Merchants Stung.

Business firms of Ashland were again stung this week by a bad check artist. A man with a pleasing personality, calling himself Dr. B. Riddle, claiming to be a graduate from a prominent veterinary college in the East, arrived in Ashland last Friday week and was making plans for the construction of a veterinary hospital at the corner of B and Second streets, opposite the Christian church. A remonstrance against such a building at that place was filed with the Council last night. Dr. Riddle left for the north on No. 16 yesterday. He was arrested at Roseburg and Constable A. L. Irwin left for that place this morning. Riddle stung all the drug stores for $5 apiece and others for small amounts. The checks were on the Citizens Banking and Trust Company, where he had a deposit of $5. Dr. Carter also accused him of stealing $150 worth of tools. It is reported that his name is Vogel and that he comes from San Francisco. His preliminary examination will be before justice of the peace J. G. Hurt. -Valley Record.

Washington Town Burned

Bellingham, Wash., July 24.—Fire which started in the hardware and furniture store of Freitz Brothers early tonight, swept the two main business blocks of the town of Sedro-Wooley thirty-five miles south of here, causing a loss of $20,000.

Devastation was wrought in less than an hour and a half after the first flames were discovered. Sedro-Wooley is without electric lights tonight. The water and telephone systems are badly damaged. A clump of maple trees stayed the flames and prevented the destruction of the whole city. Several persons are reported injured by falling debris, but none seriously.

Corvallis, Ore., July 22.—President W. I. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural College has again received the honor of appointment to the Council of the greatest body of educators in the world, the National Education Association.

The college is also represented in the association by Prof. Ressler, director of the summer session, who was elected last week to the eighth vice-presidency of the institution giving Oregon double representation in the N.E.A. executive body for a second time. Prof. Ressler was formerly a member of the board of directors of the western division of the association.

THE SILVER BOWL.

It Was Full of Water, and It Puzzeled the Weak End Guest.

A rising young politician in New York tells this story on himself. He was invited recently to spend a week end at a country house where things were done a notch or two more elaborately than he was accustomed to, and he stood in not a little awe of the solemn person who was assigned to act as temporary valet to him.

The climax came when this functionary tapped at his door on Sunday morning and told him it was 8 o'clock.

"All right, I'll get up," said the visitor, and the solemn man disappeared into the bathroom, from which presently the noise of water running into the bathtub was audible. In half a minute more the solemn person emerged, holding a large silver bowl full of water, with which he approached the bed.

"He must have seen the astonishment in my face," said the New Yorker. "I couldn't conceal it. It was a wholly new game to me, and I didn't know whether I was expected to dip my head in it or to drink it. It was an awful moment, but that man was a diplomat. He realized my embarrassment, and he just let drop in a cold and aloof tone, as if he had outsiders to deal with every day, the simple explanation:

"The temperature of your bathwater, sir."—New York Sun.

THEATER SEATS.

Very Annoying Indeed It Was Before They Were Numbered.

People who nowadays book their seats beforehand for the play cannot conceive of the discomfort of other days, an instance of which is given by John Fyvie in "Comedy Queens of the Georgian Era."

"One of Charles Matthews' newspaper cuttings," he says, "contains a letter from a disgraced playgoer dated January, 1776, protesting against this custom of 'permitting a footman to sit for an act or two of a play next to a woman of the first quality by way of securing a place for his absent master.'"

"The indecency of the practice is said to be aggravated by the usual choice of the dirtiest servant of the family for this duty, 'for the men of parade and figure are to prance before the lady's chair with lighted flambeaux or hang like a rope of onions behind her coach.'"

"As a remedy for this nuisance the writer of this letter made the revolutionary suggestion that the sittings in the boxes should be numbered, a plan which does not seem to have occurred to any one previously and which was not adopted till long afterward."—London Gentlewoman.

Women in Tibet.

Concerning the manners of Tibetans a traveler writes: "The male part of the Amdo population is fond of meeting together for frivolous conversation on all suitable and unsuitable occasions. The most the men do is to go hunting and robbing. The domestic work, such as tending the cattle, collecting fuel, drawing water and, in short, everything, falls on the women. While the wife is working incessantly all day long the husband grows weary with idleness and does not go to her assistance unless she is physically incapable of doing any work at all. On horseback the women are as dexterous as the men. To catch any horse she likes out of the troop, lay her hand on its mane and quickly spring on to the back of the barebacked steed and ride off in any direction she wishes in an ordinary feat for any young Amdo woman."—Chicago News.

The Oil Bird.

One of the animal curiosities of South America is the "oil bird," or guacharo. It breeds in rocky caves, and one of its favorite haunts is the island of Trinidad. It lays its eggs in a nest made of mud, and the young birds are prodigiously fat. The natives melt the fat down in clay pots and produce from it a kind of butter. The caves inhabited by the birds are usually accessible only from the sea, and the hunting of them is sometimes an exciting sport.

A Word of Wrath.

The word "rabbits" on board a Cornish fishing smack arouses the ire of the crew. Should the hated word be uttered as the boat is leaving the harbor on a plover expedition the speaker would stand a fair chance of being hurled overboard. The mere mention of "rabbits" destroys all chances of a "catch."—London Chronicle.

Pa's Hard Job.

"Johnny," said the visitor at the door, "is your father at home?" "He's trying to be, sir," said Johnny, "but you know, Mr. Squiggs, ma's mother's here."—Harper's Weekly.

The Real Sorrow.

"Did your operation cost you much pain?" "Yes, but I didn't mind that so much as the dollars it cost."—Baltimore American.

Able and Willing.

The Rector—Freddy, do you know where little boys go who go fishing on the Sabbath day? Freddy—Yes, sir. Follow me and I'll show you the place.

A Vast Difference in Floor Finishes

It means economy—it means satisfaction—it means a beautiful, lasting finish on your floors, to know the difference before you buy.

Common varnishes are brittle and soon show unsightly scratches. Elastica Floor Finish is so tough that nothing mars it. Heels, scraping chairs, casters, leave no marks. Common varnishes turn white under water.

Elastica Floor Finish never does. It is water-proof.

Common varnishes and wax need constant care and refinishing.

Elastica Floor Finish keeps its original lustre. It outlasts any finish ever before offered. It saves work and saves expense.

We cannot overstate the importance of knowing the facts about floor finishes. Come in and ask us.
