:-:JACKSONVILLE POST:-:

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1911

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

We still maintain that the one thing most needed in order to bring new people here to live, is a water system with an abundant supply of good pure water. Several parties of ample means are ready and anxious to purchase lots and construct residences, (not shacks) the moment that an adequate supply of water is assured. Given the water—the rest will follow as a matter of course and the five years following the installation of the system will witness the doubling of the population of this town, and a still larger increase in the values of property. We have the best natural location in the valley for a residence town, an unexcelled climate, fertile soil, good schools, churches, etc. and lack but the one thing essential to make this the most desirable place on earth—and that is water.
