been doing a land office business this week; several offenders having been gathered in by Marshal Jones were assessed various amounts which were in each instance promptly paid.

The city election passed off quietly only a small vote being polled. In every instance the old officers were retained which in view of certain complications regarding the tenure of office was the only logical thing to do.

In advance of the tourist excursions pushed by the railroads during March, home-seekers are flocking to Salem, and many sales of property are being negotiated, reports the Journal.

Over 100 letters of inquiry about land and city property for homes were received at the Eugene promotion office of the Commercial club, one day. The number of such letters is constantly on the increase.

A Eugene man has 25 Rhode Island Red hens which during the month of February laid enough eggs to bring $12 in cash, besides 240 which were placed into an incubator for hatching. He figures that they made him $35 during that month.—Journal.

The average woman gets more pleasure from talking about her new gown than she does from wearing it.

Before Mexico starts another revolution the leaders ought to establish a chain of shooting galleries and practice at a few targets.

California women are agitating the whipping post for delinquent husbands. Happily a very small minority is interested personally in the issue. Others do their own wallowing.

Had Governor Wilson forgotten all about Charlie Murphy when he said, "What we need is audacity."

Here's hoping nobody will forget to get ready for the spring whitewashing.

Like some eminent gentlemen in Congress, the prophetic ground hog is more or less liable to get his dates mixed.

That Mexican revolution is becoming almost a "amusing" as a French duel.

We discredit the story that in anticipation of Mr. Morgan's visit, the price of pyramids in Egypt "has riz."

"A Milwaukee woman disappeared rather than marry a man with only $13." Served him right. Why did he not raise another dollar or spend a nickel of the $13? He ought to have known that some women are very superstitious.

"Officials are servants and not masters of the people," declares Walker County (Ala.) News. What an unsophisticated "has been" our contemporary must be.

The Chicago girl who offers to marry any man who will give her brother $5,000 to build an aeroplane has rather flighty ideas regarding a matrimonial contract.

All the Mexican revolution needs is a tent over it and a man at the door to charge admission and take the tickets.

Now that Miss Gould is off our hands let's get down to tasks.
