

JACKSONVILLE POST

Official Paper of the City of Jacksonville, Oregon

A weekly newspaper published every Saturday at the county seat of Jackson County, Oregon. D. W. BAGSHAW, Editor.

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1907, at the post office at Jacksonville, Oregon, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, 1911

SUBSCRIPTION: One year by mail $1.50. Advertising rates furnished on application.

As just five weeks from to-day a special election to vote on the bond question will be held. It seems to us that it is time to think and talk about the matter in a serious way. In the first place, fifteen hundred thousand dollars is a large sum of money to raise for any purpose, but if the roads are to be extended over the whole county a less sum would be inadequate and in appropriating public money for improvements the improvements should be so placed that they will benefit all the people—the taxpayer living in a remote country district is entitled to receive a just part of the benefits arising from such improvement just the same as though he lived in the more populous district near one of the towns. When we consider the number of miles of roads necessary to accommodate a majority of the taxpayers and the cost of construction, it will be seen that the amount asked for is too small rather than too large for the purpose in view.

The heavy trucks used in conveying material from the crusher at the quarry to the Ross avenue road are badly injuring a stretch of road within the city limits and if the road in question is not repaired before the fall rains set in it will be in bad condition for use during the winter season. The road was never intended to stand the heavy traffic now passing over it and as the use to which it is being put is unusual, it seems just that the county should make the necessary repairs when done using it; this no doubt the county court will do.

Oregon Sidelights.

The teachers of Coos county will have their annual reunion next year at Bandon.

The Woodburn Commercial club has been reorganized. J. C. Goodale is president and George Landan is secretary.

The postoffice at Silverton is to be moved to more commodious quarters, which are to be fitted up with all the conveniences of an up-to-date office.

Wallowa Sun: George Downing brought some heads of oats to town that measured 14 inches in length. They were grown on his farm near the Leap district.

The voters of Newburg have authorized the purchase of the Otis springs, which will furnish an abundance of pure water. The combined flow is 730,000 gallons per 24 hours.

Moro Observer: Grouse are unusually numerous this year. A resident of Weston mountain flushed no less than 300 of the fine birds in a few miles walk along the brakes of the Umatilla river.

Salem Journal: The new barn at the state fair grounds that will be used for housing race horses is 220 feet long and 41 feet wide, and has 38 stalls. This will provide plenty of room.

Mayor Sanderson of Klamath Falls is working for the establishing of a paid fire department. The council has already provided for the purchase of apparatus to the value of $8000.

This is the only season of the year when a good word is due the evergreen blackberry, says the Harrisburg Bulletin. Whether it grows in cultivated rows or the cracks in the sidewalk, the berries are really mighty fine.

Cornelius is to have a newspaper soon, to be published by Virgil Massey. This will be the fourth new venture in Washington county within the past year, the others being the Banks Herald, the North Plains Sentinel and the Beaverton Reporter.

Scio News: L. A. Darby brought in the largest load of wheat drawn by one team that has ever come into the mill here. It contained 124 bushels and 45 pounds of wheat and 605 pounds of screenings. This made a load of over 8000 pounds.—Journal.

Electric Sparks.

Wonder Mr. Carnegie hasn't complained about this giving away of library sites by poet James Whitcomb Riley. Every man to his trade.

A Georgia Senator proposes to tax bachelors $50 a year. As if the poor fellows hadn't had luck already.

Oklahoma will this year produce 1,200,000 bales of cotton, valued at $75,000,000. Pretty good for a country that up to twenty two years ago never produced anything but trouble.

Mr. Upton Sinclair finds getting arrested one of the most effective modern methods of boosting literature.

There are 700,000 motor cars in this country. "And somewhere, during every day, somebody is swearing at them."

There are moments of doubt as to whether the distinguished Mormon, Mr. Smith, is conducting a religion or a business.

A half spoonful of Boston ice-cream has been found to contain 55,000,000 bacteria. Which may account for the peculiarities of the Boston people.

The Senate minority is behaving very much like a majority.

Missouri now has a State song, and we suppose it begins with "Champ Champ, the boys are boosting."

It seems to us that some of the debates on Alaska ought to warm it up a little.

While gazing on the lord's veto bill the tory aristocracy of England is tempted to bite somebody.

Reviewed by President

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23—Twenty thousand grizzled Civil war veterans marched in review here today, before President Taft and Major General Frederick D. Grant, son of the great warrior under whose leadership so many of them had fought.

President Taft will address the old soldiers at their campfire tonight, in connection with the G. A. R. encampment. He will later leave for his summer home at Beverly, Mass. for a three weeks rest.

Twin Expositions

Two expositions in one year, in the same state, would hardly be attempted anywhere outside of California, especially with no Government subsidy or appropriation. But San Diego and San Francisco will each have an Exposition in celebration of the opening of the Panama Canal in 1915, and the former city is not yet in the 50,000 class; yet it raised $1,000,000 by subscription and another million by a bond issue for exposition purposes. The scope of the exposition has grown so that it is determined now that it will be a $10,000,000 exposition, and is growing all the time.

Books Are Free.

This office has received from the Secretary of State a copy of the "Oregon Blue Book", containing a list of all state and county officials, their terms of office, salaries etc., also population and other valuable statistics, etc.

The books are free to all who apply but as only a limited edition was printed you had better apply at once, address Secretary of State, Salem, Oregon.

The Taste for Reading

Give a man a taste for reading and the means of gratifying it, and you place him in contact with the best society in every period of history with the wisest, the wittiest, the tenderest, the bravest and the purest characters who have adorned humanity.—Sir John Hershel.

An Ice Stove.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famed as inventor of the telephone to which nearly every civilized person pays tribute well deserved, has now invented what he calls an ice stove to help make summer heat endurable. He gives his invention to the world. It consists of a box full of ice and pipes through which the chilled air is forced to any desired apartment by electric fans.

Office Men Laid Off

San Francisco, Aug. 25—F. G. Athearn, head of the department of economics of the Southern Pacific company, said today that by tonight about 500 of the 3400 office employees here will have been laid off, in line with the general order to reduce expenses. All over the Pacific division the office force will be reduced from 10 to 12 per cent.

Athearn declared that shop employees here will not be laid off, but the same percentage will be saved by the decrease in hours already in effect. No trains are to be disturbed, as far as is known at the present time, and there will be no reduction, says Athearn, in employment of train men and switchmen along the lines.

Athearn protests vigorously that the reduction has nothing to do with threatened labor troubles.

The Right Idea.

The Lord had the right idea when he made man. He said it was not good for man to be alone, but had he made more than one wife for Adam there would have been more trouble than there was in the shade of the old apple tree.—Ex.

SPORTSMAN and TELEPHONE

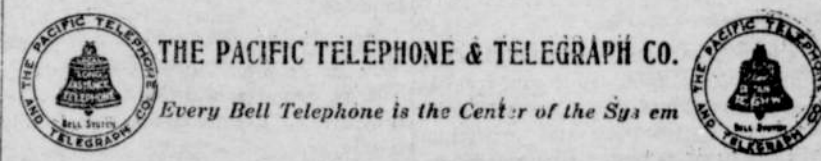

EVERY TIME a man wants to get away from all connection with the busy world, the telephone is an important helper.

The Local Service is useful in arranging his affairs at home and the Long Distance Service of the Bell System helps him to decide where to go and what to take.

By means of his Bell Telephone he can find out whether the fish are biting or the birds are flying, and whether goldfish or horses can be secured.

After he has been out awhile, if he wants to get word from the city, the nearest Bell Telephone is a friend in need.
